

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. These allowances are in excess of the weight transported free of charge under the regular fares, by public carriers. They may be reduced pro rata by the commanding officer, if necessary, and may, in special cases, be increased by the Quartermaster General on transports by water.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

J. C. KELTON,
Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL :

Assistant Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 8. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, January 6, 1890.

The wide range of the hours at which the meals of enlisted men are served at military posts having made it necessary to modify existing regulations and orders on the subject, the Secretary of War directs that paragraph 417 of the Regulations be amended to read as follows :

ROLL-CALLS, ETC.

417. There shall be, daily, at least two roll-calls, viz., at reveille and retreat. They will be made on the company parades by the 1st sergeants, superintended by a commissioned officer. Ordinarily there will not be any formation for roll-call at tattoo, but the prescribed signal will be sounded, and fifteen minutes thereafter all lights will be extinguished and all noises and loud talking cease. Taps shall be sounded at 11 o'clock p. m., when an inspection of quarters shall be made by the 1st sergeants, or other non-commissioned officers of the company, as company commanders may direct, who will report to the officer of the day the names of all enlisted men who may be absent therefrom without leave.

Reveille roll-call in garrison shall not ordinarily take place earlier than 5:30 o'clock a. m. in summer, and 6:30 a. m. in winter.

There shall be also at all military posts calls sounded daily to breakfast, dinner, and supper, ordinarily, as follows: For breakfast, not earlier than reveille nor later than half an hour after reveille; for dinner, not earlier than 12 m. nor later than 12:15 p. m.; for supper, not earlier than 5:15 p. m. nor later than 6:15 p. m. Post commanders will see that meals for the enlisted men of their commands are promptly served immediately after the hours appointed for the calls for them; that the duties of the post are so arranged, as far as compatible with the requirements of the service, that the enlisted men may be present at the regular hours for meals; and that the men are allowed not less than twenty minutes for breakfast and supper, and not less than thirty minutes for dinner.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

J. C. KELTON,
Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL :

Assistant Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 4. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, January 6, 1890.

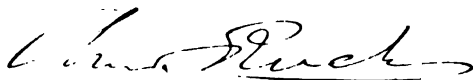

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 815 of the Regulations is amended to read as follows :

815. The assignment to stations of officers or enlisted men of the staff departments, except as provided in the regulations for troops in campaign, will be made by the Secretary of War in orders from the Headquarters of the Army or by commanders of geographical divisions and departments, under the special authority of the Secretary of War. Officers of the Medical Department will be assigned by the Secretary of War to particular stations in orders from the Headquarters of the Army ; and the Surgeon General, in recommending changes in the stations of medical officers, will designate the post to which the assignment of each officer is desired. The removal of an officer from the station to which he has been assigned by the Secretary of War will not be made by division or by department commanders, except only in cases of urgent necessity, when time will not admit of authority being first obtained from the Secretary of War, and in such cases prompt report will be made to the Adjutant General.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

J. C. KELTON,
Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 5.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, January 6, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following rules governing the examination of candidates for the appointment of 2d lieutenant in the Army of the United States from civil life are substituted for those prescribed in General Orders, No. 81, of 1888, from this office, and are published for the information and government of all concerned :

I.--No person shall be examined unless he has a letter from the War Department authorizing his examination.

If the candidate has been graduated at an institution where he received military instruction, he must present a recommendation from the faculty of the institution.

If a member of the National Guard, he must present recommendations from the proper National Guard authorities.

II.--Every candidate must be subjected to a rigid physical examination, and if there be found to exist any cause of disqualification to such a degree as might in the immediate future impair his efficiency as an officer of the Army, he should be rejected. The board will inquire and report concerning each applicant whether he is of good moral character, or addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors.

III.--No candidate will be examined who is under twenty-one or over twenty-seven years of age ; who, in the judgment of the board, is not physically qualified to discharge all the duties of an officer in active service ; who has any deformity of body or mental infirmity, or whose moral habits are bad.

IV.--The board, being satisfied of these preliminary points, will proceed to examine each candidate separately—

First. In his knowledge of English grammar, and his ability to read and write with facility and correctness.

Second. In his knowledge of arithmetic, and his ability in the application of its rules to all practical questions ; in his knowledge of the use of logarithms, and ability to apply them to questions of practice ; in his knowledge of algebra, to the solution of simple equations ; and in his knowledge of plane and solid geometry and the elements of surveying.

Third. In his knowledge of geography, particularly in reference to the northern continent of America, and in his ability to solve the usual problems on the terrestrial globe ; also, in his knowledge of what is usually denominated popular astronomy.

Fourth. In his knowledge of history, particularly in reference to his own country.

Fifth. In his knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, and of the organization of the Government under it, and of the general principles which regulate international intercourse.

Sixth. The board, having examined into the mental qualifications and his character for sobriety and fidelity, shall also inquire into his general qualifications, aptitude, and probable efficiency as an officer of the Army, marking the result on a scale of 100.

V.--In awarding marks the board will consider 100 as perfect in each subject and in each individual question, and will give to each subject in the examination the relative weight given in the form following below. The general average of the candidate will be computed as follows:

Mark every correct answer 100 and every faulty answer according to its value on a scale of 100; the sum of the credit marks divided by the number of questions will give the average of proficiency in the subject. Multiply the average of the marks on each subject by the number indicating the relative weight of the subject and divide the sum of the products by the sum of the relative weights; the quotient will be the general average.

No candidate will be passed by the board who shall not have attained a general average of at least 70 per cent.

Examination as to physical qualification shall include a certificate of physical examination, by two medical officers, to accompany the proceedings of the board, and embrace all the information required by the form for the examination of recruits.

VI.--When an examining board shall have passed upon more than one candidate, the order of relative merit of all the candidates examined by the board will be reported.

VII.--Boards for the examination of applicants from civil life for appointment to commission in the Army will be appointed by the Secretary of War, and shall consist of five commissioned officers, including two medical officers.

The proceedings of the boards will be forwarded to the Adjutant General.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, January 11, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following regulations to carry into effect the 3d and 4th sections of the act approved June 18, 1878, providing for the promotion of meritorious non-commissioned officers, are substituted for those heretofore published :

SEC. 3. That hereafter all vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant shall be filled by appointment from the graduates of the Military Academy so long as any such remain in service unassigned ; and any vacancies thereafter remaining shall be filled by promotion of meritorious non-commissioned officers of the Army, recommended under the provisions of the next section of this act : Provided that all vacancies remaining, after exhausting the two classes named, may be filled by appointment of persons in civil life.

SEC. 4. That to insure the selection of proper candidates for promotion from the grade of non-commissioned officers, company and battery commanders will report to their regimental commanders such as, in their opinion, by education, conduct, and services, seem to merit advancement, and who have served not less than two years in the Army ; the reports to set forth a description of the candidate, his length of service as non-commissioned officer and as private soldier, his character as to fidelity and sobriety, his physical qualifications and mental abilities, the extent to which his talents have been cultivated, and his fitness generally to discharge the duties of a commissioned officer. If recommended on account of meritorious services, the particular services referred to must be stated in detail. On receiving the reports of company or battery commanders, the regimental commander will forward the same to the department commanders, with such recommendation of non-commissioned regimental staff as he may deem worthy of promotion ; and the department commander shall annually assemble a board to consist of five officers of as high rank as the convenience of the service will admit, to make a preliminary examination into the claims and qualifications of such non-commissioned officers. The board, constituted as above, shall submit a full statement in the case of each candidate examined ; and on the said statements, the Department Commander shall indorse his remarks and forward them to the Secretary of War by the first day of June in each year. The Chief of Engineers and of other staff corps may make similar recommendations of the non-commissioned officers of their respective commands to the Secretary of War, who shall convene a board of officers for like purpose.

I.—The mode of making recommendations and preliminary examinations is set forth in the law above quoted. Department commanders will require that all proceedings in this matter, under their supervision, conform to the law. Examining boards will make all papers a part of their record in every case, each being made up separately. The recommendations must be accompanied by testimonials from reputable persons to whom the non-commissioned officer was known prior to his enlistment.

II.—Non-commissioned officers who are under twenty-one or over twenty-nine years of age, or who are married, are not eligible for such promotion, and shall not be examined.

III.--Examining boards in examining non-commissioned officers recommended for promotion will examine each separately, the questions and answers to be in writing, and to form a part of the record of the board. The examination of each person as to qualifications should embrace the following subjects :

First. In his knowledge of English grammar, and his ability to read and write with facility and correctness.

Second. In his knowledge of arithmetic, and his ability in the application of its rules to all practical questions.

Third. In his knowledge of geography, particularly in reference to the northern continent of America.

Fourth. In his knowledge of history, particularly in reference to his own country.

Fifth. In his knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, and of the organization of the Government under it, and of the general principles which regulate international intercourse.

Sixth. The board having examined into the mental qualifications, and his character for sobriety and fidelity, shall inquire into his general qualifications, aptitude, and probable efficiency as an officer of the Army, and also as to his intelligent, energetic, judicious, and faithful discharge of such duties as may have been devolved upon him, marking the result on a scale of 100.

Examination as to physical qualification shall include a certificate of physical examination, by two medical officers, to accompany the proceedings of the board, and embrace all the information required by the form for the examination of recruits.

IV.--In awarding marks the board will consider 100 as perfect in each subject and in each individual question, and will give to each subject in the examination the relative weight given in the form following below. The general average of the candidate will be computed as follows :

Mark every correct answer 100 and every faulty answer according to its value on a scale of 100; the sum of the credit marks divided by the number of questions will give the average of proficiency in the subject. Multiply the average of the marks on each subject by the number indicating the relative weight of the subject and divide the sum of the products by the sum of the relative weights; the quotient will be the general average.

No candidate will be passed by the board who shall not have attained a general average of at least 70 per cent.

V.--When an examining board shall have passed upon more than one candidate, the order of relative merit of all the candidates examined by the board will be reported.

VI.--The duty of making recommendations and examination of candidates is one involving, in a high degree, the welfare and character of the service, and all officers are enjoined to exercise the utmost circumspection and care, not only that no unworthy candidate be recommended, but also that the most worthy shall be recommended. All statements not based on the personal knowledge of officers themselves should be carefully verified by disinterested evidence. As far as practicable candidates will be promoted in their regiments.

VII.--As the number of vacancies for candidates is limited, commanders and examining boards should bear this in mind, that expectations of promotion which cannot be realized be not raised.

VIII.--Troop, battery, and company commanders will forward their recommendation to regimental headquarters by the 1st of February in each year, and regimental commanders will forward them to department headquarters by the end of the same month, that there may be ample time to enable the examining boards to be convened and complete their work in the time required by law.

IX.--"Meritorious non-commissioned officers of the Army recommended," under the provisions of law above quoted, will receive a certificate to that effect from the Adjutant General of the Army, and will be known in the service as "candidates for promotion," and will have the title of "candidate" prefixed to that of their rank on all rolls, returns, orders, and correspondence. They will be entitled to wear on each sleeve of their coat a single stripe of gilt lace, similar to that worn by commissioned officers, but will be entitled to this privilege so long only as they maintain the specially honorable position of "candidate."

X.--The privileges of a candidate terminate with the calendar year next succeeding that in which he receives his "certificate," unless his recommendation shall be continued by the succeeding boards of examination; but it will not be necessary to re-examine candidates under the first five sections of the third paragraph of this order. Candidates who become ineligible by reason of over-age shall be entitled to wear the candidate's stripe on the left sleeve only so long as they maintain the same standing and good conduct as non-commissioned officers in the service as at their examination.

XI.--"Candidates" who may be guilty of misconduct will be promptly reported to the Adjutant General of the Army, through regimental and department headquarters, the report to give a full statement of the misconduct alleged, with names of witnesses. Before forwarding such report to the Adjutant General of the Army, the department commander will see that the "candidate" has a fair and impartial hearing, that the merits of the case may be carefully and accurately determined and reported on for the decision of the Secretary of War. Any candidate who loses his position of non-commissioned officer ceases to be a candidate and forfeits his privileges as such.

XII.--"Candidates" who think themselves wronged in the loss of that position, shall have a right to trial by general court-martial on appeal, within two months, to the department commander, and no non-commissioned officer, while holding the privileges of a "candidate," shall be brought before a garrison or regimental court-martial.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, January 17, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1767, 1772, 1814, and 1818 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

Undress for all officers.

1767. For marches, fatigue duty, and ordinary wear.—A sack coat of dark blue cloth or serge ; falling collar ; single-breasted, with five buttons in front and three small buttons on the under seam of the cuff of each sleeve, arranged like those worn on the dress coat. To be with or without braid at the edges at the option of the wearer ; braid, when worn, not to exceed one-fourth of an inch in width. The skirt to extend from one-third to two-thirds the distance from the hip-joint to the bend of the knee. The shoulder-straps will always be worn with this coat. During the warm season department commanders may authorize this coat to be worn made of white duck or white flannel.

Trousers.

1772. For general officers, officers of the general staff, and staff corps.—Dark blue cloth, plain, without stripe, welt, or cord.

For officers of cavalry, artillery, and infantry.—Light blue cloth, same shade of color as prescribed for enlisted men, with stripe 1½ inches wide, welted at the edges, color that of facings of their respective arms.

For chaplains.—Plain black, without stripe, welt, or cord.

For all officers.—During the summer season, when authorized by the department commander, trousers of plain white duck or plain white flannel may be worn.

Leggings.

1814. For all foot troops.—Of brown cotton duck, according to pattern in the office of the Quartermaster General, to be worn on marches and campaigns. They will be charged at cost price, but will not form part of the annual money allowance of clothing. Department commanders may also permit or require officers of all foot troops to wear similar leggings on marches and campaigns.

Fatigue and straw hats.

1818. For all enlisted men.—Of black or drab-colored felt, according to pattern in office of the Quartermaster General; to be worn in the field, and in garrison only on fatigue and stable duty, at target practice, and when the rubber coat, blanket, or poncho is worn; the color to be uniform for both officers and enlisted men, in each troop, battery, or company. During the warm season department commanders may authorize an inexpensive straw hat, of such pattern as they may prescribe, to be worn by officers and enlisted men of their commands, on fatigue and stable duty, at target practice, and when not on duty.

The following order from the War Department is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, December 2, 1889.

By authority of the President of the United States dated November 25, 1889, and under the provisions of the first section of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884, entitled "An act to provide for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations," the military reservation of Fort Lyon, Colorado, declared by the President September 1, 1868, is hereby transferred and turned over to the Secretary of the Interior for disposition, as provided in subsequent sections of the aforesaid act, the same being no longer required for military purposes.

The said reservation is located in townships 22 and 23 south, ranges 51 and 52 west of the sixth principal meridian, contains five thousand eight hundred and seventy-four acres and four thousand and eighty square yards, and is embraced in the following-described boundaries, to wit: Commencing at a point one mile sixteen hundred and ninety-two yards and one foot north, 11° west, from the southwest corner of the commissary warehouse; thence west 21° south two miles five hundred yards; thence due west two miles three hundred yards; thence south four hundred and sixty-six yards and two feet to a stone monument, marked U. S. Mil. Res., on the north bank of the Arkansas River; thence along the north bank of said river in an easterly direction, following the meanderings of the stream, and including all islands in said river, to a stone monument, marked U. S. Mil. Res., at the point of Stem's Bluff (which stone bears east 26° north from the commissary store-house, and distant therefrom two miles thirteen hundred and ten yards, more or less); thence due north thirteen hundred and twenty yards; thence west two miles and thirteen hundred and twenty yards to the place of beginning. (The points of the compass are true and not magnetic, the variation 14° east.)

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 7, 1890.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1856, 1857, and 1858 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows:

1856. Whenever, in the opinion of commanding officers, the condition of any of the colors (national or regimental), standards, and guidons in the possession of regiments, the Engineer Battalion, troops of cavalry, and light batteries has become such as to require the issue of new ones, a board of survey shall be appointed to report to the Secretary of War their condition and make recommendations as to the necessity of furnishing new colors, standards, or guidons. If the colors, standards, or guidons have become worn, faded, or injured by legitimate exposure incident to campaigns, battles, or long-continued service, their value is enhanced to the organization which bears them; but if the injuries are such that they cannot be carried without being repaired, application to have them placed in a serviceable condition should be made to the Quartermaster General.

1857. Upon receipt of new colors, standards, or guidons by the respective regiments, Engineer Battalion, light batteries, and troops of cavalry, commanding officers will cause those condemned to be suitably labeled and sent to the Adjutant General of the Army for preservation and safe-keeping.

1858. The names of battles in which regiments, the Engineer Battalion, light batteries, and troops of cavalry shall have borne a meritorious part will be engraved upon silver rings, which will be fastened on the staves of the colors, guidons, or standards.

The portion of a regiment which must be engaged to entitle it to have these marks of honor engraved is that number of companies which, by tactics and regulations, is entitled, as a battalion, to carry the colors of the regiment. The inscription for the guidons of artillery and cavalry are not to include the honors to which the regiment is entitled, but those won separately by them when detached.

II.--By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 1855 of the Regulations is hereby revoked, and the following will be substituted for said paragraph:

1855. The regimental colors of the regiments of artillery and infantry, and the Battalion of Engineers, will be carried with the troops only on occasions of ceremony in which the headquarters of the regiment or of the Battalion of Engineers participates ; on other occasions these colors will be left in proper custody at the station prescribed in orders for the headquarters to which they belong.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following instructions are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

Under section 1225 of the Revised Statutes (as amended by the act of September 26, 1888) the following rules are prescribed by the President for the government of officers of the Army detailed as professors of military science and tactics :

I.—DETAIL AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

As a rule, captains of companies, regimental staff officers, or officers who have served less than three years with their regiments, or who have recently completed a tour of detached service, will not be eligible ; and no details will be made that will leave a battery, troop, or company without two officers for duty with it. Whenever practicable, preference for such detail will be given to officers who have been graduated from either the Artillery School, the Infantry and Cavalry School, or the Engineer School.

The period of the detail will be three years. The professor of military science and tactics shall reside at or near the institution to which assigned, and when in the performance of his military duties shall appear in proper uniform. Officers so detailed shall, in their relations to the institutions, observe the general usages and regulations therein established affecting the duties and obligations of other members of the faculty. For the benefit of the officer and the military service, he may perform other duties at the college in addition to those pertaining to military science and tactics, and may receive such compensation therefor as may be agreed upon.

II.—ORGANIZATION AND DISCIPLINE.

1. All rules and orders relating to the organization and government of the military students ; the appointment, promotion, and change of officers ; and all other orders affecting the military department, except those relating to routine duty, shall be made and promulgated by the professor of military science and tactics after being approved by the president or other administrative officer of the institution.

2. It is the duty of the professor of military science and tactics to enforce proper military discipline at all times when students are under military instruction, and in case of serious breaches of discipline, or misconduct, to report the same to the proper authorities of the institution, according to its established methods. Upon occasions of military ceremony, in the execution of drills, guard duty, and when students are receiving any other practical military instruction, he shall see that they appear in the uniform prescribed by the institution.

III.—COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

1. The course of instruction shall be both practical and theoretical, and shall be so arranged as to occupy at least one hour per week for theoretical instruction, and at least two hours per week for practical instruction.

2. The practical course in infantry shall embrace small-arm target practice and, as far as possible, all the movements prescribed by the drill regulations of the U. S. Army applicable to a battalion. Instruction in artillery shall embrace, as far as practicable, such portions of the United States drill regulations as pertain to the formation of detachments, manual of the piece, mechanical maneuvers, aiming drill, saber exercise, and target practice. Instruction should also include the duty of sentinels and, where practicable, castrametation. Such instruction shall be given by the professor of military science and tactics personally, or under his immediate supervision.

3. Theoretical instruction shall be by recitations and lectures personally conducted and given by the professor of military science and tactics, and shall include, as far as practicable, a systematic and progressive course in the following subjects: The drill regulations of the U. S. Army, the preparation of the usual reports and returns pertaining to a company, the organization and administration of the U. S. Army, and the elementary principles governing in the art of war.

IV.—REPORTS.

He shall render a quarterly report to the Adjutant General of the Army of the whole number of undergraduate students in the institution capable of performing military duty, the number required by the institution to be enrolled as military students, the average attendance at drills, the number absent, the number and kind of drills, recitations, and lectures, or other instruction had during the quarter, and the number reported for discipline. Copies of all reports and correspondence will be retained by the professor of military science and tactics and transferred by him to the officer who may succeed him, or forwarded to the Adjutant General's Office should the detail expire. On the graduation of every class he shall report to the Adjutant General of the Army the names of such students as have shown special aptitude for military service, and furnish a copy thereof to the adjutant general of the State for his information. The names of the three most distinguished students in military science and tactics at each college shall, when graduated, be inserted on the U. S. Army Register and published in general orders.

V.—INSPECTIONS.

The military department shall be subject to inspection under the authority of the President of the United States; such inspections to be made, when practicable, near the close of the college year. The inspecting officer shall, upon his arrival at the institution, report to the president or other administrative officer, in order to obtain from him the necessary facilities for the performance of his duty. A copy of the report of inspection will be furnished the president of the institution by the War Department.

A copy of this order will be furnished to officers now on duty as professors of military science and tactics and to those hereafter detailed, for their guidance; and also to institutions now having or hereafter applying for the detail of such officers.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

J. C. KELTON,
Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL:

Assistant Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 16. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 15, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following proclamation opening the Sioux Reservation February 10, 1890, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, it is provided in the act of Congress, approved March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, entitled "An act to divide a portion of the reservation of the Sioux Nation of Indians in Dakota into separate reservations and to secure the relinquishment of the Indian title to the remainder, and for other purposes," "that this act shall take effect, only, upon the acceptance thereof and consent thereto by the different bands of the Sioux Nation of Indians, in manner and form prescribed by the twelfth article of the treaty between the United States and said Sioux Indians concluded April twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, which said acceptance and consent shall be made known by proclamation by the President of the United States, upon satisfactory proof presented to him, that the same has been obtained in the manner and form required, by said twelfth article of said treaty; which proof shall be presented to him within one year from the passage of this act; and upon failure of such proof and proclamation this act becomes of no effect and null and void." and

Whereas satisfactory proof has been presented to me that the acceptance of and consent to the provisions of the said act by the different bands of the Sioux Nation of Indians have been obtained in manner and form as therein required;

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, by virtue of the power in me vested, do hereby make known and proclaim the acceptance of said act by the different bands of the Sioux Nation of Indians, and the consent thereto by them as required by the act, and said act is hereby declared to be in full force and effect, subject to all the provisions, conditions, limitations and restrictions, therein contained.

All persons will take notice of the provisions of said act, and of the conditions, limitations and restrictions therein contained, and be governed accordingly.

I furthermore notify all persons to particularly observe that by said act certain tracts or portions of the Great Reservation of the Sioux Nation in the Territory of Dakota, as described by metes and bounds, are set apart as separate and permanent reservations for the Indians receiving rations and annuities at the respective agencies therein named;

That any Indian receiving and entitled to rations and annuities at either of the agencies mentioned in this act at the time the same shall take effect, but residing upon any portion of said Great Reservation not included in either of the separate reservations herein established, may, at his option, within one year from the time when this act shall take effect, and within one year after he has been notified of his said right of option in such manner as the Secretary of the Interior shall direct by recording his election with the proper agent at the agency to which he belongs, have the allotment to which he would be otherwise entitled on one of said separate reservations upon the land where such Indian may then reside.

That each member of the Ponca tribe of Indians now occupying a part of the old Ponca Reservation, within the limits of the said Great Sioux Reservation, shall be entitled to allotments upon said old Ponca Reservation, in quantities as therein set forth, and that when allotments to the Ponca tribe of Indians, and to such other Indians as allotments are provided for by this act, shall have been made upon that portion of said reservation which is described in the act entitled "an act to extend the northern boundary of the State of Nebraska," approved March twenty-eighth, eighteen hundred and eighty-two, the President shall, in pursuance of said act, declare that the Indian title is extinguished to all lands described in said act not so allotted hereunder, and thereupon all of said land not so allotted and included in said act of March twenty-eighth, eighteen hundred and eighty-two, shall be open to settlement as provided in this act;

That protection is guaranteed to such Indians as may have taken allotments either within or without the said separate reservations under the provisions of the treaty with the Great Sioux Nation, concluded April twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight; and that provision is made in said act for the release of all title on the part of said Indians receiving rations and annuities on each separate reservation, to the lands described in each of the other separate reservations, and to confirm in the Indians entitled to receive rations at each of said separate reservations, respectively, to their separate and exclusive use and benefit, all the title and interest of every name and nature secured to the different bands of the Sioux Nation by said treaty of April twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight; and that said release shall not affect the title of any individual Indian to his separate allotment of land not included in any of said separate reservations, nor any agreement heretofore made with the Chicago, Milwaukee and Saint Paul Railroad Company or the Dakota Central Railroad Company respecting certain lands for right of way, station grounds, etc., regarding which certain prior rights and privileges are reserved to and for the use of said railroad companies, respectively, upon the terms and conditions set forth in said act:

That it is therein provided that if any land in said Great Sioux Reservation is occupied and used by any religious society at the date of said act for the purpose of missionary or educational work among the Indians, whether situate outside of or within the limits of any of the separate reservations, the same, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres in any one tract, shall be granted to said society for the purposes and upon the terms and conditions therein named, and

Subject to all the conditions and limitations in said act contained, it is therein provided that all the lands in the Great Sioux Reservation outside of the separate reservations described in said act, except American Island, Farm Island, and Niobrara Island, regarding which Islands special provisions are therein made, and sections sixteen and thirty-six in each township thereof (which are reserved for school purposes) shall be disposed of by the United States, upon the terms, at the price and in the manner therein set forth, to actual settlers only, under the provisions of the homestead law (except section two thousand three hundred and one thereof) and under the law relating to town-sites.

That section twenty-three of said act provides "that all persons who, between the twenty-seventh day of February, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, and the seventeenth day of April, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, in good faith, entered upon or made settlements with intent to enter the same under the homestead or pre-emption laws of the United States upon any part of the Great Sioux Reservation lying east of the Missouri River, and known as the Crow Creek and Winnebago Reservation, which, by the President's proclamation of date February twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, was declared to be open to settlement, and not included in the new reservation established by section six of this act, and who, being otherwise legally entitled to make such entries, located or attempted to locate thereon homestead, pre-emption, or town-site claims by actual settlement and improvement of any portion of such lands, shall, for a period of ninety days after the proclamation of the President required to be made by this act, have a right to re-enter upon said claims and procure title thereto under the homestead or pre-emption laws of the United States, and complete the same as required therein, and their said claims shall, for such time, have a preference over later entries; and when they shall have in other respects shown themselves entitled and shall have complied with the law regulating such entries, and, as to homesteads, with the special provisions of this act, they shall be entitled to have said lands, and patents therefor shall be issued as in like cases: Provided, that pre-emption claimants shall reside on their lands the same length of time before procuring title as homestead claimants under this act. The price to be paid for town-site entries shall be such as is required by law in other cases, and shall be paid into the general fund provided for by this act."

It is, furthermore, hereby made known that there has been and is hereby reserved from entry or settlement that tract of land now occupied by the agency and school buildings at the Lower Brule Agency, to wit:

The west half of the southwest quarter of section twenty-four; the east half of the southeast quarter of section twenty-three; the west half of the northwest quarter of section twenty-five; the east half of the northeast quarter of section twenty-six, and the northwest fractional quarter of the southeast quarter of section twenty-six; all in township one hundred and four, north of range seventy-two, west of the fifth principal meridian;

That there is also reserved as aforesaid the following described tract within which the Cheyenne River Agency, school and certain other buildings are located, to wit: Commencing at a point in the center of the main channel of the Missouri River opposite Deep Creek, about three miles south of Cheyenne River; thence due west five and one half miles; thence due north to the Cheyenne River; thence down said river to the center of the main channel thereof to a point in the center of the Missouri River due east or opposite the mouth of said Cheyenne River; thence down the center of the main channel of the Missouri River to the place of beginning:

That in pursuance of the provisions contained in section one of said act, the tract of land situate in the State of Nebraska and described in said act as follows; to wit: "Beginning at a point on the boundary-line between the State of Nebraska and the Territory of Dakota, where the range line between ranges forty-four and forty-five west of the sixth principal meridian, in the Territory of Dakota, intersects said boundary-line; thence east along said boundary-line five miles; thence due south five miles; thence due west ten miles; thence due north to said boundary-line; thence due east along said boundary-line to the place of beginning," same is continued in a state of reservation so long as it may be needed for the use and protection of the Indians receiving rations and annuities at the Pine Ridge Agency.

Warning is hereby also expressly given to all persons not to enter or make settlement upon any of the tracts of land specially reserved by the terms of said act, or by this proclamation, or any portion of any tracts of land to which any individual member of either of the bands of the Great Sioux Nation, or the Ponca tribe of Indians, shall have a preference right under the provisions of said act; and further, to in no wise interfere with the occupancy of any of said tracts by any of said Indians, or in any manner to disturb, molest or prevent the peaceful possession of said tracts by them.

The surveys required to be made of the lands to be restored to the public domain under the provisions of the said act, and as in this proclamation set forth will be commenced and executed as early as possible.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this tenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and fourteenth.

BENJ. HARRISON.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 18. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 21, 1890.

On the recommendation of the Major General Commanding the Army the Secretary of War directs that the following orders be published for the government of all concerned :

Hereafter, as soon as practicable after the close of the final examination of the classes of student officers undergoing instruction at the U. S. Artillery School and the U. S. Infantry and Cavalry School, the respective commandants will report in writing to the Adjutant General of the Army as follows :

1. The names of the two artillery officers of the graduating class at the Artillery School who shall have most distinguished themselves by general proficiency in the prescribed courses of study, as determined by the general merit roll of the class made up by the staff of the school.

2. The names of the three officers of the graduating class at the Infantry and Cavalry School who shall have most distinguished themselves by general proficiency in the prescribed courses of study, as determined by the general merit roll of the class made up by the staff of the school.

The commandant of each school will report without delay the names of those officers who have conformed to the above conditions at the respective schools in the classes which have graduated since the re-establishment of the Artillery School by General Orders, No. 99, November 18, 1867, Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant General's Office, and the establishment of the Infantry and Cavalry School by General Orders, No. 8, January 26, 1882, from the same headquarters.

Hereafter, so long as any such graduate shall be borne upon the active or retired list of the Army, his name will appear in the Army Register in the "staff corps," "regimental," or "retired officers" list to which it properly belongs, followed by the words "Honor graduate of the Artillery School, 18—," or "Honor graduate of the Infantry and Cavalry School, 18—," as the case may be.

Washington, March 8, 1890.

The Secretary of War having approved the following transfers of troops, they are hereby directed ; the movements to commence as soon as practicable after May 1, 1890 :

I.--The 1st Regiment of Artillery, serving in the Division of the Pacific, will relieve the 5th Regiment of Artillery, serving (except Light Battery D, at Fort Douglas, Utah) in the Division of the Atlantic.

The light batteries will leave their horses, guns, and battery equipments at their present stations, and take those of the exchanging battery. The commanding officer of the 1st Artillery will designate the light battery of that regiment to relieve Light Battery D of the 5th.

The commanding generals of the divisions concerned, through concert of action, will arrange the details for the movements, in detachments and by rail, and the care, through adequate guards, of the public property at the posts now garrisoned by the regiments.

II.--The 2d and 4th Regiments of Cavalry will, under the direction of the commanding general of the division, interchange stations, within the Division of the Pacific ; the movements to be in detachments and by rail, with such marching as may be necessary.

In order to economize transportation the troops of the two regiments will exchange horses, equipments, and field transportation.

III.--The 19th Regiment of Infantry will relieve the 23d Infantry, at the stations now occupied by the latter in the Division of the Atlantic ; the 23d, upon being relieved, to proceed to the Department of Texas, to take stations under the direction of the department commander. The movements will be in detachments, and by rail and water.

IV.--The 15th Infantry, serving in the Division of the Missouri, to the Division of the Atlantic.

Four companies of the regiment, as may be selected, upon consultation with the regimental commander, by the commanding general Department of Dakota, will proceed by rail, with such marching as may be necessary, to Mount Vernon Barracks, Alabama ; Fort Barrancas, Florida ; and Jackson Barracks, Louisiana, to relieve the companies of the 19th Infantry now at those posts.

The headquarters, and remaining companies of the regiment, will continue in their present department until quarters for them shall have been provided in the Division of the Atlantic, when further instructions from these headquarters will be given.

V.--All enlisted men of the 1st Artillery, 4th Cavalry, and 19th Infantry who desire to remain at their present stations will be permitted to do so, and be transferred to batteries, troops, and companies to arrive thereat.

All enlisted men who have six months, or less, to serve, and who do not intend to re-enlist, will be left at their present stations for transfer to organizations thereat, or to arrive.

VI.--The respective division commanders will, through concert of action, give such additional directions as may be necessary; arrange all further details with due regard to economy and the comfort of officers and men; and direct the transfer of the enlisted men hereby authorized and ordered.

VII.--As far as practicable all regimental, company, and the authorized allowance of officers' baggage will be shipped by rail or water from initial points to the new stations of the different detachments of each regiment.

VIII.--The transportation required by this order, after due proposals from the lines interested, will be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, and the cost of each movement reported to the Quartermaster General as soon as known.

The following acts of Congress are published for the information and government of all concerned :

I.—An act to authorize the President to confer brevet rank on officers of the United States Army for gallant services in Indian campaigns.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered, at his discretion, to nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint to brevet rank all officers of the United States Army, now on the active or retired list, who by their department commander, and with the concurrence of the commanding general of the Army, have been or may be recommended for gallant service in action against hostile Indians since January first, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

SEC. 2. That such brevet commissions as may be issued under the provisions of this act shall bear date only from the passage of this act: Provided, however, that the date of the particular heroic act for which the officer is promoted shall appear in his commission.

SEC. 8. That brevet rank shall be considered strictly honorary, and shall confer no privilege of precedence or command not already provided for in the statutes which embody the rules and articles governing the Army of the United States.

SEC. 4. That all laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Approved, February 27, 1890.

II.—An act to provide for the sale of the site of Fort Bliss, Texas, the sale or removal of the improvements thereof, and for a new site and the construction of suitable buildings thereon.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to sell the military reservation known as Fort Bliss, near the city of El Paso, in the State of Texas, and such of the buildings and improvements thereon as can not be economically removed to the new site herein provided for. In disposing of said property the Secretary of War shall cause the grounds to be platted in blocks, streets, and alleys, if in his judgment it would inure to the benefit of the Government in making sale of said site, having due reference to the requirements of the houses and buildings located on said grounds, in such cases as they may be sold with the ground. The Secretary of War shall also cause the lots, lands, and buildings to be appraised and sold at public or private sale, at not less than the appraised value, having first been offered at public sale. The expense of advertising, appraisement, survey, and sale shall be paid out of the proceeds of said sale, and the balance paid into the Treasury of the United States.

SEC. 2. That the Secretary of War is authorized to select and acquire title to suitable grounds of not less than one thousand acres in extent, to be situate within a distance of ten miles of the limits of said city of El Paso, in the State of Texas, and construct thereon the necessary buildings, with appurtenances, sufficient for a military post, to be known as Fort Bliss, in accordance with estimates to be prepared by the War Department; and a sufficient sum of money, not exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to enable the Secretary of War to comply with the provisions of this act: Provided, That the title to the lands authorized to be acquired under the second section of this act shall be approved by the Attorney-General, and that said title shall be obtained without expense to the Government.

SEC. 3. That section one of this act shall be of effect when the acquirement of a new site provided for in section two shall have been effected.

148. When an enlisted man is unfitted for military service because of wounds or disease, his immediate commanding officer will prepare and forward, through his post or regimental commander, to the headquarters of the department or army in the field, a statement of the case, in duplicate, to which will be attached the certificates of the senior surgeon present, explaining the nature and extent of the disability. Blank forms for this purpose will be furnished by the Adjutant General.

In cases where discharge on account of physical disability is not imperatively demanded, and where there is reason to believe that benefit would result to the soldier from a change of surroundings, medical directors of departments will request the department commander to transfer the soldier to the military hospital nearest to department headquarters, in order to the determination of the case, and that, if necessary, the personal observation of the medical director may be extended to it.

When permanent benefit may be expected from a change of climate, the papers in the case will be forwarded, with recommendation as to locality, &c., through military channel, for the action of the Major General Commanding.

Before taking final action upon certificates of disability in cases likely to be benefited by treatment in the Army and Navy General Hospital at Hot Springs, Arkansas, the formal application required by the regulations for admission thereto will be made.

1099. At the headquarters of a geographical division or department there will be allowed, in addition to the office rooms prescribed in the table, such number of rooms, not to exceed eight, with a heating stove for each, as may be necessary for the clerks of the several staff corps there represented (the Quartermaster's and Subsistence Departments excepted), which will be assigned by the chief quartermaster, under the direction of the commanding officer. Rooms for headquarters or other public offices will not be hired without the written sanction of the Secretary of War, and no leases for such purposes will be effective until approved by his authority.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
 No. 88. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 Washington, March 22, 1890.

The following order has been received from the War Department :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, March 21, 1890.

It is with great sorrow the Secretary of War announces to the Army the death of Major General George Crook, U. S. Army, which occurred this morning at Chicago, Illinois.

He was born near Dayton, Ohio, September 23, 1829, and entered the Military Academy July 1, 1848, from which he was graduated and appointed brevet 2d lieutenant, 4th Infantry, in 1852. He served with his regiment in California and Washington Territory from 1852 to 1861, and participated in the Indian wars of that part of the country, in which he was wounded by an arrow.

Upon the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion he was appointed colonel of the 36th Ohio Infantry, and served in the campaigns in West Virginia, commanding a brigade in the action of Lewisburg, where he was wounded. In command of the 2d Cavalry Division Army of the Cumberland he won distinction, and in command of the Department of West Virginia from August, 1864, to February, 1865, he bore a very conspicuous part in General Sheridan's Shenandoah campaign. He commanded the cavalry of the Army of the Potomac from March 26 to April 9, 1865. During his constant service in the war he distinguished himself in all of the many engagements in which he bore a part, evidenced by his promotion to brigadier general and major general of volunteers and by the five brevets, from major to major general, conferred upon him.

After the close of the war he was successively in command of districts and departments in the West, and while commanding the Departments of Arizona and the Platte conquered the hostile Indians in campaigns without a parallel in Indian warfare. In May, 1888, having been appointed a major general, he was placed in command of the Division of the Missouri. Here his long and successful service ended March 21, 1890.

His remains will be interred at Oakland, Maryland, at 10 a. m., Monday, March 24, 1890.

General Crook was as truthful and sincere as he was fearless and brave—combined qualities admirably fitting him for the exacting duties in which he was so long engaged upon the frontier. He could treat with the Indians successfully, for their faith in his honesty in the council was as strong as their fear of his courage and sagacity in the field. A true soldier, a good citizen, faithful to duty, upright of purpose, considerate to his inferiors, simple and modest in his demeanor toward all, his life and example may well be commended to all young men, and especially those of the Army in which he so honorably served.

The flag will be placed at half-staff at all military posts and stations, and thirteen minute-guns will be fired on the day after the receipt of this order, and the usual badge of mourning will be worn for thirty days.

REDFIELD PROCTOR,
Secretary of War.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 84. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, March 25, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following letter of the Second Comptroller of the Treasury, regarding the requirements as to the manner and form of keeping and stating public accounts accruing in the military establishment, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
SECOND COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., March 19, 1890.

HON. REDFIELD PROCTOR,
Secretary of War.

SIR: Under clause 3 of section 273 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, the following requirements as to the manner and form of keeping and stating public accounts accruing in the military establishment and requiring the action of the Second and Third Auditors and the Second Comptroller, are reported to you with a view to their promulgation to the proper disbursing officers and agents for their information and guidance :

All disbursing officers and agents belonging to the military establishment whose accounts are settled by the Second and Third Auditors and the Second Comptroller will, in all cases, state in the invoice and the receipt, when public funds are transferred, the amount transferred under each head of appropriation, together with the fiscal year to which each amount belongs.

When funds are transferred for the correction of errors, whether arising upon the settlement of accounts or otherwise, the facts will be noted in detail on both the invoice and the receipt for the funds.

The officer or agent receiving funds will indorse upon the invoice the exact date of the receipt given by him for the funds and file the invoice with the account current on which he acknowledges the receipt of the funds.

Whenever any discrepancy as to any appropriation, fiscal year, or amount exists between the invoice and the receipt, when the latter is properly made out, it will be noted and explained on both the invoice and the receipt by the officer or agent receiving and receipting for the funds.

Strict compliance with these requirements will be insisted upon in all accounts rendered subsequent to May 1, 1890, for the action of the accounting officers above designated.

Very respectfully,

B. F. GILKESON,
Comptroller.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, March 26, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 232 and 254 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

232. The non-commissioned staff of the regiment are appointed by the Secretary of War, upon the recommendation of their regimental commanders. They shall be furnished with a warrant of office, signed by the Secretary of War and countersigned by the Adjutant General of the Army. They may be reduced to the ranks by the sentence of a court-martial, but they shall not be tried by regimental or garrison courts unless by special permission of the department commander.

254. Non-commissioned officers may be reduced to the ranks by the sentence of a court-martial, provided that sergeants shall not be tried by regimental or garrison courts-martial except by special permission of the department commander. If reduced to the ranks by sentence of garrison courts-martial at posts other than the headquarters of their regiment, the company commander will forward a transcript of the order to the regimental commander. The desertion of a non-commissioned officer shall vacate his appointment from the date of his desertion.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 37. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, March 27, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

Articles of tableware of china or glass, furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, which become broken and unfit for further use, will be destroyed and dropped from the returns on proper certificates or affidavits, under paragraph 769 of the Regulations. The cost price of articles damaged, broken, or destroyed by the careless handling of enlisted men will be charged on the muster-rolls to the man at fault, and "a statement of charges" on the prescribed form will be filed as a voucher with the return from which any article so charged is dropped. If, however, the man interested shall ask it, the matter shall be submitted to a board of survey before any charge is entered.

I.—By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 8, 46, 60, 61, 70, 86, 107, 110, 113, 125, 128, 133–137, 143, 147, 155, 194, 198, 225, 240, 256, 285, 301, 308, 317, 320–322, 483, 514, 515, 521, 534, 577, 618, 641, 661, 667, 674, 687, 690, 726, 807, 871, 915, 919, 922, 927, 928, 937, 945, 950, 952, 954, 955, 969, 980, 1001, 1062, 1078, 1079, 1089, 1103, 1126, 1127, 1138, 1169, 1234–1236, 1281, 1302, 1311, 1402, 1441, 1492, 1498, 1502, 1503, 1508, 1519, 1520, 1560, 1561, 1563, 1564, 1585, 1628–1631, 1634, 1642, 1659, 1662, 1676, 1699, 1742, 1766, 1778, 1790, 1791, 1801, and 1806 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows:

8. The following are the grades of military rank :

- | | |
|------------------------------|---|
| 1. Major general. | 12. Quartermaster sergeant (regimental). |
| 2. Brigadier general | |
| 3. Colonel. | 13. Ordnance, commissary, and post quartermaster sergeant, hospital steward, chief musician, principal musician, chief trumpeter, and saddler sergeant. |
| 4. Lieutenant colonel. | |
| 5. Major. | 14. 1st sergeant. |
| 6. Captain. | 15. Sergeant. |
| 7. 1st lieutenant. | 16. Corporal. |
| 8. 2d lieutenant. | |
| 9. Additional 2d lieutenant. | |
| 10. Cadet. | |
| 11. Sergeant major. | |

In each grade, by date of commission, appointment, or warrant. Chaplains have the rank, without command, of captains of infantry.

46. A department commander may grant leaves for one month, a division commander for two months, and the General Commanding the Army for four months; and they may extend to such periods those granted by inferior commanders. Applications for leave of more than four months' duration, or from officers of the staff for more than one month, or from division or department commanders desiring leave of absence to pass beyond the territorial limits of their commands, will be forwarded to the Adjutant General for decision of the Secretary of War.

60. Application for leave of absence on account of sickness will be made to the immediate commanding officer, who will refer it to the post surgeon for an examination of the applicant. Should the surgeon find the applicant's physical or mental condition such as to make it necessary for him to leave his station, to secure a restoration to health, he will submit to the commanding officer a medical certificate (Form No. 46, Adjutant General's Department), in which he shall state explicitly the nature, seat, and degree of the disease, wound, or disability, the cause thereof if known, and the period during which the officer has suffered from it. He shall also give his opinion as to whether the disease, wound, or disability can be satisfactorily treated within the department or division in which the officer is stationed, or whether a change of climate or locality, within the United States, is necessary to afford a prospect of more rapid or perfect recovery, in which case the special place or region of country recommended will be designated, with reasons therefor. The surgeon will also state whether, in his opinion, the disease, wound, or disability requires treatment by a specialist, and, if so, the nearest place where it can be obtained; and whether the wound or disease incapacitates the officer for all duty, or whether he can perform special duty, and, if so, the kind which he may undertake without endangering his ultimate cure.

61. The commander of a geographical division or department has the same authority to grant leaves of absence on account of sickness as to grant ordinary leaves. Permission to go beyond the limits of the command in which the applicant is stationed will only be given when the certificate of the medical officer shall state explicitly that it is necessary to afford a prospect of more rapid or perfect recovery.

70. Orders contemplating the payment of mileage must state that the travel directed is necessary for the public service. They shall not direct travel beyond the limits of the command of the officer who issues them. When a general officer is ordered, on duty, beyond the limits of his command, the order for such journey will include the travel of one staff officer.

86. The remains of officers killed in action, or who die when on duty in the field or at military posts, or when traveling under orders, will be decently inclosed in coffins, and, unless claimed by relatives or friends, will be transported by the Quartermaster's Department to the nearest military post or national cemetery for burial. The amount to be paid from the appropriation for incidental expenses for the expense of burial is limited to seventy-five dollars. The expense of transporting the remains and those who necessarily accompany them (which will be confined to the lowest possible limit) is payable from the appropriation for Army transportation. If buried at the place of death, a report of the fact will be made to the Adjutant General.

107. In transferring soldiers from one command to another, or to a general or post hospital, company commanders and medical officers will note upon the descriptive lists the date and result of the last vaccination of each soldier. These entries will be copied and preserved in the vaccination records of the company or hospital to which the soldier is transferred.

110. Furloughs to sergeants of the post non-commissioned staff, or to enlisted men acting as such, may be granted as follows: By a post commander for seven days, in case of emergency only; by a department commander for one month. Applications for furlough for a longer period will be forwarded to the Adjutant General for the decision of the Secretary of War.

113. In urgent cases department commanders may order transportation to be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department to returning furloughed soldiers. When this is done, the officer furnishing it will ascertain and report the cost thereof to the company commander, who will charge the same against the soldier's pay on the next muster rolls. The fact of payment, together with the date when the soldier reported for transportation, will be indorsed on the furlough.

125. If a soldier for whose apprehension a reward has been paid be brought to trial under a charge of desertion and acquitted, or convicted of absence without leave only; or if the sentence be disapproved by proper authority, the amount specified in paragraph 122 shall not be stopped against his pay, unless, in case of conviction of absence without leave, the sentence of the court shall so direct.

128. A deserter will not be restored to duty without trial, except by the authority competent to order his trial. Such restoration does not warrant the expunging of the record of the fact of the desertion, or relieve him from any of the forfeitures attached to that offense. He must make good the time lost by desertion, refund the reward and expenses paid for his apprehension and delivery, and forfeit pay while absent.

133. When an enlisted man shall have served thirty years, as such, either in the Army, or the Marine Corps and the Army, he may apply to the Adjutant General for retirement. Upon the approval of the application an order will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office transferring him to the retired list, with transportation in kind to his home and subsistence commuted.

134. Upon receipt of the order for retirement the soldier's immediate commanding officer will furnish him with final statements, closing his accounts of pay, allowances, and deposits, as of the date of the order, without travel allowances; he will forward to the Adjutant General a descriptive list (in duplicate), noting thereon the fact that final statements have been given, the re-enlistment or the continuous service-pay per month for which the soldier was last mustered, and the soldier's post-office address for the next thirty days. A discharge certificate will not be given, but the soldier will be dropped from the rolls of his command with appropriate explanatory remarks.

135. On the last day of every calendar month each retired enlisted man will report to the Adjutant General his post-office address; also any change of address. Blank forms for personal reports and pay accounts, with official penalty envelopes, will be furnished retired enlisted men, upon their application, by the Adjutant General.

136. The authorized pay and allowances of retired enlisted men will be paid them monthly by the Pay Department. Their pay will be three-fourths of the monthly pay allowed them by law in the grade they held when retired; no deduction will be made for "retained pay," but the monthly tax of twelve and one-half cents for support of the Soldiers' Home will be deducted. Service on the retired list does not entitle the enlisted man to any increase of re-enlisted pay, beyond what had accrued at date of retirement, nor is he entitled to any commutation for fuel or quarters. Commutation for allowances of clothing and subsistence will be paid as follows:

For subsistence.—Three-fourths of the allowance per ration (thirty cents) to men on duty. Sergeants and corporals of ordnance are entitled by law to a ration and a half.

For clothing.—Three-fourths of the average annual clothing allowance prescribed in orders for an enlistment of five years, one-twelfth of such amount to be paid monthly. The allowance of clothing to chief musicians is the same as that to quartermaster sergeants. Sergeants of ordnance have no clothing allowance.

137. The Adjutant General will furnish a descriptive list to each enlisted man on the retired list, who will forward the same at the end of each calendar month, with pay accounts signed in duplicate, to such paymaster as the chief paymaster of the department in which the soldier resides may designate. The paymaster will note the fact of payment on the descriptive list. If the soldier cannot write, his "mark" should be witnessed by a commissioned officer, if practicable; otherwise by some well-known person, preferably the postmaster of his place of residence.

143. The cause of discharge, and the soldier's age at its date, will be stated in the body of the discharge certificate. His character will be accurately described at the bottom of the certificate; but, if not sufficiently good to allow of his re-enlistment, that portion of the certificate relating to character will be cut off. The company commander shall, before submitting the discharge certificate to the post commander, inform the soldier of the "character" given him. Should the soldier feel that injustice has been done him thereby, he may at once apply to the post commander for redress. Upon receiving such application the post commander shall immediately convene a board of officers to determine the facts in the case. The finding of the board, if approved by the post commander, will be briefly noted by him on the discharge certificate. The "character" given by the company commander, also the character as found by the board, will be noted on the muster-rolls.

The officer who prepares the discharge will state thereon whether the man is married or unmarried, the number of his minor children, and, if discharged from a re-enlistment, whether it is his first, second, or other numbered re-enlistment under the provisions of sections 1282 and 1284, Revised Statutes.

147. When transportation in kind is furnished a discharged soldier to enable him to reach a paymaster, the quartermaster will note on the final statements that "transportation in kind from ——— to ———" has been furnished. If transportation be furnished to a soldier, discharged at the place of his enlistment, to enable him to reach a paymaster, the cost thereof, which will be ascertained and noted on the final statements, will be deducted by the paymaster.

155. The remains of soldiers killed in action, or who die at temporary camps, on detached service, or on the retired list, will be decently inclosed in coffins and transported by the Quartermaster's Department to the nearest military post or national cemetery for burial, unless the commanding officer deem burial at the place of death to be proper, when a report of the fact will be made to the Adjutant General. The amount to be paid from the appropriation for incidental expenses for the expense of burial is limited to fifteen dollars for non-commissioned officers and ten dollars for private soldiers. The expense of transporting the remains and those who necessarily accompany them (which will be confined to the lowest possible limit) are payable from the appropriation for Army transportation.

194. A department commander is charged with the administration of all the military affairs of his department, with the execution of all orders from higher authority, and with the distribution of the troops and staff officers assigned to him. He will report to his division commander all matters relating to the general welfare of his command. All changes of station of troops which he may contemplate he will report to division headquarters, and obtain the sanction of the division commander before ordering them. The division commander will promptly communicate his action to Army headquarters, with a view to further instructions in case it be found that the proposed changes will interfere with other movements that may be in contemplation. If it be necessary to move troops to meet emergencies, such movements, with the reasons therefor, will be reported, through division headquarters, at the earliest possible moment.

198. The staff of a division or department commander is limited to the following officers:

The authorized aides-de-camp.

One assistant adjutant general, or an officer to act in that capacity.

One or more officers of the Inspector General's Department. If none are available, an officer may be assigned to inspection duty with the sanction of the Secretary of War.

One judge advocate, or an officer assigned as such, with the sanction of the Secretary of War.

One chief quartermaster and one commissary of subsistence, each of whom will have charge of the depot of his department, and will, when practicable, make purchases at the place where headquarters are located.

One medical director, who will, when practicable, perform the duty of attending surgeon.

A chief paymaster, who will make his proportion of payments in the command.

An engineer, and an ordnance officer, when needed.

An inspector of small-arms practice.

A division inspector of artillery when needed under paragraph 382.

225. Regimental adjutants and quartermasters may hold office for four years and no longer, and will not be eligible for a second tour of such duty; nor for appointment, or reappointment, to either position, except to serve an unexpired term of four years.

240. The musical instruments and equipments of the band, as well as the transportation of the same from place of purchase to the station of the band, and to and from the place of repair, will be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, on requisition of the regimental commander, approved by the department commander. The regimental quartermaster will receipt and account for all band property furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, or purchased for the band from the band fund.

256. Tradesmen may, when necessary, be relieved from ordinary military duty, to make, repair, or alter soldiers' uniforms. The post council of administration will fix the rates to be charged for such work, which rates shall not exceed the cost of making the same at the clothing depot, and company commanders will cause to be deducted from the pay of enlisted men, and turned over to the proper party, the amount legally due therefor.

285. Post councils of administration shall, at regular meetings, make an equitable distribution among the several regiments and corps, or detachments therefrom, composing the garrison, of the amount of the tax collected from the post trader under paragraph 353. The sum found to be due to each will be paid over to the adjutant of the regiment or corps, if it maintains a band, to be carried to the credit of the band fund; otherwise, it will be distributed among the funds of the companies or detachments serving at the post according to their relative average strength.

COMPANY FUNDS.

301. The savings arising from an economical use of the ration will constitute the company fund, which will be kept in the hands of the company commander, and will be disbursed by him for the purchase of food, or articles to produce food, for the improvement of the soldiers' table-fare, and for the purchase of white aprons and jackets for enlisted men employed in company kitchens and mess-rooms, and for knife-brick and dish-towels.

308. The expenses of the bakery will be restricted to the extra pay of the bakers; the purchase of malt, hops, potatoes, and such utensils as are not furnished by the supply departments. These expenses must be paid from the saving effected by the issue of the bread instead of the flour ration.

317. Seed potatoes and garden seeds for post gardens may be procured from the Subsistence Department, or from dealers or producers in the vicinity of the post when they can be so obtained at reasonable rates. Payment for such articles at cost prices will be made from an assessment, pro rata, upon company and hospital funds.

320. The instruction of enlisted men, as required by section 1231. Revised Statutes, will hereafter be a military duty. Zealous and efficient officers will be detailed, by post commanders, in charge of post schools, which will be placed upon a footing commensurate with their importance. Instruction will be given by officers assisted by school-teachers detailed from the enlisted men. Commanding officers are enjoined to personally aid and encourage those needing instruction, which will not be restricted to the elementary branches specified in the statute, but will extend to, and include, any subjects in which enlisted men under instruction may have an aptitude, or which they can pursue with advantage to themselves or to the service. The desks, text-books, copy-books, paper, slates, &c., needed for instruction of enlisted men will be supplied by requisition upon the Quartermaster's Department. In the absence of proper text-books, &c., instruction will be oral, with the use of the blackboard, and by lecture.

321. The school term will be from the 1st of November to the 30th of April; sessions to be held daily, Saturdays and Sundays excepted. Company commanders, at the beginning of each term, will furnish to the post commander, for the information of the officer in charge of the school, a list of men who should be placed under instruction duty. Pupils will be selected from men serving their first enlistment, and such young men, in their second enlistment, as it may be deemed necessary to instruct.

322. The number of school-teachers detailed from the enlisted men shall not exceed one to every fifteen pupils or fraction of that number. If there are no enlisted men at a post suitable for such detail, the commanding officer will apply to the Adjutant General for the number of teachers required. During vacation (May 1st to October 31st) and for Saturdays and Sundays, but one teacher at each post will be allowed extra-duty pay; he will be required to care for the school-books and property, and to teach the recruits and children at the post.

488. Troops will be mustered for pay on the last day of February, April, June, August, October, and December. They will also be mustered at the end of the intervening months when authorized by the War Department. Musters will be made by an inspector, if present; otherwise by an officer specially designated, or by the commanding officer.

514. The sentinel at the post of the guard will halt and challenge all persons who approach his post at night. Such persons will be advanced by the corporal of the guard, unless they be entitled to inspect the guard, in which case the guard will be paraded and the persons advanced by the commander of the guard.

515. The sentinel at the post of the guard has charge of the prisoners, and will suffer no one to converse with them without permission.

521. The sentinel at the post of the guard, on the approach of an armed body of troops, or officer entitled to the compliment, will cry, "Turn out the guard," and announce who approaches.

534. When the command marches, the guard with the prisoners will march in rear of the column.

577. Indians employed as scouts under the provisions of sections 1094 and 1112, Revised Statutes, will be enlisted for periods not exceeding six months, and while in service will receive the pay and allowances of cavalry soldiers. They will also receive an additional allowance of forty cents per day, provided they furnish their own horses and horse equipments; but should their horses or equipments become unfit for use, so that they shall not be sufficiently mounted for the duties required of them, such additional allowance shall cease until they are again properly mounted and equipped.

618. No contract or purchase on behalf of the United States shall be made, unless the same is authorized by law, or is under an appropriation adequate to its fulfillment, except in the War and Navy Departments, for clothing, subsistence, forage, fuel, quarters, or transportation, which, however, shall not exceed the necessities of the current year. (R. S., 3732.) Hereafter no department or officer of the United States shall accept voluntary service for the Government or employ personal service in excess of that authorized by law, except in cases of sudden emergency involving the loss of human life or the destruction of property. (Act approved May 1, 1884.)

641. The accepted quantity and price will be noted on the abstract in the column of "Remarks," opposite the name of the bidder. Articles will be entered thereon in the order in which they are to appear on the return. The number of each proposal, with the quantities and prices of the articles offered, and dates of delivery, will appear in the proper columns. A copy of the advertisement, or notice, under which the proposals are received, will be attached to the head of the abstract in the upper left-hand corner. If a bid be rejected, and one at a higher price accepted, the reason for this rejection will be indorsed on the bid, and the word "rejected" will be written in the column of remarks. When written contracts are made, it will be so stated in the abstract.

Form of contractor's bond.

661. Know all men by these presents, That we [name of obligor], of [residence of obligor, giving town, county, State, &c.], as principal, and [name of surety], of [residence of surety], and [name of surety], of [residence of surety], as sureties, are held and bound unto the United States of America in the penal sum of — dollars, to the payment of which sum, well and truly to be made, we do bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, and administrators, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

(Executed in duplicate.)

667. A firm will not be accepted as surety, nor will a partner be accepted as surety for a copartner, or for a firm of which he is a member. Stockholders of a corporation, who are not officers thereof, may be accepted as sureties for such corporation.

674. No advances of public money shall be made in any case whatever, except such amounts to disbursing officers of the Government as may be necessary to the fulfillment of the public engagements. The President may, however, direct such advances as he may deem necessary and proper to be made to persons in the military service, employed on distant stations, when they cannot regularly receive the pay to which they may be entitled. (R. S., 3648.)

687. Public funds will, in general, be transferred as follows : The officer making the transfer will draw his check directing the depository to place a stated amount to the official credit of the officer named therein. The check will be sent to the depository and not to the officer in whose favor it is drawn. If it is necessary that the officer to whom the funds are transferred shall receive them without delay, the transferring officer may draw his check and transmit the same, direct, to the officer requiring them. The latter will deposit the check as required in paragraph 680.

690. The proceeds of sales of all public property not specially excepted in the preceding paragraph will, after deducting the expenses of sale, be deposited as miscellaneous receipts, to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States, either at the Treasurer's office or at the office of one of the assistant treasurers, or with some designated depository of the United States.

726. Where money is payable by a disbursing officer to a person, firm, or corporation, it may be paid to a duly authorized agent or attorney of such person, firm, or corporation, upon his producing and filing with the disbursing officer, or the accounting officers, a power of attorney, or other properly executed written authority, authorizing him to receive such money and to give a receipt or acquittance therefor; and a voucher, signed with the name of such person, firm, or corporation, by the agent or attorney, will be deemed sufficient. The authority of the agent or attorney must be filed with the voucher for the payment, and will be forwarded with the account current of the disbursing officer to the chief of the bureau to which the disbursement pertains. If subsequent payments be made under the same authority, the disbursing officer will refer, on the vouchers therefor, to the voucher with which the authority is filed.

807. When officers of the staff departments change station the transfer of clerks, or other employés, to the new stations, at the expense of the United States, is prohibited, except in cases of urgent necessity, for which the sanction of the Secretary of War will first be obtained. The Pay Department is excepted from this regulation.

871. At each regular muster of troops a muster-roll and three muster and pay rolls will be prepared and signed by the commander of each regiment, company, or separate detachment, and by the senior medical officer of each hospital. The regimental roll will report the regimental field, staff (commissioned and non-commissioned), and band; the company roll, the officers and enlisted men belonging to the company; and the hospital roll, the medical officers, the post non-commissioned staff, the hospital corps, and the authorized matrons—all to bear the signature of the inspecting and mustering officer, who will report thereon upon the discipline, efficiency, and appearance of the command. The muster-roll will be transmitted, by the mustering officer, to the Adjutant General within three days after the muster. Two of the muster and pay rolls will be used by the paymaster in payment, and will be filed with his accounts; the third will be filed with the records of the organization to which it pertains.

915. After the nature of the service and terms of enlistment have been fairly explained to the applicant, the officer, before the enlistment blanks are filled, will read to him, and offer for his signature, the following declaration, which will be appended to each of the enlistment papers:

I, ———, desiring to enlist in the Army of the United States for the term of five years, do declare that I have neither wife nor child; that I am of the legal age to enlist, and believe myself to be physically qualified to perform the duties of an able-bodied soldier; and do further declare that I have never been discharged from the United States service (Army or Navy) or any other service on account of disability, or by sentence of either civil or military court, or in any case except with good character, and for the reasons given by me to the recruiting officer prior to this enlistment.

Given at _____, this _____ day of _____, 18____.

Witness :

If the applicant is a minor, his parents or guardians must give consent for enlistment in writing, in the following terms :

I, _____, do certify that I am the (father, only surviving parent, or guardian, as the case may be) of _____; that the said _____ is _____ years of age; and I do hereby freely give my consent to his enlisting as a soldier in the Army of the United States for the period of five years.

Witness :

This consent will appear on the enlistment papers and will follow the foregoing declaration.

919. Enlistments will be executed in duplicate. One of the set will be sent by the recruiting officer with his monthly return to the superintendent (general, department, or regimental), by whom it will be transmitted, with his monthly recruiting return, to the Adjutant General. Officers of the general recruiting service will send the duplicate to the depot when the recruit is sent there; department and regimental recruiting officers will send the duplicate to regimental headquarters for file.

922. When a soldier re-enters the service the officer who enlists him will indorse on the enlistment, next below his own name and regiment, "Second (or third) enlistment," as the case may be, together with the company and regiment in which the soldier last served, and the date of discharge from former enlistment. This information the recruiting officer will obtain, if possible, from the soldier's discharge, which he should, in all cases, be required to exhibit. Soldiers discharged without good character will not be again enlisted except upon authority from the Adjutant General's Office.

927. Every man enlisted into the Army shall be vaccinated by a medical officer; the operation to be performed at once, if the enlisted man is at a military post or station, or within two days after arrival at a depot if enlisted at a recruiting rendezvous. Re-enlisted men will also be vaccinated unless they bear the mark of a previous vaccination on the outer aspect of the left leg.

928. Before recruits are forwarded from recruiting depots to their regiments, depot commanders will cause to be entered upon the descriptive and assignment rolls which accompany them the date and result of last vaccination. Officers in charge of detachments en route over suspected lines of travel will, if called upon to do so, exhibit these entries to authorized inspectors of State boards of health for the purpose of avoiding detention.

937. In military departments where a department recruiting service is maintained regimental recruiting will be confined to the re-enlistment of discharged soldiers for their former regiments within one month from date of discharge.

945. Inspectors will exercise care, by thorough personal examination, that they do no injustice to organizations or individuals. When investigating accusations prejudicial to the character of an officer, the inspector will make known to him their nature, and give him an opportunity to make his own statement, in writing, which the inspector will append to his report. Copies or extracts from an inspector's report, reflecting upon, or commending, the character or efficiency of an officer, shall be furnished him by the commander to whom the inspector submits it.

950. Captains will make a complete inspection of their companies under arms every Saturday. Cavalry and field artillery will usually be mounted when the weather will permit. No one will be excused from Saturday inspection except the guard and the sick in the hospital. An inspection, of the men's dress and general appearance only, will also be made on Sunday morning.

952. Medical officers in charge of hospitals will inspect them every morning; on Saturday they will also inspect the detachment of the Hospital Corps.

954. Except when otherwise specially directed by the Secretary of War or the General Commanding the Army, every department, post, station, and command will be inspected at least once in each year by division or department inspectors, under the direction of their respective commanders. Post, station, and other permanent commanders will, between the first and fifth days of July of each year, make thorough inspections of their respective commands, and forward reports thereof, through the proper military channels, to the Inspector General, so as to reach that officer not later than August 31st. They will be prepared on blanks furnished by the Inspector General.

955. In addition to the inspections provided for in paragraphs 954, 966, and 967, the Military Academy, the Schools of Application, all depots, rendezvous, armories, arsenals, fortifications, and public works of every kind under charge of, or carried on by, officers of the Army will be inspected at least once each year by officers of the Inspector General's Department, under instructions from the Secretary of War. These inspections will be restricted to administrative and business methods, and will not extend to nor include the scientific or technical character of the work for which the officer in charge is professionally responsible, through the head of his department, to the Secretary of War. Reports of these inspections will be forwarded direct to the Inspector General of the Army.

969. Inspectors are the only officers authorized to inspect public property with a view to condemnation. The final disposition of condemned property, except it be worthless, can only be ordered by commanding generals of departments or armies in the field, or by the War Department.

980. Inspection reports of condemned property will be made in triplicate on the blank inventory and inspection reports furnished for that purpose, each complete in itself and showing fully the action of the inspector. If all articles inspected are found to have no money value at or near the place, and are destroyed by the order and in the presence of the inspector, one of the triplicates will be forwarded, by him, to the headquarters of the department, and the other two delivered to the responsible officer. In other cases all of the set will be forwarded to department or division headquarters for orders as to final disposition of the property.

1001. All persons under guard without written charges will be released by the old officer of the day at guard mounting, unless specific orders to the contrary have been given, in each case, by the commanding officer.

1082. A writ of habeas corpus issuing from a United States court or judge will be promptly complied with. The person alleged to be illegally restrained of his liberty will be taken before the court from which the writ has issued, and a return made setting forth the reasons for his restraint or confinement. The officer upon whom such a writ is served will at once report the facts of such service direct to the Adjutant General, and, if necessary, by telegraph.

1078. An officer shall not occupy more than his proper allowance of quarters, except by permission of the commanding officer, when there is an excess of quarters at the station. The allowance will be reduced pro rata by the commanding officer when the number of officers and troops present make it necessary. If the public buildings are inadequate, the commanding officer will apply, through the department commander, to the Secretary of War for authority to hire quarters for the troops.

1079. Officers on duty without troops, at stations where there are public quarters, will be furnished quarters in kind. If, however, the quarters are insufficient, application for authority to hire the necessary quarters will be made as directed in paragraph 1078.

1089. Officers may purchase the fuel actually needed for their own use from the Quartermaster's Department. For the quantity allowed them in the table contained in paragraph 1098, they shall pay at the rate of three dollars per cord for standard oak wood, or its equivalent in other kinds of fuel, as determined by the Quartermaster General. For any additional quantity they shall pay the contract price, or three dollars per cord if the contract price is less than three dollars. Officers on the retired list, or on sick leave, or under sentence of suspension from duty on reduced pay, or absent from their proper stations, are not entitled to this privilege.

1103. Wagon and forage masters, sergeants of the post and regimental non-commissioned staff, veterinary surgeons, chief trumpeters, and chief and principal musicians may each be allowed one cooking stove, in lieu of one heating stove.

1126. The cavalry horse must be sound, free from vicious habits, gentle under the saddle, with free action at the walk, trot, and gallop; and must conform as nearly as possible to the following description: A gelding of uniform and hardy color; in good condition; from fifteen to sixteen hands high; weight not less than 900 nor more than

1,200 pounds ; from four to eight years old ; head and ears small ; forehead broad ; eyes large and prominent ; vision perfect in every respect ; shoulders long, and sloping well back ; chest full, broad, and deep ; fore legs straight, and standing well under ; barrel large and increasing from girth toward flank ; withers elevated ; back short and straight ; loins and haunches broad and muscular ; hocks well bent and under the horse ; pasterns slanting and feet small and sound. Whenever it becomes necessary to purchase the half-breed horses of California or Southern Texas, the standard of height may be reduced to fourteen and a half hands.

1127. Artillery horses are required for quick draft, and should move the carriage, ordinarily, rather by weight thrown into the collar than by muscular exertion. The artillery horse must be sound, free from vicious habits, a square trotter, well broken to harness ; and must conform as nearly as possible to the following description : A gelding of uniform and hardy color ; in good condition ; from fifteen to sixteen hands high ; weight of the lead horse not less than 1,050 pounds, and that of the wheel horse not more than 1,300 pounds ; from four to eight years old ; full chested ; shoulders sufficiently broad to support the collars, but not too heavy ; full barreled, with broad, deep loins, short coupled with solid hind quarters ; feet sound and in good order. Long-legged, loose-jointed, long-bodied, and narrow-chested horses, as well as those which are restive, vicious, or too free in harness, are to be rejected.

Veterinary medicines.

1188. Veterinary medicines, instruments, and supplies for the treatment of all public animals, and the authorized private horses of mounted officers, are furnished by the Quartermaster's Department. In making estimates, post quartermasters will use the regular form of quarterly estimates for quartermaster's stores, in which the number and quantity of each article on hand and the number of animals for which the supplies are needed will be stated. The estimates will be prepared in conformity with the standard supply table furnished by the Quartermaster General.

1189. The Quartermaster's Department will transport, for officers changing station, the number of horses for which they are legally entitled to forage, and an attendant to accompany the horses, when actually necessary, subject to the following restrictions :

1. That the expense paid by the United States shall not exceed fifty dollars for each horse transported.

(2) That the horses are owned by the officer and were used by him in the public service at the station from which he is ordered to move.

(3) The horses of officers ordered on recruiting service or college detail, or to effect a voluntary transfer, will not be transported at public expense, except in the cases of officers assigned to mounted duty at the recruiting depots, and then only with the special sanction of the Secretary of War.

1234. The Quartermaster's Department will take charge of, and ship to destination, all freight that may be delivered to it by any of the executive departments or bureaus of the Government, such freight to be securely packed and properly marked with address of consignee in each case before it is turned over for shipment. Separate bills of lading will be used in shipments of this character, and the following notation will be made thereon: "Payable by the Treasury Department," "the Navy Department," "the Interior Department," "the National Museum," "the U. S. Fish Commission," or otherwise, as the case may be. Whenever practicable the bureau of the particular department to which the freight pertains will be stated, for example: "Payable by the Navy Department, Bureau of Ordnance." Accounts in duplicate, supported by these bills of lading, will be prepared by any officer of the Quartermaster's Department to whom they may be presented, and will be forwarded to the Quartermaster General to be sent to the department, or bureau, or office to which they pertain for payment. In making up the accounts the same plan as to deduction on account of land-grant railroads will be pursued as in accounts for transportation of other Government property.

1235. The Quartermaster's Department is authorized to receive and forward to their respective destinations (under the regulations governing the transportation of military property, and on the same forms of bills of lading) articles donated by persons to the following institutions, viz: The Medical Museum at Washington; the library and museum of the Military Service institution at Governor's Island, New York; the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York. Packages will be marked with the name of the institution, and sent in care of depot quartermasters at Washington or New York, or quartermaster, West Point.

Arms, ordnance stores, quartermaster's stores, and camp equipage issued to the several States and Territories under the law for arming and equipping the militia (24 Statutes, 401), will be turned over to the Quartermaster's Department for transportation to the point within the State or Territory designated by the governor thereof. Officers of the Quartermaster's Department will use separate bills of lading in forwarding property under the provisions of this law, and will state and pay the accounts for such transportation upon forms of the Quartermaster's Department applicable, as in the case of transportation of Army supplies.

1236. The Quartermaster's Department is authorized to transport articles purchased with hospital or company funds from the place of purchase to the station of the hospital or company (distilled or fermented liquors and perishable vegetables excepted), provided the articles are purchased at the nearest accessible markets, that their cost or intrinsic value added to the cost of transportation is not greater than their cost at the station of the company, and that they are not kept for issue or sale by any of the staff departments. Subject to the same conditions, the transportation of books and musical instruments purchased for, or donated to, post chapels and to post and company libraries is also authorized.

1281. After the clothing and equipage are received, the post quartermaster will make issues on special requisitions (Form No. 44½) in such quantities and at such times as company or detachment commanders may require. Exclusive issues of larger sizes than are worn by the men cannot be made.

1302. One pair of gauntlets and one fur cap will be issued annually to all enlisted men in the Departments of the Platte, Dakota, and the Columbia; and in other departments, when specially authorized by division commanders, at the prices established for such articles in the annual price list. The money value will be charged on the clothing accounts of the men to whom they are issued, but will not be computed in their clothing allowance. These articles will be borne on the returns as clothing.

1311. When the originals or certified copies of the telegrams are not furnished with the accounts, or when it is questionable whether the telegrams are on official business, or that the telegraph should have been used, an explanatory letter from the officer who sends or the officer who receives the telegram will accompany the account.

1402. The Subsistence Department shall procure and keep, for sale to officers and enlisted men, articles composing the ration, and such other articles as may be designated by the inspectors general of the Army. The Commissary General of Subsistence will, from time to time, furnish the proper officers with lists of such articles, and instructions for procuring, selling, and accounting for the same.

1441. If the Paymaster General shall learn that an officer has drawn pay more than once for the same period, he will immediately report the fact to the Adjutant General, for the consideration of the Secretary of War, and will call upon the officer to make refundment of the amount overdrawn.

1492. Payment on muster and pay rolls and final accounts shall be made to the cadets at the Military Academy by an Army paymaster, who will turn over the net amount of the rolls and accounts to the treasurer of the academy, to be by him disbursed, on account of said cadets, in accordance with the Military Academy regulations.

1498. The rates of pay to enlisted men during their first enlistments are shown in the following table :

1502. The paymaster will deduct from the pay of all soldiers, except General Service clerks and messengers, twelve and one-half cents per month for the support of the Soldiers' Home, and also the authorized stoppages entered on the muster-rolls, descriptive lists, or final statements.

1503. The retained pay provided for in sections 1281 and 1282, Revised Statutes, is forfeited as a consequence of dishonorable discharge by sentence of general court-martial at the expiration of term of service, or after completion of imprisonment extending beyond the term of service.

The retained pay does not accrue to the soldier under the law—

1st. When discharged before end of term of service under sentence of general court-martial.

2d. When discharged for minority concealed at enlistment, or for other cause involving fraud on his part in enlistment.

3d. When discharged because of imprisonment by civil authority or for disability caused by his misconduct.

The cause of forfeiture of retained pay will be stated on the muster and pay rolls and on the final statements of the soldier.

1508. Paymasters will not pay deposits except on final statements. When they are not paid the soldier should forward his deposit-book, or the evidence referred to in paragraph 1507, to the Paymaster General. Enlisted men should be informed of the importance of preserving deposit-books as the only certain means of insuring prompt and correct repayment.

1519. An enlisted man, discharged for minority concealed at enlistment, or for other cause involving fraud on his part in the enlistment, is not entitled to pay and allowances, including those for travel, and shall not receive final statements unless deposits or detained pay are due him, in which case final statements, containing only a list of his deposits, or the amount of pay so detained, will be furnished.

1520. Recruits are entitled to pay and allowances when discharged on certificates of disability. When discharged for any cause involving fraud on their part at enlistment, paragraph 1519 will govern.

1560. Hospital stewards may be re-enlisted at the expiration of their term of service on the written authority of the Surgeon General, provided they have passed successfully the examination prescribed by him; those desiring to re-enlist will report the fact, in writing, through the proper military channels, to the Surgeon General, sixty days before the expiration of their term of service.

1561. The enlistment papers of all members of the Hospital Corps will be executed in duplicate and will be forwarded, with the form for physical examination, direct to the Surgeon General, who will transmit one of each set with the monthly recruiting return of the Hospital Corps to the Adjutant General.

1563. Hospital stewards, though liable to discharge, will not be reduced, nor will they be tried by garrison courts-martial unless by special permission of the department commander. The detail of an acting hospital steward may be revoked by the post commander, upon the recommendation of the senior medical officer, or by the sentence of a court-martial.

1564. The privates of the Hospital Corps shall, so far as practicable, be taken by transfer from enlisted men who have served at least one year in the line, preferably as company bearers, and who desire to enter the corps. The selection will be made upon the concurrent judgment of the post surgeon (who makes the application) and the post commander, after consultation with the company commander, due weight being given to any objections the latter may present. Musicians are not eligible for transfer to the Hospital Corps. When transfers are impracticable, privates may be enlisted. The period of service shall be the same as that of other enlisted men of the Army, and they shall be examined as to their physical qualifications in the same manner.

1585. Travois and mule-litters (double) will be issued to each military department in which Indian operations are liable to take place, at the rate of four per thousand men; they will be distributed on the recommendation of the medical director.

1628. Civilian employés stationed at military posts may purchase the medical supplies prescribed by a medical officer at cost price with ten per centum added. Medical officers who dispense medical supplies to civilian employés will render direct to the Surgeon General, upon the first day of every month, detailed accounts in duplicate, giving the name of each employé and the kind and quantity of medical supplies furnished him, and by whom prescribed, during the preceding month, leaving a space between items for the insertion of the price, which will be fixed at the Surgeon General's Office. One of the duplicates will be returned to the officer furnishing the supplies, and the amounts so inserted will be collected by the medical officer responsible for them, and be disposed of in the same manner as proceeds of other sales of medical and hospital property.

1629. A civilian employé on duty at a station where other medical attendance cannot be procured is entitled, when necessary, to admission to hospital, in which case his ration will be transferred to the hospital, and he will pay to the senior medical officer forty cents per day.

1630. Civilians not in public service will be admitted to hospital only in cases of extreme necessity, and on the written statement of the senior medical officer. Rations will not be issued to them by the Subsistence Department, but food will be purchased from the hospital fund.

1631. The charges for admission to post hospitals will be as follows, viz: For subsistence for General Service clerks, 50 cents per day; for enlisted men of the Signal Corps, 30 cents per day; for retired sergeants and corporals of ordnance, 28½ cents per day; for other retired enlisted men, 18½ cents per day; for General Service messengers, 25 cents per day. The money thus received will be added to and accounted for with the hospital fund. For nursing, medicines, and subsistence for veterinary surgeons, 50 cents per day; for quartermaster's and other civilian employes, who will transfer their ration to the hospital, 40 cents per day; for seamen and river boatmen, admitted only on permit issued by a medical officer of the Marine Hospital Service, or a customs officer, and for civilians admitted as provided in paragraph 1630, $1 per day. Three-fourths of the money thus received will be added to the hospital fund and the remainder distributed among the members of the Hospital Corps.

1634. Medical officers where on duty shall attend officers and enlisted men and, whenever practicable, their families; and at stations, or in the field, where other medical attendance cannot be procured, civilian employes. Medicines will be dispensed to all persons entitled to medical attendance, and hospital stores to enlisted men and hospital matrons, also to officers at posts or stations where they cannot be procured by purchase.

1642. An important part of the duty of a medical officer is the supervision, under the direction of his immediate commander, of the hygiene of the post or command to which he is attached, and the recommendation of such measures as he may deem necessary to prevent or diminish disease among troops. For this purpose he shall examine, and note in the medical history of the post, at least once a month, the sanitary condition of all buildings, the drainage, the sewerage, and the amount and quality of the water supply, the clothing and habits of the men and the character and cooking of the food, and shall immediately after such examination make report thereof in writing to the commanding officer, with such recommendations as he may deem proper. The commanding officer shall return the report with his views and action indorsed thereon, and if he deem the action recommended impracticable or undesirable, he will state fully his objections. The indorsement will be recorded in the medical history of the post, and the report and indorsement will be forwarded by the medical officer, through the regular channels, to the Surgeon General for his information.

1659. Medical supplies, transferred to a medical storekeeper by the chief or an assistant medical purveyor, will be receipted for as invoiced. Packages will not be broken if the number corresponds with the invoice, if they are in good condition, and if there is no reason to suppose the contents defective.

1662. Each medical director will visit the posts in his department at least once each year, and make such reports as will inform the Surgeon General concerning their sanitary condition, their supplies (medical and hospital), and the discipline and efficiency of their medical service.

1676. The senior medical officer of each hospital, post, regiment, or detachment shall keep the following records, and deliver them to his successor: A register of patients, of the Hospital Corps, of statements of hospital funds, of the examination of recruits, and of deaths and interments; a morning report book of the Hospital Corps, a transfer book, and a medical history of the post; copies of his requisitions, and all other reports, and also of all orders and letters relating to his duties.

1699. Officers of the Corps of Engineers, or on engineer duty, traveling on service connected with fortifications or works of internal improvement, will be paid their mileage out of the specific appropriation for the benefit of which the journey was performed. When traveling on any other duty, the mileage will be paid by that branch of the service intrusted with such payments for the Army.

1742. When sales of ordnance stores are recommended, the report will be forwarded, by the general commanding, direct to the Chief of Ordnance for the final action of the Secretary of War, except in the case of condemned horse equipments (saddles excepted) and accoutrements and equipments for mounted and foot troops.

Coats.

1766. * * * * *

For a chaplain.—Plain black frock coat with standing collar; one row of nine black buttons on the breast. For "undress" either the black frock or a plain black sack coat of cloth or serge, falling collar, single-breasted, one row of five black buttons in front, the skirt to extend from one-third to three-fourths the distance from hip-joint to the bend of the knee.

Epaulettes.

1778. For the General of the Army.—Of gold, with solid crescent; device—two silver embroidered stars, with five rays each, one and one-half inches in diameter, and the "Arms of the United States" embroidered in gold placed between them.

For the Lieutenant General.—Of gold, with solid crescent; device—three silver embroidered stars of five rays each, respectively, $1\frac{1}{2}$, $1\frac{1}{4}$, $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches in diameter. The largest placed in the center of the crescent; the others placed longitudinally on the strap and equidistant, ranging in order of size from the crescent.

For a major general.—Same as for Lieutenant General, omitting smallest star, and the smaller of the two remaining stars placed in the center of the strap.

For a brigadier general.—Same as for Lieutenant General, omitting all but the largest star. The Adjutant General and Inspector General to wear an aiguillette, with the right epaulet, according to pattern.

Sword-knot.

1790. For general officers.—Gold cord, with acorn end.

For all other officers.—Gold-lace strap, with gold bullion tassel. In the field officers are authorized to wear a sword knot of plaited leather or webbing.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, April 7, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following instructions are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

A record will be kept in the War Department of the services, efficiency, and special qualifications of officers of the Army, including the condition of their commands and the percentage of desertions therefrom, to be compiled from the records and reports already available, and from further reports made for that purpose, as follows :

1. Every officer of the Army below the rank of colonel will report on the first day of May next whether, and to what extent, he has engaged in any professional study or in any special course of reading or investigation additional to his regular duties ; and also whether he has had any business training or experience. Such reports will be forwarded, through the regular military channels, to the Adjutant General of the Army, superior officers making any indorsements pertinent thereto.

2. Post and regimental commanders will make a report on the first day of May next, through the regular military channels, of the professional ability and practical efficiency of each officer below the rank of colonel of their respective commands, and whether he is attentive to duty and of exemplary conduct and temperate habits. Also the condition and discipline of the men under his immediate control, and his care for and attention to their welfare. Whether he has any peculiar fitness or marked ability for a college, recruiting, or other detail in any branch of the military service, and if so, what ; and if he has had any special duty under the reporting officer, how he performed the same.

3. The reports herein required will be made upon blanks furnished for that purpose ; and the individual reports of officers shall cover the full period of their service in the Army, and those of commanding officers the time the officers reported upon have been under their command. Department and division commanders will make the required report in the case of officers in their commands not included in the reports of subordinate commanders ; and chiefs of War Department bureaus will make a like report of officers in their respective corps. In case the report concerning any officer is unfavorable with respect to his conduct or habits, attention to duty, or the care of his men, the commanding officer making such report shall show the same to the officer affected thereby, giving him an opportunity to make an explanation in writing, which shall be forwarded with the report; but if he does not care to make such explanation, then that fact shall be noted.

4. In making details for special duty and detached service, due consideration will be given to the efficiency, zeal, and reliability of officers, as evidenced by this record; and in particular it is the desire of the department to detail officers for recruiting duty who are shown to have rendered the most efficient service in the care and improvement of their commands.

Washington, April 7, 1890.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 1291 of the Regulations is amended to read as follows:

1291. Company and detachment commanders will settle the clothing account of every enlisted man of their respective commands six months after the date of his enlistment, and thereafter on June 30th and December 31st of each year. The entire amount found due the United States will be charged to the soldier upon the muster-rolls for the periods embracing the dates of settlement. The money allowance of clothing for the first year will be allotted by half years, and the annual price-list of clothing and equipage and tables of allowances will be prepared so as to give the money allowances for such articles as the enlisted men are likely to draw during the first as well as during the second half of the year.

II.--By direction of the Secretary of War the accompanying table, showing the first year's money allowance of clothing, computed according to the provisions of the foregoing paragraph, will take effect April 1, 1890.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 43.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, April 10, 1896.

In connection with the reports of department commanders, made in reply to the circular letter dated December 28, 1889, from these headquarters, and with the approval of the Secretary of War, the troops from the following posts will be withdrawn so soon as the department commanders concerned can provide suitable accommodations for them elsewhere, having due regard to economy in respect to supplies on hand at the posts:

Fort Maginnis, Montana; Fort Bridger, Wyoming; Fort Sidney, Nebraska; Fort Crawford, Colorado; Little Rock Barracks, Arkansas; Fort McDowell, Arizona; Fort Thomas, Arizona; and Fort Verde, Arizona.

The respective department commanders will duly report to the Adjutant General of the Army the dates when the posts can be abandoned, with a view to the necessary arrangements for the reservations, with the buildings and other improvements, to be received by the Department of the Interior for Indian school purposes, or for disposal under the act "to provide for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations" (General Orders, No. 72, Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant General's Office, series of 1884).

The following acts of Congress are published for the information and government of all concerned:

I.—An act for the relief of soldiers and sailors who enlisted or served under assumed names, while minors or otherwise, in the Army or Navy, during the war of the rebellion.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy be, and they are hereby, authorized and required to issue certificates of discharge or orders of acceptance of resignation, upon application and proof of identity, in the true name of such persons as enlisted or served under assumed names, while minors or otherwise, in the Army and Navy during the war of the rebellion, and were honorably discharged therefrom. Applications for said certificates of discharge or amended orders of resignation may be made by or in behalf of persons entitled to them; but no such certificate or order shall be issued where a name was assumed to cover a crime or to avoid its consequence.

Approved, April 14, 1890. [26 5 1 1 1 1 1 1]

II.—An act authorizing the President to appoint and retire John C. Fremont as a major-general in the United States Army.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the laws regulating appointments in the Army of the United States be, and they are hereby, suspended for the purposes of this act; and that in view of the services to his country rendered by John C. Fremont, now of New York, as explorer, administrator, and soldier, the President is hereby authorized to nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint him a major general in the Army of the United States, and thereupon to place him on the retired list of the Army with the pay and emoluments of a retired officer with the rank of a major-general, without regard and in addition to the retired list now authorized by law.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 1552 of the Regulations is amended to read as follows:

1552. The pay accounts of an acting assistant surgeon, prepared on Form 8, Pay Department, certified to by the commanding officer that it is correct and according to contract, and that the services have been duly rendered, will be paid by the paymaster. The certificate will not be made unless the contract has been approved by the medical director of the department, or by the Surgeon General. Acting assistant surgeons may be granted leaves of absence in the same manner as commissioned officers of the Medical Department, but they are not entitled to pay when absent on leave, whether on account of sickness or otherwise.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 50. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, May 10, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 443, 458, 461, and 462 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

443. The national salute for both the Army and Navy is twenty-one guns. A salute to the Union, commemorative of the Declaration of Independence, consisting of one gun for each State, is fired at noon on July 4th at every post provided with artillery.

458. The interchange of official compliments and visits between foreign military and naval officers and the authorities of a military post is international in character, and opens the door to both official and social courtesies among the officers. In cases of vessels of war, foreign or otherwise, recently arrived, it is the duty of the post commander to send a suitable officer to offer civilities and assistance. It is expected that this civility will be returned, and that within twenty-four hours thereafter, weather permitting, the officer in chief command of the ship or ships will visit the officer in command of the post or station, should the latter be his equal or superior in grade. This visit will be returned within twenty-four hours. Should the arriving commanding officer be superior in grade to the officer commanding the post or station, the first visit will be paid by the latter officer as the inferior in grade.

461. Naval vessels fire personal salutes to officers entitled to them when the boat containing the officer to be saluted has cleared the ship. It is an acknowledgment of the salute for his boat to "lie on her oars" from the first until the last gun, and for the officers saluted to uncover ; then, at the conclusion, to "give way." Personal salutes are not returned by military posts.

462. In case of vessels of war of foreign powers at peace with the United States, lying in our ports or harbors and celebrating their national festivals, the commander of each fort, battery, or military post may participate in the celebration by firing salutes, parading commands, &c. In such cases the flag of the United States will be hoisted and lowered simultaneously with that of the ship on board of which the celebration occurs.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 828 (as amended by General Orders, No. 75, of 1889, from this office) and 829 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows:

828. Canteens may be established at military posts for supplying the troops, at moderate prices, with such articles as may be deemed necessary for their use, entertainment, and comfort; also for affording them the requisite facilities for gymnastic exercises, billiards, and other proper games. The commanding officer may set apart for the purposes of the canteen any suitable rooms that can be spared.

829. The sale or use of ardent spirits or wines in canteens is strictly prohibited; but the commanding officer is authorized to permit light beer to be sold therein by the drink, on week-days, and in a room used for no other purpose, and, when practicable, in a building apart from that in which the canteen is located, whenever he is satisfied that the giving to the men the opportunity of obtaining such beverage within the post limits has the effect of preventing them from resorting for strong intoxicants to places without such limits, and tends to promote temperance and discipline among them. The practice of what is known as "treating" must not be permitted.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, May 23, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1776 (corrected by General Orders, No. 38, March 28, 1890, from this office), 1779, and 1798 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

Forage-cap badges.

1776. To be embroidered on dark blue cloth ground, with devices as follows :

For general officers.—A gold wreath encircling the letters M. G. in silver, old English characters.

For officers of the Adjutant General's Department.—A gold wreath encircling a solid silver shield bearing thirteen stars.

For officers of the Inspector General's Department.—A gold wreath encircling a solid gold or gilt sword and fasces, crossed and wreathed, according to pattern in the office of the Inspector General.

For officers of engineers.—A gold wreath of laurel and palm encircling a silver-turreted castle.

For officers of ordnance.—A gold shell and flame.

For officers of the Signal Corps.—A gold wreath encircling two crossed signal flags and a burning torch, according to the pattern in the office of the Chief Signal Officer.

For all other staff officers.—Same as for general officers.

For officers of cavalry.—Two gold sabers, crossed, edges upward, with number of the regiment, in silver, in the upper angle.

For officers of artillery.—Two gold cannons, crossed, with the number of the regiment, in silver, at the intersection of the crossed cannons.

For officers of infantry.—Two gold rifles, crossed, without bayonets, barrels upward, with the number of the regiment, in silver, in the upper angle.

Shoulder-knots.

1779. For officers of the Adjutant General's Department.—Of gold cord, one-fourth of an inch in diameter, Russian pattern, on dark blue cloth ground ; insignia of rank embroidered on the cloth ground of the pad ; a solid shield of silver, according to pattern, on the center of the pad (except for a colonel and assistant adjutant general, who will wear it on the bullion of the knot midway between the upper fastening and the pad); an aiguillette of gold cord, one-fourth of an inch in diameter, according to pattern, to be worn on the right shoulder-knot, the loop crossed on top the right arm above the elbow and the cords fastened, before buttoning, to the top and second button on the right side of the coat. The aiguillette, instead of being permanently attached to the shoulder-knot, may be made separate, so as to be attached to the coat or knot underneath the knot, by means of a strap or tongue passing through the lower fastenings of the knot.

For officers of the Inspector General's Department.—Same as for officers of the Adjutant General's Department, but with sword and fasces crossed and wreathed, according to pattern in the office of the Inspector General, in place of the silver shield.

For officers of the Judge Advocate General's Department.—Same as for the officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and without the shield, but with sword and pen crossed and wreathed, according to pattern, embroidered in silver on the cloth ground of the pad (except for a colonel and assistant judge advocate general, who will wear the device made of solid silver on the knot midway between the upper fastening and the pad).

For officers of other staff corps.—Same as for officers of Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and without the shield, but with initial letters or device of corps on the cloth ground of the pad, as follows :

Quartermaster's Department.—Q. D.

Subsistence Department.—S. D.

Pay Department.—P. D.

(Letters to be embroidered in silver in old English characters.)

Engineer Corps.—A silver turreted castle.

Ordnance Department.—A shell and flame in silver embroidery, according to pattern.

Signal Corps.—Two crossed signal flags and a burning torch, in gold and silver embroidery, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Chief Signal Officer.

For aides-de-camp to major and brigadier generals.—The shoulder-knot of their corps or regiment, with aiguillette attached.

For officers of cavalry, artillery, and infantry.—Of the same pattern as for staff corps, but on cloth of the same color as the facings of their arm, with number of regiment embroidered in silver and insignia of rank on the cloth ground of the pad, according to pattern.

For regimental adjutants.—Of same pattern as for other officers of their arm, with aiguillettes attached.

Overcoat.

1793. For general officers.—Of dark blue cloth, closing by means of four black mohair netted frog buttons one and three-fourth inches long, one-half of an inch in diameter in center and tapering to one-fourth of an inch in diameter at the ends, and loops of square black mohair cord one-fourth of an inch in diameter on each side, down the front and at the throat by a loop of same cord not less than ten inches in length with three knots and two netted mohair slides, fastened at the left slide by a mohair frog button, as described, and closing on the right with a similar button, to which is fastened a loop six inches in length, of mohair cord three-sixteenths of an inch in diameter. Around each button, on the breast, an oval-shaped frogging two and one-half inches long and one and one-fourth inches wide, of black mohair cord three-sixteenths of an inch in diameter, all according to pattern; back, in a single piece, without back seam, except at the bottom, where it is slit up from fifteen to seventeen inches, according to the height of the wearer, and closing at will by buttons and button-holes, the latter placed in a concealed “fly” under the right back and the buttons placed on a concealed “flap” on the left back; collar of the same color and material as the coat, to stand or fall—when standing to be about five inches high; sleeves loose, without cuff or slit; lined with heavy mohair serge or other suitable material; two vertical side pockets on the outside just below the hip, the opening or “mouths” of the pockets to be from seven to seven and one-half inches in length; around the front and lower borders, the edges of the pockets, collar, and slit in the back a flat braid of black mohair one-half of an inch wide. Coat to extend down the leg from six to eight inches below the knee, according to the height of the wearer. Cape of the same color and material as the coat, removable at the pleasure of the wearer, and reaching to the edge of the coat-sleeve when the arm is extended; to have a rolling collar of black velvet three inches broad, removable at will, fastened to the cape by means of lasting buttons attached to the collar, and corresponding button-holes on a small bandlike collar on the cape. The two end buttons to have two small loops two and three-fourth inches in length, of mohair cord one-tenth of an inch in diameter. On each side of the cape, near the throat, a frog button, same as on coat, fastened immediately in front of an oval-shaped knotted frogging of mohair cord of same dimensions as on coat, having loops six inches long. Around the edges of the cape a flat braid of black mohair one-half of an inch wide.

To indicate rank.—There will be on both sleeves, near the lower edge, a knot of flat black mohair soutache braid, not exceeding one-eighth of an inch in width, and composed of five braids, double knot.

For all other officers.—A double-breasted ulster of dark blue cloth, lined with heavy mohair serge, or other suitable material, closing by means of four black mohair netted frog buttons one and three-fourths inches long, one-half of an inch diameter in center, and tapering to one-fourth of an inch diameter at the ends, and loops of black mohair square cord about eight inches long, one quarter of an inch in diameter, on each side, down the front, with an oval-shaped knotted frogging of same cord two and one-half inches long and one and one-fourth inches wide at the end of each loop, and at the throat a long loop of same cord not less than ten inches in length, with three knots and two netted mohair slides, fastened at the left side with a netted mohair frog button of above dimensions, and closing at the right with a similar button, all as per pattern; the back slit up from the bottom from twenty to twenty-five inches, according to the height of the wearer, and closing at will by buttons and button-holes, the latter placed in a concealed "fly" under the right back, and the buttons placed on a concealed "flap" on the left back; bottom of the skirt nine to twelve inches from the ground; a rolling collar of the same material as the coat, and broad enough when turned up to protect the ears, having a collar loop about four and one-half inches long and one and one-half inches wide; two horizontal side pockets on the outside, just below the hip, covered with flaps, to be worn inside or out; sleeves loose, without cuff or slit; back straps to consist of two straps, each about eight inches long and two inches wide, let into the side seams of back of coat; left-hand strap to have a button-hole, and the right-hand strap to have two buttons about two inches apart; a vertical slit about six inches long at the side of the left hip, large enough to admit the front sling and hook of the sword-belt; a hood of the same material as the coat, lined with black Italian cloth, or other suitable material, made to button around the neck, under the collar, and large enough to cover the head and cap, to be worn at night and in inclement weather.

The belt will be worn under the coat, with the sword or saber outside, the rear sling passing out at the slit at the back.

The insignia of rank on the sleeves of flat black mohair soutache braid one-eighth of an inch in width, as follows :

Colonel, five braids, single knot.

Lieutenant colonel, four braids, single knot.

Major, three braids, single knot.

Captain, two braids, single knot.

1st lieutenant, one braid, single knot.

2d lieutenant, without braid.

Chaplain, without braid.

A cape of the same color and material as the coat, and reaching to the tips of the fingers when the arm is extended, having a rolling collar of black velvet three inches broad, and closing at the throat with a long loop, as described above, may be worn by all officers when not on duty with troops under arms.

The linings of officers' capes shall be : For the general staff, dark blue ; for infantry, white ; for artillery, scarlet ; for cavalry, yellow.

The following order has been received from the War Department:

It is with deep regret that the Secretary of War announces the death of Brigadier General Nelson H. Davis, U. S. Army (retired), late Inspector General of the Army, which occurred at Governor's Island, New York Harbor, on the 15th instant.

The long and active service of General Davis, covering a period of nearly forty years, was throughout characterized by a conscientious fidelity in the performance of duty and strict integrity.

Nelson H. Davis was graduated from the Military Academy and appointed brevet 2d lieutenant, 8d Infantry, July 1, 1846. He served in the Mexican War, participating in the siege of Vera Cruz, the battles of Cerro Gordo, Contreras, Churubusco, and the capture of the City of Mexico, and was brevetted 1st lieutenant "for gallant and meritorious conduct at the battles of Contreras and Churubusco." Promoted 2d lieutenant, 2d Infantry, February 16, 1847; 1st lieutenant, June 8, 1849; and captain, March 3, 1855. He served on the western frontiers and in California from the close of the Mexican War until the spring of 1861, taking part in the expedition to the Sierra Nevada in 1850 and in the Rogue River expedition in 1853.

During the rebellion he served in the Army of the Potomac and held the appointment of colonel of the 7th Massachusetts Volunteers from September 4 to November 12, 1861, when he was appointed major and assistant inspector general, U. S. Army. He participated in the various campaigns of that army until after the battle of Gettysburg, for which he received the brevet of lieutenant colonel for gallant and meritorious service, when he was assigned to duty in New Mexico, where he was engaged making inspections, locating military posts, &c., and in several actions with Indians, receiving the brevet of colonel May 29, 1864, for gallant and meritorious services in action with Apache Indians; was appointed lieutenant colonel June 13, 1867, and colonel June 25, 1872, to rank from March 23, 1864 ; inspector general Division of the Atlantic from June 9, 1876, to June 22, 1881, and of the Division of the Missouri to March 10, 1885. He was appointed brigadier general and Inspector General March 11, 1885, and retired, by operation of law, September 20, 1885.

One from the Division of the Atlantic, seven from the Division of the Missouri, and two from the Division of the Pacific, with one alternate from each division.

III.--The members of the Army carbine team will be selected as follows :

Six from the Division of the Missouri and four from the Division of the Pacific, with one alternate from each division.

Of the Division of the Missouri quota four will be selected from the cavalry competitors at Fort Leavenworth and two from the cavalry competitors at Bellevue Rifle Range, Nebraska.

For purposes of selection for the Army carbine team, the competitors from the Division of the Atlantic will be classed with those from the Division of the Missouri.

Each division commander will, in accordance with the rules prescribed in the firing regulations, select the number of competitors above designated and cause them to report to the commanding officer of Fort Leavenworth on September 1st.

IV.--The commanding general department of the Missouri is charged with the arrangements of all necessary details during the meeting of the Army teams, and upon the completion of the contests will order all connected therewith to return to their respective stations. The travel herein directed is necessary for the public service.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 58. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 7, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 930 of the Regulations is amended to read as follows :

930. A register of the medical examination of recruits will be kept at each recruiting station and depot. A report of the recruits examined during the preceding month will be transmitted, not later than the sixth day of every month, to the Surgeon General, who will furnish blanks for the purpose, as well as the blank registers of medical examination of recruits. When a register is filled it will be transmitted to the Surgeon General. Cases of "recruits on probation" who have failed for any cause to complete their enlistment will be indicated by an appropriate entry in the column of remarks, both on the monthly reports to the Surgeon General and in the register.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to define the objectives and goals of the project. This helps to clarify what needs to be achieved and provides a clear direction for the team.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, manageable tasks and determining the resources needed to complete each task.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the strategy into action and monitoring progress to ensure that the project is on track.

5. The final step is to evaluate the results of the project. This involves assessing the outcomes against the objectives and goals and identifying any areas for improvement.

2. 1941 1942 1943 1944 1945 1946 1947 1948 1949 1950 1951 1952 1953 1954 1955 1956 1957 1958 1959 1960 1961 1962 1963 1964 1965 1966 1967 1968 1969 1970 1971 1972 1973 1974 1975 1976 1977 1978 1979 1980 1981 1982 1983 1984 1985 1986 1987 1988 1989 1990 1991 1992 1993 1994 1995 1996 1997 1998 1999 2000 2001 2002 2003 2004 2005 2006 2007 2008 2009 2010 2011 2012 2013 2014 2015 2016 2017 2018 2019 2020 2021 2022 2023 2024 2025 2026 2027 2028 2029 2030 2031 2032 2033 2034 2035 2036 2037 2038 2039 2040 2041 2042 2043 2044 2045 2046 2047 2048 2049 2050 2051 2052 2053 2054 2055 2056 2057 2058 2059 2060 2061 2062 2063 2064 2065 2066 2067 2068 2069 2070 2071 2072 2073 2074 2075 2076 2077 2078 2079 2080 2081 2082 2083 2084 2085 2086 2087 2088 2089 2090 2091 2092 2093 2094 2095 2096 2097 2098 2099 2100 2101 2102 2103 2104 2105 2106 2107 2108 2109 2110 2111 2112 2113 2114 2115 2116 2117 2118 2119 2120 2121 2122 2123 2124 2125 2126 2127 2128 2129 2130 2131 2132 2133 2134 2135 2136 2137 2138 2139 2140 2141 2142 2143 2144 2145 2146 2147 2148 2149 2150 2151 2152 2153 2154 2155 2156 2157 2158 2159 2160 2161 2162 2163 2164 2165 2166 2167 2168 2169 2170 2171 2172 2173 2174 2175 2176 2177 2178 2179 2180 2181 2182 2183 2184 2185 2186 2187 2188 2189 2190 2191 2192 2193 2194 2195 2196 2197 2198 2199 2200 2201 2202 2203 2204 2205 2206 2207 2208 2209 2210 2211 2212 2213 2214 2215 2216 2217 2218 2219 2220 2221 2222 2223 2224 2225 2226 2227 2228 2229 2230 2231 2232 2233 2234 2235 2236 2237 2238 2239 2240 2241 2242 2243 2244 2245 2246 2247 2248 2249 2250 2251 2252 2253 2254 2255 2256 2257 2258 2259 2260 2261 2262 2263 2264 2265 2266 2267 2268 2269 2270 2271 2272 2273 2274 2275 2276 2277 2278 2279 2280 2281 2282 2283 2284 2285 2286 2287 2288 2289 2290 2291 2292 2293 2294 2295 2296 2297 2298 2299 2300 2301 2302 2303 2304 2305 2306 2307 2308 2309 2310 2311 2312 2313 2314 2315 2316 2317 2318 2319 2320 2321 2322 2323 2324 2325 2326 2327 2328 2329 2330 2331 2332 2333 2334 2335 2336 2337 2338 2339 2340 2341 2342 2343 2344 2345 2346 2347 2348 2349

ASSASSINATIONS - RACIAL

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 60. }

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 10, 1890.

The following order from the War Department is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, June 9, 1890.

By authority of the President of the United States, dated May 28, 1890, and under the provisions of the first section of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884, entitled "An act to provide for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations," the military reservation of Fort Laramie, Wyoming, declared by the President June 28, 1869, enlarged by Executive orders of April 2, 1872, and reduced by act of Congress approved August 14, 1876; also the wood and timber reservation of said Fort Laramie, Wyoming, declared by Executive order of February 9, 1881, are hereby transferred and turned over to the Secretary of the Interior for disposition, as provided in subsequent sections of the aforesaid act, the same being no longer required for military purposes.

The post reservation of Fort Laramie is located and described as follows:

Commencing at the flag-staff of the post (latitude $42^{\circ} 12' 01'' .31$, longitude $104^{\circ} 33' 27'' .27$) and running due north $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles to a point of beginning—the same being about one mile due east from the north bank of the North Platte River; thence due east three miles; thence due south nine miles; thence due west six miles; thence due north nine miles; thence due east three miles to the point of beginning; the same containing fifty-four square miles, or thirty-four thousand five hundred and sixty acres, more or less. (The points of the compass are true and not magnetic; variation, $15^{\circ} 24' 50''$ east.)

The said wood and timber reservation is covered by the United States land surveys, and embraces township 25 north, range 71 west, excepting the two school sections 16 and 36; and sections 5, 6, 7, and 8, in township 24 north, and sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 17, 18, 19, 20, 29, 30, 31, and 32, in township 25 north, both in range 70; and sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12, in township 24 north, range 71 west of the 6th principal meridian, Wyoming, embracing sixty-two square miles, or thirty-nine thousand six hundred and eighty acres, more or less.

J. M. SCHOFIELD,
Acting Secretary of War.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

CHAUNCEY McKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General.

Under Par. 1296 of the Regulations, officers may purchase at the foregoing prices such articles of equipage as they actually need, provided the property can be spared for the purpose.

Cork helmets are supplied to troops, in the first and third years of their enlistment, in lieu of the campaign hats. The necessity for such issue must be certified by the Department Commander.—Par. 1828, Regulations.

Arctic overshoes and woolen mittens when issued will be charged to the enlisted men at cost prices. The necessity for their issue must, however, be certified to by the Department and Division Commanders. The allowance for these articles is as follows:

Arctic overshoes, one pair in each of the first and third years of enlistment, and woolen mittens, two pairs per annum.—Para. 1813 and 1821, Regulations.

Overcoats made of fur or other suitable material will be issued and accounted for in the manner prescribed by Par. 1301 of the Regulations.

One fur cap and one pair of fur gauntlets will also be issued annually to all enlisted men in the Departments of the Platte, Dakota, and the Columbia, and in other departments, when specially authorized by the division commander, at the prices established for such articles in the annual price-list. Their money value will be charged on the clothing accounts of the men to whom they are issued, but will not be computed in their clothing allowances. These articles will be borne on the returns as clothing.—Par. 1302, Regulations as amended by G. O. 38, 1890.

Civilian employes may also purchase, at the prices given in this list, fur clothing, when in the opinion of Post Commanders their duties are such that they actually need them.—Par. 1303, Regulations.

Rubber blankets and ponchos may be issued gratuitously, at the rate of one per annum, to each enlisted man, until the stock on hand shall have become exhausted. (Decision of Secretary of War, May 21, 1889.)

Enlisted men may draw, whenever in the opinion of the proper officer it may be necessary, during their first year's enlistment, the two woolen blankets to which they are entitled during their service of five years. (G. O. No. 139, H. Q. A., 1884.)

Service chevrons (war or peace) are issued without charge.—Par. 1805, Regulations.

Canvas mittens and canvas blanket-lined caps. (See Pars. 1299, 1300, and 1822 of the Regulations.)

Leggings. (See Par. 1814 of the Regulations.)

Corn Brooms and Scrubbing-brushes.

To each company, without regard to its numerical strength, 3 corn brooms and 2 scrubbing-brushes per month, and to each Post bakery, 6 scrubbing-brushes per annum. (Par. 1304 of the Regulations, as amended by this order.)

To each public office and building furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, vis:

Post Commanders and Post Quartermaster offices, Quartermaster's warehouse, Post bakery, Post school, Post chapel, and Post library, six corn brooms per annum. Each officer of the Army is authorized to purchase six corn brooms and three scrubbing-brushes per annum at the prices specified in this order. (Par. 1305 and 1306 of the Regulations.)

Barrack Chairs.

One for each N. C. officer. (Par. 1069, Regulations.)

Six for every 12 enlisted men of all other grades. (Par. 1069, Regulations.)

See General Order No. 85, H. Q. A., 1889.

Allowance of Clothing to Chief Musicians same as to Quartermaster Sergeant. (See Section 1279, Revised Statutes.)

Sergeants of Ordnance have no clothing allowance. (See Section 1297, Revised Statutes.)

The money allowances of clothing for the first year's enlistment being, under the provisions of Par. 1291 of the Regulations as amended by G. O. No. 42, H. Q. A., 1890, allotted by half years, the date of the commencement of the first six months' allowance was fixed upon as April 1, 1890. The annual money allowance for clothing for enlisted men for the 2d, 3d, 4th, and 5th year's enlistment should be divided by two to obtain the semi-annual allowance. There is no monthly allowance. The money allowance tables give the daily proportion, estimating 365 days to the year, which should be used only for fractional periods less than the half year.

Under Par. 271 of the Regulations, each enlisted man is allowed, for the first year of every enlistment, the sum of five dollars for the purpose of having his clothing altered and fitted to his person. This sum is included in the first six months of the first year's allowance as published in the accompanying tables.

The annual money allowance of Band Sergeants and Band Musicians, authorized by Par. 237 of the Regulations, will be the same as that for Company Sergeants and privates of the respective arms from which they are detailed, and such articles of band uniforms, including music pouches, as do not form part of their annual clothing allowance to which they are authorized, may be issued, but not charged to them, except in case of loss or damage. The articles thus issued without charge, should, however, remain the property of the U. S.

Post Quartermaster Sergeants have the same allowance as Ordnance Sergeants. (See G. O. No. 65, H. Q. A., 1884.)

The annual money allowance of enlisted men, retired, is three-fourths of the average annual clothing allowance as prescribed in this order for an enlistment of five years. (See paragraph 136 of the Regulations.)

Hospital Stewards have the same allowance as Ordnance Sergeants. (See G. O. No. 29, H. Q. A., 1887.)

Acting Hospital Stewards and Privates of the Hospital Corps have the same allowance as a Corporal of the arm of service with which on duty. (See G. O. No. 68, H. Q. A., 1887.)

Enlisted men who, upon their enlistment, are furnished with overcoats having different cape linings than the arm of service to which they are finally assigned, will be furnished, without cost, with new linings, and the sum of $1.00 each for inserting said linings will be defrayed by the Quartermaster Department upon receipt of estimate of funds. (Cir. No. 6, H. Q. A., 1886.)

Indians employed as scouts, while in service, will receive the pay and allowances of Cavalry soldiers.—(Par. 577, Regs. as amended by G. O. 38, H. Q. A., 1890.)

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 62. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 17, 1890.

Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 57, Headquarters of the Army, current series, on the subject of contests for Army prizes for 1890, is amended to read as follows :

The contests for Army prizes provided for in paragraphs 603 and 604, Blunt's "Small-Arms Firing Regulations," will take place this year on the Wisconsin Rifle Range at Camp Douglas, Juneau County, Wisconsin, beginning on September 8th, and will be conducted by Lieutenant Colonel E. V. Sumner, 8th Cavalry.

The last clause of paragraph III of the order above named is amended to read as follows :

Each division commander will, in accordance with the rules prescribed in the firing regulations, select the number of competitors above designated and cause them to report to the commanding officer of the rifle camp at Camp Douglas, Juneau County, Wisconsin, on September 1st.

Paragraph IV of the order above named is amended to read as follows :

The commanding general Department of Dakota is charged with the arrangements of all necessary details during the meeting of the Army teams, and upon completion of the contests will order all connected therewith to return to their respective stations.

The travel required under this order is necessary for the public service.

Official information having been received that, through a misunderstanding, the wrong names of students at Union College, Schenectady, New York, were furnished the War Department and were published on page 391 of the Army Register for January 1, 1890, in the list of "students who stood highest in the military department at last commencement at universities, colleges, etc., having military instructors detailed from the Army," the following are, by direction of the Secretary of War, substituted, and published for the information of all concerned, as the names of the students who actually stood highest in the military department of that college at the time indicated, as reported by the professor of military science and tactics:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 19, 1890.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War the following detail is announced for the recruiting service for the period from October 1, 1890, to October 1, 1892:

Colonel Elwell S. Otis, 20th Infantry, will proceed to New York City and relieve Lieutenant Colonel John J. Copping, 18th Infantry, as superintendent of the recruiting service on October 1, 1890. On being thus relieved Lieutenant Colonel Copping will join his regiment.

One company officer (captain or 1st lieutenant) from the 1st, 8d, 5th, 7th, and 9th Cavalry, and the 1st, 8d, 5th, 7th, 9th, 11th, 18th, 17th, 21st, and 25th Infantry, will be selected by the respective regimental commanders actually with their regiments and ordered to report, in person, to the superintendent of the recruiting service, New York City, by October 1, 1890.

The superintendent will relieve officers of the above-named regiments of the expiring detail, in charge of rendezvous or at the depots, as those of the new detail report, and order them to join their companies.

The travel enjoined is necessary for the public service.

II.--As the reputation and usefulness of the Army depend in no small degree upon the character and qualifications of the men entering its ranks, it is necessary that the officers charged with the responsible duty of recruiting should fully appreciate its vital importance, as well as the fact that it is an arduous and exacting duty when conscientiously performed. No officer should be selected for it who has been for a protracted period on detached service, or who desires the detail merely to escape the restraints of discipline or the hardships and isolation of frontier service; nor should any officer be given the detail who is not known to be discriminating in judgment and painstaking, energetic, and efficient in the discharge of his military duties. Regimental commanders are enjoined to be guided solely by these considerations in making the required selections from their respective regiments.

III.--Recruiting officers are required to give close personal attention to all their duties, and every effort must be made to prevent the improper enlistment of minors, or of men of vicious or doubtful habits. The superintendent will see that the provisions of the Regulations in this respect are strictly enforced—paragraphs 908 (as amended by General Orders, No. 77, of 1889) and 909-912 of the Regulations.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 20, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1853, 1854, and 1858 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 11, February 7, 1890, from this office, are further amended to read as follows:

Guidons for cavalry.

1853. The flag of the guidon is swallow-tailed, 8 feet 5 inches fly from the lance to the end of the swallow-tail, and 2 feet 8 inches on the lance. To be cut swallow-tailed, 15 inches to the fork. To be made of silk, and to consist of two horizontal stripes, each one-half the width of the flag, the upper red and the lower white; the red to have on both sides in the center the number of the regiment in white silk, and the white to have the letter of troop in red silk; the letter and number to be block-shaped, $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches high, and held in place by a border of needle-work embroidery three-sixteenths of an inch wide, of same color. The lance to be $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter and 9 feet long, including spear and ferrule. To have a water-proof case or cover to protect the guidon when furled. This guidon will be used only on occasions of ceremony. There shall also be furnished to each troop of cavalry a guidon similar in every respect to the foregoing, except that it shall be made of bunting and other suitable material; to be used on drills, marches, campaigns, and all other service other than occasions of ceremony. This guidon will be known as the "service guidon."

Guidons for light artillery.

1854. The flag of the guidon is swallow-tailed, 8 feet 5 inches fly from the lance and 2 feet 8 inches on the lance, to be cut swallow-tailed, 15 inches to the fork. To be made of scarlet silk, and to bear in the center on both sides of the guidon two cannon crossing (about $14\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length), with the number of regiment above and letter of the battery below. The crossed cannon, letter, and number to be of yellow silk, and to be held in place by a border of needle-work embroidery three-sixteenths of an inch wide, of the same color. Letter and number to be block-shaped, $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches high. The lance to be $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter and 9 feet long, including spear and ferrule. To have a water-proof case or cover to protect the guidon when furled. This guidon will be used only on occasions of ceremony. There shall also be furnished to each light battery of artillery a guidon similar in every respect to the foregoing, except that it shall be made of bunting and other suitable material, to be used on drills, marches, campaigns, and all service other than occasions of ceremony. This guidon will be known as the "service guidon."

1858. The names of battles in which regiments, the Engineer Battalion, light batteries, and troops of cavalry shall have borne a meritorious part will be engraved upon silver rings, which will be fastened on the staves of the colors, guidons, or standards. The staffs of the service guidons shall, however, not be provided with these silver rings.

The portion of a regiment which must be engaged to entitle it to have these marks of honor engraved is that number of companies which, by tactics and regulations, is entitled, as a battalion, to carry the colors of the regiment. The inscription for the guidons of artillery and cavalry are not to include the honors to which the regiment is entitled, but those won separately by them when detached.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 66. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 24, 1890.

I.--The Major General Commanding communicates to the Army the following orders of the Secretary of War announcing the decease of the Honorable George W. McCrary:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, June 24, 1890.

ORDERS:

It is with great regret that the Secretary of War announces the death of the Honorable George W. McCrary, which occurred at St. Joseph, Missouri, on the 23d instant.

Judge McCrary was Secretary of War under President Hayes from March 12, 1877, to December 10, 1879, when he was appointed judge of the Eighth United States Circuit Court, and resigned his judicial office in 1884. He served for four terms in Congress, and in every position to which he was called rendered able and efficient service.

As a mark of respect to his memory, it is ordered that the War Department be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days, and all business be suspended therein on the day of the funeral.

REDFIELD PROCTOR,
Secretary of War.

II.--Upon the day after the receipt of this order at each military post seventeen guns will be fired at intervals of one-half hour, commencing at meridian.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 67. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 26, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 232 and 254 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 86, March 26, 1890, from this office, are further amended to read as follows:

232. The non-commissioned staff of a regiment is composed of the sergeant major and quartermaster sergeant, who are appointed by the Secretary of War on the recommendation of the regimental commander. They will be furnished with warrants signed by the Secretary of War and countersigned by the Adjutant General. The regimental commander appoints the regimental non-commissioned officers, consisting of the chief musician and principal musicians or chief trumpeter and saddler sergeant, according to arm, each of whom shall be furnished with a warrant of office signed by the commanding officer and countersigned by the adjutant. The non-commissioned staff and regimental non-commissioned officers may, upon their own application, be reduced to the ranks by order of the regimental commander or by the sentence of a court-martial, but they shall not be tried by a regimental or garrison court, unless by special permission of the department commander.

254. Non-commissioned officers may be reduced to the ranks by order of the commander of the regiment on their own application approved by the company commanders, or by the sentence of a court-martial, provided that sergeants shall not be tried by regimental or garrison courts-martial except by special permission of the department commander. If reduced to the ranks by sentence of garrison courts-martial at posts other than the headquarters of their regiment, the company commander will forward a transcript of the order to the regimental commander. The desertion of a non-commissioned officer shall vacate his appointment from the date of his desertion.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 27, 1890.

The following act of Congress is published for the information and government of all concerned :

An act to prevent desertions from the Army, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and ninety, there shall be retained from the pay of each enlisted man of the Army the sum of four dollars per month of his monthly pay for the first year of his enlistment, which said sum shall not be paid him until his discharge from the service, and shall be forfeited unless he serves honestly and faithfully to the date of discharge : Provided, That the Secretary of War shall determine what misconduct shall constitute a failure to render honest and faithful service within the meaning of this act ; but no soldier who has deserted at any time during the term of an enlistment shall be deemed to have served such term honestly and faithfully : Provided, also, That the sums retained from the monthly pay of enlisted men, in accordance with section one of this act and sections twelve hundred and eighty-one and twelve hundred and eighty-two of the Revised Statutes, shall be treated as deposits, upon which interest shall be paid as provided in sections thirteen hundred and five, thirteen hundred and six, thirteen hundred and seven, and thirteen hundred and eight of the Revised Statutes, the said sums to bear interest from the end of the year of the soldier's enlistment in which they shall have accrued.

SEC. 2. That enlistments shall continue to be made for five years, as now provided by law : Provided, That at the end of three years from the date of his enlistment every soldier whose antecedent service has been faithful shall be entitled to receive a furlough for three months, and that in time of peace he shall at the end of such furlough be entitled to receive his discharge upon his own application : Provided further, That soldiers discharged under the provisions of this section shall not be entitled to the allowances provided in section twelve hundred and ninety of the Revised Statutes.

SEC. 3. That United States marshals and their deputies, sheriffs and their deputies, constables, and police officers of towns and cities are hereby authorized to apprehend, arrest, and receive the surrender of any deserter from the Army for the purpose of delivering him to any person in the military service authorized to receive him.

SEC. 4. That in time of peace the President may, in his discretion and under such rules and upon such conditions as he shall prescribe, permit any enlisted man to purchase his discharge from the Army. The purchase money to be paid under this section shall be paid to a paymaster of the Army and be deposited in the Treasury to the credit of one or more of the current appropriations for the support of the Army, to be indicated by the Secretary of War, and be available for the payment of expenses incurred during the fiscal year in which the discharge is made.

SEC. 5. That the Army ration now provided by law shall be increased by the addition thereto of one pound of vegetables, the proportion to be fixed by the Secretary of War.

Approved, June 16, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following agreement, providing for the reciprocal crossing of the international boundary line by the troops of the United States and the Republic of Mexico in pursuit of hostile Indians, is published for the information and government of all concerned :

Agreement entered into in behalf of their respective governments, by James G. Blaine, Secretary of State of the United States of America, and Matias Romero, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United Mexican States, providing for the reciprocal crossing of the international boundary line by the troops of their respective governments, in pursuit of savage hostile Indians, under the conditions hereinafter stated.

ARTICLE I.

It is agreed that the regular federal troops of the two Republics may reciprocally cross the boundary line of the two countries, when they are in close pursuit of a band of hostile savage Indians, upon the conditions stated in the following articles :

ARTICLE II.

It is understood for the purpose of this agreement, that no Indian scouts of the Government of the United States of America shall be allowed to cross the boundary line, unless they go as guides and trailers, unarmed, and not exceeding in any case, two scouts for each company or each separate command.

ARTICLE III.

The reciprocal crossing agreed upon in Article I, shall only occur in the unpopulated or desert parts of said boundary line. For the purpose of this agreement the unpopulated or desert parts are defined to be all those points which are at least ten kilometers distant from any encampment or town of either country.

ARTICLE IV.

No crossing of troops of either country shall take place from Capitan Leal, a town on the Mexican side of the Rio Bravo, eighty-four kilometers (52 English miles) above Piedras Negras, to the mouth of the Rio Grande.

ARTICLE V.

The commander of the troops which cross the frontier in pursuit of Indians, shall, at the time of crossing, or before if possible, give notice of his march to the nearest military commander, or civil authority, of the country whose territory he enters.

ARTICLE VI.

The pursuing force shall retire to its own territory as soon as it shall have fought the band of which it is in pursuit, or have lost its trail. In no case shall the forces of the two countries, respectively, establish themselves or remain in the foreign territory, for any time longer than is necessary to make the pursuit of the band whose trail they follow.

ARTICLE VII.

The abuses which may be committed by the forces which cross into the territory of the other nation, shall be punished by the government to which the forces belong, according to the gravity of the offence and in conformity with its laws, as if the abuses had been committed in its own territory, the said government being further under obligation to withdraw the guilty parties from the frontier.

ARTICLE VIII.

In the case of offences which may be committed by the inhabitants of the one country against the foreign forces which may be within its limits, the government of said country shall only be responsible to the government of the other for denial of justice in the punishment of the guilty.

ARTICLE IX.

This being a provisional agreement it shall remain in force until both governments negotiate a definite one, and may be terminated by either government upon four months notice to the other to that effect; but in no case shall this agreement remain in force for more than one year from this date.

ARTICLE X.

The Senate of the United Mexican States, having authorized the President to conclude the present agreement, it shall have its effect from this date.

In testimony whereof we have interchangeably signed this agreement this 25th day of June, 1890.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 11, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 886, 1408, 1406, and 1418 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows:

886. Purchases will ordinarily be made by the officer in charge of the canteen, but contracts for such articles as it may be deemed advisable to procure in considerable quantities are to be entered into, with the approval of the commanding officer, by the canteen council. In no case shall orders for goods, however small, be given by the enlisted attendants of the canteen to the person furnishing the supplies. Articles of subsistence stores purchased for sale in the canteen will be sold in quantities smaller than can be sold by the Subsistence Department without breaking small packages. No profit will be charged on such sales beyond the fractions of cents that are necessary in making change.

1408. Post commanders will make such rules regarding sales of subsistence stores as they may deem necessary to economize labor and secure accuracy in delivering and accounting for them. Sales to enlisted men will be made whenever the Subsistence Department is opened for sales. Subsistence supplies sold to officers and enlisted men and employes are for the use of purchasers, and must not be sold or bartered by them.

1406. Officers of the Army and contract and veterinary surgeons may purchase from the Subsistence Department subsistence stores, except forage for beef-cattle, paying therefor cost price, on their certificate that the stores are for the personal or family use of the purchaser, or for the use of an officers' mess of which he is the caterer. Reasonable quantities of subsistence stores shall, in like manner, be sold to an enlisted man, for cash, upon his declaration, in writing, that they are intended for his own use. A company, detachment, hospital, or canteen may purchase in like manner, and at the same rates, upon the certificate of the officer commanding the company or detachment, or in charge of the hospital or canteen, that the stores are necessary for the exclusive use of such company, detachment, hospital, or canteen. Sales to officers will be reported on the abstract of sales to officers; those to enlisted men, and to companies, detachments, hospitals, and canteens, on the abstract of sales to enlisted men. The commanding officer will compare the certificates and permits with the commissary's abstract of sales, and if correct will so certify.

1413. Subsistence stores shall be sold on credit to enlisted men on written permits (Form No. 64), signed by their respective company commanders; but such permits shall not be given to any enlisted man in excess of the amount of unincumbered pay due him, nor in any month in excess of the amount of his monthly pay.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 577 and 1791 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 88, March 28, 1890, from this office, are further amended to read as follows :

577. Indians employed as scouts under the provisions of sections 1094 and 1112, Revised Statutes, will be enlisted for periods not exceeding six months, and while in service will receive the pay and allowances of cavalry soldiers. In case of their re-enlistment, the money allowance for clothing shall, however, be that of the second half-year for enlisted men of cavalry, and in case of further re-enlistments, that of the subsequent years of a five years' enlistment of cavalry soldiers. They will also receive an additional allowance of forty cents per day, provided they furnish their own horses and horse equipments ; but should their horses or equipments become unfit for use, so that they shall not be sufficiently mounted for the duties required of them, such additional allowance shall cease until they are again properly mounted and equipped.

1791. Top boots for all mounted officers.—According to patterns in the office of the Quartermaster General, to be worn on all mounted duty ; provided, however, that all mounted officers, except those of cavalry and mounted artillery, may, on all occasions, when not otherwise directed by the post commander or other superior authority, exercise their discretion as to the duty on which the boots are to be worn.

By direction of the Secretary of War the accompanying order of the Postmaster General, fixing the rates of charges for telegraphic communications for the current fiscal year, is published for the information of the Army.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

CHAUNCEY McKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL:

Assistant Adjutant General.

RATES OF PAY FOR COMMUNICATIONS BY TELEGRAPH.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,

Washington, D. C., June 21, 1890.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Postmaster General by the act of Congress entitled "An act to aid in the construction of telegraph lines, and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military, and other purposes," approved July 24, 1866, and by the Revised Statutes of the United States, title LXV, I hereby fix the rates at which such communications as the said statutes prescribe (not including those passing over circuits established by the Chief Signal Officer of the Army) shall be sent during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1890, and terminating June 30, 1891, by the several companies within the effect of said statutes, as follows:

For day messages containing not more than ten words exclusive of place from, date, address, and signature, ten (10) cents for all distances not exceeding four hundred (400) miles, and one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) cent for each word in excess of ten words; all distances being arbitrarily determined by the method hereinafter stated.

For distances so determined exceeding four hundred (400) miles and not exceeding one thousand miles fifteen (15) cents for the first ten words counted as above provided, and three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of one cent for each word in excess of ten words.

For all distances exceeding one thousand miles there shall be added to the price of the message fixed for distances over 400 and under 1,000 miles the sum of $\frac{1}{2}$ cent for each word counted as above provided.

In cases where the price of a message determined as herein provided shall include a fraction of a cent such fraction if less than one-half is to be disregarded; if one-half or more it is to be counted as one cent. This applies only to single messages, and the totals of bills containing two or more items.

For night messages of not exceeding twenty (20) words, exclusive of place from, date, address, and signature, fifteen (15) cents for all distances, and one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) cent for each additional word.

Instead of computing the actual distances of transmission, the distance for payment shall in all cases be taken absolutely to be the number of miles between the capital of the State or Territory, or from the city of Washington, if from within the District of Columbia, from within which (whatever the place) the message is sent, and the capital of the State or Territory, or the city of Washington, if within the District of Columbia, within which (whatever the place) the message is received, as shown in the accompanying table, wherein such distances are given as computed upon the shortest practicable route between such capitals, and which is to be taken as part of this order; provided, that if the message be sent and received within the same State, Territory, or said District of Columbia, the distance for payment shall be taken absolutely to be the minimum distance of four hundred miles.

But it is provided that, if at any time during the year ending June 30, 1891, any such company shall charge the public for a message of ten (10) body words a less rate than is herein fixed for a like number of body words, the rates herein prescribed shall, as to such company thenceforth during the year, be reduced to the rates so charged to the public.

The rate for all messages in cipher, known as the Signal Service Weather Report, is hereby fixed at not exceeding two and one-half (2½) cents for each word sent over each circuit as now or hereafter established by the Chief Signal Officer of the Army; all messages sent over a circuit being dropped at all designated offices therein without additional charge.

The statutes provide that telegrams between the several departments of the Government and their officers and agents, in their transmission over the lines of any such company, shall have priority over all other business. All officers of the United States sending such telegrams should indorse thereon the words "Official business," and should report to the Postmaster General any failure to transmit them in such priority and any charge made in excess of the rates above prescribed.

Each company will be allowed to charge for messages received from another line at the same rate as if received from the Government direct at the point of transfer for transmission over its own line.

JOHN WANAMAKER,
Postmaster General.

Telegraph companies which have accepted the conditions of the act of July 24, 1866, and which are subject to the provisions of the order of the Postmaster General fixing Government rates.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 76.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 21, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the enlisted men of Companies I and K of each regiment of infantry will be transferred to other companies of the same regiment, the non-commissioned officers being attached for duty until vacancies occur, when they will be permanently assigned to the companies where such vacancies then exist. These transfers will be made by department commanders and duly reported to the Adjutant General of the Army. As far as practicable the transfers will be made to companies serving at the same post, and, in any event, so as to involve the least practicable cost for transportation.

All instructions heretofore given limiting the number of enlisted men for a company of infantry are hereby suspended until further orders.

Officers on duty with Companies I and K will be transferred to other companies from which officers are absent, either on detached service or on prolonged leave, and officers so absent will be transferred to Companies I and K. These transfers will be made in orders from the Adjutant General's Office.

The records of Companies I and K will be sent to the respective regimental headquarters for preservation, and in order that they may be kept complete.

In the execution of this order department commanders will also order such movements of troops as will result, so far as practicable, in the withdrawal of garrisons from posts heretofore ordered to be abandoned.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

SAM'L BRECK,
Acting Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL :

Assistant Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 77.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 22, 1890.

The Secretary of War having approved the following transfers of troops, they are hereby directed ; the movements to commence as soon as practicable :

I.--The 6th Infantry, serving in the Division of the Missouri, to the Division of the Atlantic ; headquarters and Companies F and G to the new post at Newport, Kentucky ; Company E to Newport Barracks, Kentucky ; and Company A to Fort Wood, New York Harbor.

Upon the arrival of Company E, Captain William M. Wherry, to be transferred thereto, will assume command of it.

The movements will be by rail, with such marching for Companies A and E, now at Fort Lewis, Colorado, as may be necessary to reach the rail station.

The remaining companies of the regiment will continue in their present department until quarters for them shall have been provided in the Division of the Atlantic, when further instructions, from these headquarters, will be given.

II.--In connection with paragraph IV, General Orders, No. 22, March 6, 1890, from this office, the headquarters and five companies of the 15th Infantry are assigned for station at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. Two companies, to be selected by the commanding general Department of Dakota, will proceed thereto by rail, to relieve the companies of the 6th Infantry. The headquarters and remaining companies to move under future instructions from these headquarters.

III.--Company B, 11th Infantry, will proceed, by rail, for station at Madison Barracks, New York, as may be directed by the commanding general Division of the Atlantic, upon the arrival at Fort Wood, New York, of Company A, 6th Infantry.

IV.--The respective division commanders will, through concert of action when necessary, give such additional directions as may be required, and arrange all further details with due regard to economy and the comfort of officers and men.

V.--As far as practicable all regimental, company, and the authorized allowance of officers' baggage will be shipped by rail from initial points to the new stations of the different detachments of each regiment.

VI.--The transportation required by this order, after due proposals from the lines interested, will be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, and the cost of each movement reported to the Quartermaster General as soon as known.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 78. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 25, 1890.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War the following proportions are fixed for issues by the Subsistence Department of the pound of vegetables added to the ration by section 5, act of June 16, 1890, viz :

1. One hundred per cent. in fresh potatoes ; or
2. Eighty per cent. in fresh potatoes and twenty per cent. in fresh onions ; or
3. Seventy per cent. in fresh potatoes and thirty per cent. in canned tomatoes, or in such fresh vegetables as can be procured in the vicinity of the station, or which it may be practicable to furnish from a distance in wholesome condition ; such as onions, cabbages, beets, turnips, carrots, and squash.

II.--Requisitions will state under which of the three proportions prescribed by paragraph I they are prepared, and will specify which of the articles are required and the quantity of each ; and in preparing them the preferences of the troops will be considered as far as climate, resources of the vicinity, transportation facilities, and season may render practicable.

III.--The attention of post commanders is called, in this connection, to paragraphs 1344 and 1345 of the Regulations ; and they are enjoined to see that timely requisitions are made, and that they are accompanied by the detailed statements required by paragraph 1344 of the Regulations.

IV.--Savings of these articles by companies, &c., will not be purchased by the Subsistence Department.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 25, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the enlisted men of Troops L and M of each regiment of cavalry will be transferred to other troops of the same regiment, the non-commissioned officers being attached for duty until vacancies occur, when they will be permanently assigned to the troops where such vacancies then exist. These transfers will be made by department commanders and duly reported to the Adjutant General of the Army. As far as practicable the transfers will be made to troops serving at the same post, and, in any event, so as to involve the least practicable cost for transportation.

All instructions heretofore given limiting the number of enlisted men for a troop of cavalry are hereby suspended until further orders.

Officers on duty with Troops L and M will be transferred to other troops from which officers are absent, either on detached service or on prolonged leave, and officers so absent will be transferred to Troops L and M. These transfers will be made in orders from the Adjutant General's Office.

The records of Troops L and M will be sent to the respective regimental headquarters for preservation, and in order that they may be kept complete, and continued.

The respective department commanders will give the necessary orders for the transfers of horses, equipments, and arms.

In the execution of this order department commanders will also order such movements of troops as will result, so far as practicable, in the withdrawal of garrisons from posts heretofore ordered to be abandoned.

GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 80.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY.
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 26, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following rules, under section 2 of the act of Congress approved June 16, 1890, providing for furlough and discharge of certain soldiers, are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

1. Every soldier who on June 16, 1890, had served three years or less, and every soldier enlisted subsequently to that date, shall, upon his own application, be furloughed by the department commander for a period not to exceed three months, so dated that the furlough shall expire not later than the last day of the third month following the end of the third year of enlistment ; provided that service antecedent to the date of furlough has been faithful.

2. Every soldier who on June 16, 1890, had served three years or less, and every soldier enlisted subsequently to that date, shall, upon his own application, by order of the department commander, be discharged on the last day of the third month following the end of the third year of enlistment ; provided that service antecedent to the date of discharge has been faithful.

3. A soldier absent on furlough may be discharged under the provisions of paragraph 2 of this order ; in which event the proper officer shall prepare the necessary discharge certificate and final statements, and transmit the same to the soldier by registered mail. Payments thereon shall be made under regulations to be prescribed by the Paymaster General, and in such manner as to insure the most expeditious settlement.

4. Soldiers discharged as herein provided are not entitled to the travel allowances described in section 1290 of the Revised Statutes ; and they shall not be eligible to again enlist in the Army for one year from the date of discharge.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 26, 1890.

The following rules, prescribed by the President under section 4 of the act of Congress approved June 16, 1890, providing for the discharge of enlisted men from the Army by purchase, are, by direction of the Secretary of War, published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

1. Discharge by purchase shall be confined to the second and third years of the first enlistment, and any enlisted man so serving may apply to the War Department therefor, through the military channel, inclosing with application the following amount of money, which shall be retained by the commanding officer until final action upon the application, viz.: During the first month of the second year $120, and thereafter $5 less per month for each succeeding month until the end of the third year.

2. Enlisted men who have served ten years or more, continuously or otherwise, shall be classified as veteran soldiers, and discharge granted thereto from the War Department by way of favor, so far as the interests of the service will admit, or the merits of each case justify. The purpose being to extend all possible indulgence to meritorious men, especially in cases where a discharge would obviously be for the material benefit of the soldier.

8. Soldiers discharged as herein provided shall not receive the travel allowances described in section 1290 of the Revised Statutes ; and they shall not be eligible to again enlist in the Army for one year from the date of discharge.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
 No. 82. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 Washington, July 29, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1474, 54, 963, 1589, and 1827 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

1474. When an officer who is under orders to change station takes advantage of a leave of absence subsequently granted, and before he joins his new station, he is not deprived of the travel allowances to which he would be entitled had he not availed himself of the leave. The leave of absence merely suspends the execution of the order for change of station, and at the expiration of the leave the officer comes under the operation of said order, and in obeying it is entitled to full pay for the time necessary to perform the journey from his old station to his new one.

54. A leave of absence commences on the day following that on which the officer departs from his proper station. The expiration of his leave must find him at his post, except as indicated in paragraph 1474 of the Regulations. A leave of absence granted to an officer in the field, or on special duty, shall take effect on the termination of the campaign, or the completion of such duty, unless, in the opinion of the department commander, his services can be sooner spared, when it will take effect at such time as the department commander may direct. In all other cases, an officer is expected to avail himself of a leave so soon as proper facilities offer, unless a specific date is stated in the order. If unable to do so, the fact will be reported to the authority granting the leave.

963. Inspectors will mention in their reports the remedies, if any, that have been applied by post and company commanders to correct irregularities that have been brought to their notice. They will also note specifically what action has been taken upon irregularities to which attention has been drawn by previous inspectors. Superior commanders, in forwarding the reports, will state thereon, in marginal notes, the action which they have taken, and will add such remarks for the information of the General Commanding the Army as they may deem pertinent.

1589. In the field, or in time of war, each member of the Hospital Corps shall carry upon his person a canteen of water, a knife of approved pattern, and a package of dressings ; and one-fourth of the privates shall carry dressing-cases. Each company bearer shall carry a field tourniquet and a package of dressings.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, August 8, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War General Orders, No. 70, of 1889, from this office, is amended to read as follows :

The following-named musical instruments will be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department to all duly authorized bands of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 240 of the Regulations :

D b piccolo, terz, and concert flutes ; E b cornet ; B b cornets ; E b clarionets ; B b clarionets ; E b altos ; B b trombones (valve or slide) ; B b baritone ; E b basses ; bass-drum ; snare-drum ; cymbals ; and triangle.

In making requisition for instruments selections will be confined to the foregoing list.

As none but instruments of standard quality are procured, the requisitions should not call for any particular make.

Each instrument will have a music-lyre, and all will be provided with suitable bags, except cornets and clarionets, which will be in cases.

Pads for piccolos, flutes, and clarionets ; extra springs for altos, trombones, baritones, cornets, and basses ; reeds for clarionets ; and music stands will also be furnished.

The following order has been received from the War Department :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, August 8, 1890.

By direction of the President the following changes of and assignments to command are ordered to take effect September 1st, next :

1st. Brigadier General John Gibbon will relieve Major General Nelson A. Miles, in command of the Department of California and of the Division of the Pacific, consisting of the Departments of California and the Columbia.

2d. Major General Nelson A. Miles is assigned to the command of the Division of the Missouri, comprising the Departments of Dakota and the Platte.

3d. Brigadier General Alexander McD. McCook is assigned to the command of the Department of Arizona, with headquarters at Santa Fé, New Mexico.

4th. The commanding generals of the Departments of the Missouri, Texas, and Arizona will report directly to Headquarters of the Army.

5th. So much of the State of California as now belongs to the Department of Arizona is transferred to the Department of California.

The State of Illinois is transferred from the Department of the Missouri to the Division of the Missouri. Troops serving in that State will report directly to division headquarters.

The District of New Mexico is discontinued. The posts in that district will report directly to department headquarters.

The journeys required in complying with this order are necessary for the public service.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 86. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, August 9, 1890.

The Secretary of War having approved the following transfers of troops to the Infantry and Cavalry School and post of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, they are hereby directed; the movements to commence as soon as practicable:

I.--Colonel Edwin F. Townsend, 12th Infantry, is assigned to the command of the Infantry and Cavalry School, and of the post of Fort Leavenworth.

The headquarters, band, and one company of that regiment to be selected by the colonel with the approval of the department commander, will also proceed for station to Fort Leavenworth; this change to take effect on or about September 1st.

The movements will be by rail and water.

II.--Cavalry: Troops I, 5th Regiment, and C, 9th Regiment.

Infantry: Companies H, 7th Regiment; F, 18th Regiment; and H, 14th Regiment.

In changing the stations of the foregoing indicated troops and companies, the number of enlisted men in the respective organizations who will move with them is hereby limited to thirty for a troop of cavalry, and twenty-five for a company of infantry; provided that no enlisted man shall be sent to Fort Leavenworth who has less than two years to serve, unless he shall declare his intention to re-enlist.

The remaining enlisted strength of the organizations will, as far as practicable, be transferred, by department commanders, to troops and companies serving at the same post, and, in any event, so as to involve the least practicable cost for transportation. All applications from said men for transfer to other organizations at the same post, will be granted.

Horses and equipments for the transferred enlisted men of Troops I, 5th Cavalry, and C, 9th Cavalry, will be sent with them from their present stations to Fort Leavenworth.

The movements will be by rail, with such marching to rail stations as may be necessary.

III.--Upon the arrival of the incoming organizations at Fort Leavenworth, the enlisted men, and the officers for whom there may be vacancies, of Troops M, 5th Cavalry; L, 9th Cavalry; and Companies K, 7th Infantry; K, 13th Infantry; and I, 14th Infantry, will be transferred conformably with the requirements of General Orders, Nos. 76 and 79, current series, from this office. Lieutenants for whom there may not be vacancies in the incoming organizations will be attached to them until further orders.

IV.--The respective division commanders will, through concert of action when necessary, give such additional directions as may be required, and arrange all further details with due regard to economy and the comfort of officers and men.

V.--As far as practicable all company, and the authorized allowance of officers' baggage will be shipped by rail from initial points to the new station.

VI.--The transportation required by this order, after due proposals from the lines interested, will be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, and the cost of each movement reported to the Quartermaster General as soon as known.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1710 and 1711 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

1710. When practicable, these depots will be under the charge of an ordnance officer, and only such limited supplies of ordnance stores as may be required to meet emergencies with troops serving in the field will be kept at or issued from these depots. All other ordnance stores for the posts and troops of a department will be supplied from the arsenals, as provided in paragraph 1707 of the Regulations. All repairable ordnance stores which cannot be put in serviceable condition by the troops will be sent to the nearest arsenal for repairs.

1711. Requisitions for ordnance supplies, to meet emergencies, will be filled from such depot upon order of the commanding general, or otherwise as he may direct. The officer in charge will be responsible, under the commanding general, that sufficient stores, procured by timely requisitions upon the Chief of Ordnance, are always on hand to meet probable wants. Unserviceable and unsuitable ordnance and ordnance stores at such depots, being no longer of service to the troops, nor issuable under orders of the department commander, return to the condition of ordnance property, under the control of the Chief of Ordnance, and are disposed of as directed by the Secretary of War. Inspections of such property are made by ordnance officers, and the reports sent direct to the Chief of Ordnance for the action of the Secretary of War.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

The term "accepted recruit," in paragraph II, General Orders, No. 33, April 1, 1889, from this office, is held to apply only to men who have been accepted and duly sworn into the service of the United States, and their outline figure-cards should not be forwarded until after an enlistment or re-enlistment is thus completed.

The purpose to be served by these cards is the identification of deserters ; they should, therefore, after notation of place and date of enlistment and the station whence they are forwarded (with date), be sent direct to the Surgeon General.

The record should show not only existing marks and scars, but such peculiarities either of feature or habit as will enable the War Department to distinguish between the individual and other men of the same height, color of eyes, &c.

If, after careful search, no mark or scar is found, the fact should be noted upon both front and back of card ; likewise, if marks are found upon the front and none upon the rear, or vice versa, the entry "no marks" should be made upon the appropriate side of the card.

When no marks can be found it is especially important that some characteristic of the individual be recorded, such as the absence of certain teeth, specifying those that are absent ; any marked peculiarity of the nose—Roman, straight, turned up, &c. ; of the eyebrows—scant, bushy, meeting over the root of the nose, &c. ; or other noteworthy features of the man, such as nails habitually bitten to the quick, certain toes overriding, &c.

It is the desire of the department that the outline figure-card shall, whenever possible, be made by a physician ; when this is not possible, it should be made by the enlisting officer.

The following act of Congress is published for the information and government of all concerned :

An act making appropriations for fortifications and other works of defense, for the armament thereof, for the procurement of heavy ordnance for trial and service, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sums of money herein provided for be, and the same are hereby, appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be available until expended, namely :

PRESERVATION AND REPAIR OF FORTIFICATIONS : For the protection, preservation, and repair of fortifications for which there may be no special appropriations available, eighty thousand dollars.

For preparation of plans for fortifications, five thousand dollars.

For repair and preservation of Fort Marion, Florida, and for construction of sea-wall to preserve the site, fifteen thousand dollars.

For completing sea-wall at Governor's Island, New York Harbor, fifty thousand dollars.

TORPEDOES FOR HARBOR DEFENSE : For the purchase of submarine mines and necessary appliances to operate them for closing the channels leading to our principal seaports, one hundred thousand dollars.

For needful casemates and cable galleries to render it possible to operate submarine mines, one hundred thousand dollars.

For continuing torpedo experiments and for practical instruction of engineer troops in the details of the service, thirty thousand dollars.

PURCHASE OF MACHINE GUNS : For the purchase of machine guns, musket caliber, of American manufacture, twenty thousand dollars.

For the following, to be expended under the direct supervision of the Board of Ordnance and Fortification, created by the fortification appropriation act approved September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, and in the manner prescribed by said act, namely :

GUN AND MORTAR BATTERIES : For construction of gun and mortar batteries for defense of Boston Harbor, two hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars ; New York, seven hundred and twenty-six thousand dollars ; San Francisco, two hundred and sixty thousand dollars ; in all, one million two hundred and twenty-one thousand dollars.

For the procurement of land, or right pertaining thereto, needed for the sight, location, construction, or prosecution of works, for fortifications and coast defenses, five hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and hereafter the Secretary of War may cause proceedings to be instituted, in the name of the United States, in any court having jurisdiction of such proceedings, for the acquirement, by condemnation, of any land, or right pertaining thereto, needed for the sight, location, construction, or prosecution of works for fortifications and coast defenses, such proceedings to be prosecuted in accordance with the laws relating to suits for the condemnation of property of the States wherein the proceedings may be instituted: Provided, That when the owner of such land or rights pertaining thereto shall fix a price for the same, which, in the opinion of the Secretary of War, shall be reasonable, he may purchase the same at such price without further delay: Provided further, That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to accept on behalf of the United States donations of lands or rights pertaining thereto required for the above-mentioned purposes: And provided further, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize an expenditure, or to involve the Government in any contract or contracts for the future payment of money, in excess of the sums appropriated therefor.

ARMAMENT OF FORTIFICATIONS: For the manufacture (finishing and assembling) of eight-inch, ten-inch, and twelve-inch steel sea-coast guns from forgings procured under fortification act of September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, seventy thousand dollars.

For completing the manufacture (finishing and assembling) of three and six-tenths-inch, five-inch, and seven-inch steel field and siege cannon from forgings procured under fortification act of March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, thirty-six thousand dollars, together with the unexpended balance of the appropriation of fourteen thousand dollars made for this object by the fortification appropriation act approved March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine.

That contracts shall be invited by the Secretary of War by proper notice and publication for the manufacture (finishing and assembling) of eight-inch, ten-inch, and twelve-inch steel sea-coast guns from forgings procured under fortification act of September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, and if private parties shall offer to finish, assemble, and deliver any of such guns in proper condition for use as completed guns, at a price fair to the Government, the necessary contracts shall be entered into by the Secretary for that purpose, and to carry into effect this provision the sum of two hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated: Provided, That the finishing and assembling of not over fifty per centum of each caliber of such forgings shall be thus contracted for: Provided further, That all contracts made hereunder shall be so made as to fully protect the Government against all loss or damage which may result from imperfect work, the fault of the contractor, and the work done hereunder shall be subject to inspection at every stage.

For steel field-guns of three and two-tenths-inch caliber, twenty-five thousand dollars.

For breech-loading rifled sea-coast mortars, cast-iron, hooped with steel, of twelve-inch caliber, four hundred thousand dollars: Provided, That contracts may be made for not more than one-fourth of the mortars herein provided for, to be constructed on the Pacific coast in the discretion of the Secretary of War.

For sights and implements for guns and for fuzes, two thousand dollars.

For metallic carriages for field-gun batteries, one hundred and forty-three thousand one hundred and thirty-five dollars.

For alteration of existing carriages for ten-inch and fifteen-inch smooth-bore guns to adapt them to present service conditions, one hundred thousand dollars.

For carriages for breech-loading rifled mortars of twelve-inch caliber, procured under the fortification act of September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

For powder for proving sea-coast mortars of twelve-inch caliber, procured under the fortification act of September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, and for testing projectiles, ten thousand dollars.

For steel shell or shrapnel for field guns, twelve thousand dollars, and for cast-iron projectiles for field, siege, and sea-coast guns, twenty-four thousand five hundred dollars for issues to the service; in all, thirty-six thousand five hundred dollars.

For cast-iron projectiles for proving sea-coast mortars of twelve-inch caliber, procured under the fortification act of September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, ten thousand dollars.

For steel shell for sea-coast cannon, twenty-five thousand dollars.

For steel armor-piercing projectiles for sea-coast guns, one hundred thousand dollars.

For purchase and erection of armor plate for testing armor-piercing projectiles, twenty-four thousand dollars.

ARMY GUN FACTORY: For machinery and plant for the manufacture of steel shell or shrapnel for field-guns, five thousand dollars.

For machinery to complete the full capacity of present gun factory building at Watervliet Arsenal, West Troy, New York, one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars.

For construction of a building for wash-rooms, closets, and sinks for the operatives of the gun factory, twelve thousand dollars.

For increase of machinery and plant for manufacture of projectiles, and for castings needed in current work of gun fabrication at army gun factory, sixteen thousand dollars.

For erection and completion of a fire-proof brick office building for the army gun factory, Watervliet Arsenal, New York, twenty-three thousand dollars.

For railroad sidings, switches, and weighing scale at the army gun factory, Watervliet Arsenal, New York, two thousand eight hundred dollars.

For one hundred and fifty horse-power steam-engine and shafting for machine-shop at the army gun factory, Watervliet Arsenal, New York, three thousand five hundred dollars.

For boring and turning lathes, rifling machine, and eighty-ton traveling-crane fully equipped for the manufacture of twelve-inch guns, at Watervliet Arsenal, New York, three hundred and twenty thousand dollars.

That all material purchased under the foregoing provisions of this act shall be of American manufacture: Provided, That from the appropriation of twenty thousand dollars made in the fortification appropriation act, approved March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, for conducting the annual heavy artillery practice of the Army, the Secretary of War may in his discretion authorize purchase of such instruments as may be necessary from abroad, whenever the same are not produced in this country.

That the President is hereby authorized to appoint a board to consist of three officers of the Army, one of engineers, one of artillery, and one of ordnance, not below the rank of lieutenant-colonel, who shall inquire into the facilities for producing steel forgings for high-power guns at or near the Pacific coast; and in the vicinity of the Rock Island Arsenal, and in the vicinity of the Indianapolis Arsenal, and at some point on or near the Gulf coast, and the advisability of erecting gun factories for finishing and assembling high-power guns, to be mounted in fortifications, at the Benicia Arsenal, in California, or at the Rock Island Arsenal, or at the Indianapolis Arsenal, or at some point on or near the Gulf coast.

Said board shall also examine and report as to the capacity, cost of erection, and equipment of each of such gun factories.

For the payment of the necessary expenses of said board, three thousand dollars.

BOARD OF ORDNANCE AND FORTIFICATION: To enable the Board of Ordnance and Fortification to purchase abroad, for experimental purposes, such articles of foreign manufacture as are not produced in this country, and which are necessary in order that the board may determine what may be best and worthy of adoption and manufacture in the United States, one hundred thousand dollars.

For the necessary expenses of the board, as provided for in the last clause of section six of the act approved September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, five thousand dollars.

To enable the necessary experiments to be made to test the value thereof, including the purchase of material and construction where necessary, of pneumatic gun-carriages, segmental guns, and high explosives, fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary. And the Secretary of War, through the medium of the Board of Ordnance and Fortification, under the appropriation made by section six of the fortification act, approved September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, shall have authority if he deems it expedient, to test and purchase a recoil-operated infantry small arm of thirty caliber, with proper character and amount of ammunition, such ammunition to consist of the compound accelerating cartridge; and also to test and purchase one light rapid fire, rapid twist six-pounder breech loading field gun mounted upon a disappearing shielded field gun carriage, with proper amount of ammunition therefor, consisting of said accelerating cartridge, and also to test one retiring sea-coast defense carriage. And the last paragraph of "An act making appropriations for the support of the Army for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety, and for other purposes," approved March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, is hereby so amended as to authorize the use, if the Secretary of War deems it expedient, of a six-inch breech-loading rifled cannon of new pattern in the test of the counterpoise battery therein provided for, and the appropriation is hereby continued for the purposes of such test for the fiscal year eighteen hundred and ninety-one.

SEC. 2. That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized and directed to purchase under contract, after due advertisement inviting proposals, and at prices which the Board of Ordnance and Fortification shall adjudge to be fair to the manufacturer and for the interest of the United States, twenty-five eight-inch, fifty ten-inch, and twenty-five twelve-inch guns, all of which guns shall be breech loading single-charge steel guns, and of weight and dimensions to be prescribed by the Board, and shall fulfill the conditions hereinafter provided: Provided, That if two or more persons, citizens of the United States, submit proposals to furnish said guns, either in part or in whole, at prices not materially different from each other, contracts may be awarded, in such proportion, among the citizens submitting such proposals as the Secretary of War may direct. One type gun of each of the above-mentioned caliber, with the proper supply of ammunition therefor, shall be presented for test at such place and within such time as the contract shall provide, and shall be subjected to such tests in respect to accuracy, range, power, endurance, and general efficiency as the Board of Ordnance and Fortification shall have prescribed. All the other guns of each caliber, with the proper supply of ammunition, shall be delivered at such place and within such times as the contract shall provide, and shall be subjected to the ordinary service test of ten rounds with the full charge and weight of projectile, which shall develop the standard power prescribed for the gun. If the type gun sustains the prescribed test to the satisfaction of the Board of Ordnance and Fortification, it and each of the other guns which sustains the ordinary service test, and the ammunition expended in such tests, shall be accepted under the contract. All guns manufactured under these contracts, including the type guns, shall be subjected to inspection at all stages of manufacture, and no change whatever shall be made in the material, mode of manufacture, or dimensions of the guns for service from those employed in the type gun without the approval of the Secretary of War. Payment for each gun and ammunition for testing same, including cost of transportation, shall be made upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed test for that gun. All tests of guns shall be made in the presence of the Board and of the person presenting the gun, or his authorized agent, and due regard shall be paid to suggestions offered by him which respect the mode of making such test.

That under the provisions of this section there shall not be expended or contract or contracts entered into involving the Government in an aggregate expenditure exceeding three million seven hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, nor an expenditure on the part of the Government in any one fiscal year in excess of one million dollars. And all guns and materials purchased under the authority of this section shall be of American manufacture and furnished by citizens of the United States: Provided further, That contracts may be made for not exceeding one-fourth of the guns herein provided for, to be constructed on the Pacific coast, in the discretion of the Secretary of War: Provided further, That all expenditures made under this section shall be paid from the amount made available and provided for in section six of the "Act making appropriations for fortifications and other works of defense, for the armament thereof, for the procurement of heavy ordnance for trial and service, and for other purposes," approved September twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, and the Secretary of War shall embrace in his estimates of appropriations for fortifications from time to time the amounts necessary to carry out all contracts made hereunder: Provided further, That full and accurate accounts shall be kept, showing the cost of all type and experimental manufacture of guns, and other articles, and the average cost of the several classes of guns and the other articles manufactured by the Government a statement of which account shall be laid before Congress annually in the same manner as is now required from National Armories under section sixteen hundred and sixty-five of the Revised Statutes.

No. 101.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, September 12, 1890.

The following act of Congress is published for the information and government of all concerned :

An act to establish a national military park at the battle-field of Chickamauga.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That for the purpose of preserving and suitably marking for historical and professional military study the fields of some of the most remarkable maneuvers and most brilliant fighting in the war of the rebellion, and upon the ceding of jurisdiction to the United States by the States of Tennessee and Georgia, respectively, and the report of the Attorney General of the United States that the title to the lands thus ceded is perfect, the following described highways in those States are hereby declared to be approaches to and parts of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park as established by the second section of this act, to wit : First—The Missionary Ridge Crest road from Sherman Heights at the north end of Missionary Ridge, in Tennessee, where the said road enters upon the ground occupied by the Army of the Tennessee under Major-General William T. Sherman, in the military operations of November twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three ; thence along said road through the positions occupied by the army of General Braxton Bragg on November twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, and which were assaulted by the Army of the Cumberland under Major-General George H. Thomas on that date, to where the said road crosses the southern boundary of the State of Tennessee, near Rossville Gap, Georgia, upon the ground occupied by the troops of Major-General Joseph Hooker, from the Army of the Potomac, and thence in the State of Georgia to the junction of said road with the Chattanooga and Lafayette or State road at Rossville Gap ; second, the Lafayette or State road from Rossville, Georgia, to Lee and Gordon's Mills, Georgia ; third, the road from Lee and Gordon's Mills, Georgia, to Crawfish Springs, Georgia ; fourth, the road from Crawfish Springs, Georgia, to the crossing of the Chickamauga at Glass' Mills, Georgia ; fifth, the Dry Valley road from Rossville, Georgia, to the southern limits of McFarland's Gap in Missionary Ridge ; sixth, the Dry Valley and Crawfish Springs road from McFarland's Gap to the intersection of the road from Crawfish Springs to Lee and Gordon's Mills ; seventh, the road from Ringold, Georgia, to Reed's Bridge on the Chickamauga River ;

eighth, the roads from the crossing of Lookout Creek across the northern slope of Lookout Mountain and thence to the old Summer-town Road and to the valley on the east slope of the said mountain, and thence by the route of General Joseph Hooker's troops to Rossville, Georgia, and each and all of these herein described roads shall, after the passage of this act, remain open as free public highways, and all rights of way now existing through the grounds of the said park and its approaches shall be continued.

SEC. 2. That upon the ceding of jurisdiction by the legislature of the State of Georgia, and the report of the Attorney-General of the United States that a perfect title has been secured under the provisions of the act approved August first, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, entitled "An act to authorize condemnation of land for sites of public buildings, and for other purposes," the lands and roads embraced in the area bounded as herein described, together with the roads described in section one of this act, are hereby declared to be a national park, to be known as the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park; that is to say, the area inclosed by a line beginning on the Lafayette or State road, in Georgia, at a point where the bottom of the ravine next north of the house known on the field of Chickamauga as the Cloud House, and being about six hundred yards north of said house, due east to the Chickamauga River and due west to the intersection of the Dry Valley road at McFarland's Gap; thence along the west side of the Dry Valley and Crawfish Springs roads to the south side of the road from Crawfish Springs to Lee and Gordon's Mills; thence along the south side of the last named road to Lee and Gordon's Mills; thence along the channel of the Chickamauga River to the line forming the northern boundary of the park, as hereinbefore described, containing seven thousand six hundred acres, more or less.

SEC. 3. That the said Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park, and the approaches thereto, shall be under the control of the Secretary of War, and it shall be his duty, immediately after the passage of this act to notify the Attorney General of the purpose of the United States to acquire title to the roads and lands described in the previous sections of this act under the provisions of the act of August first, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight; and the said Secretary, upon receiving notice from the Attorney-General of the United States that perfect titles have been secured to the said lands and roads, shall at once proceed to establish and substantially mark the boundaries of the said park.

SEC. 4. That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to enter into agreements, upon such nominal terms as he may prescribe, with such present owners of the land as may desire to remain upon it, to occupy and cultivate their present holdings, upon condition that they will preserve the present buildings and roads, and the present outlines of field and forest, and that they will only cut trees or underbrush under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, and that they will assist in caring for and protecting all tablets, monuments, or such other artificial works as may from time to time be erected by proper authority.

SEC. 5. That the affairs of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park shall, subject to the supervision and direction of the Secretary of War, be in charge of three commissioners, each of whom shall have actively participated in the battle of Chickamauga or one of the battles about Chattanooga, two to be appointed from civil life by the Secretary of War, and a third, who shall be detailed by the Secretary of War from among those officers of the Army best acquainted with the details of the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, who shall act as Secretary of the Commission. The said commissioners and Secretary shall have an office in the War Department building, and while on actual duty shall be paid such compensation, out of the appropriation provided in this act, as the Secretary of War shall deem reasonable and just.

SEC. 6. That it shall be the duty of the commissioners named in the preceding section, under the direction of the Secretary of War, to superintend the opening of such roads as may be necessary to the purposes of the park, and the repair of the roads of the same, and to ascertain and definitely mark the lines of battle of all troops engaged in the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, so far as the same shall fall within the lines of the park as defined in the previous sections of this act, and, for the purpose of assisting them in their duties and in ascertaining these lines, the Secretary of War shall have authority to employ, at such compensation as he may deem reasonable and just, to be paid out of the appropriation made by this act, some person recognized as well informed in regard to the details of the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, and who shall have actively participated in one of those battles, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War from and after the passage of this act, through the commissioners, and their assistant in historical work, and under the act approved August first, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, regulating the condemnation of land for public uses, to proceed with the preliminary work of establishing the park and its approaches as the same are defined in this act, and the expenses thus incurred shall be paid out of the appropriation provided by this act.

SEC. 7. That it shall be the duty of the commissioners, acting under the direction of the Secretary of War, to ascertain and substantially mark the locations of the regular troops, both infantry and artillery, within the boundaries of the park, and to erect monuments upon those positions as Congress may provide the necessary appropriations; and the Secretary of War in the same way may ascertain and mark all lines of battle within the boundaries of the park and erect plain and substantial historical tablets at such points in the vicinity of the Park and its approaches as he may deem fitting and necessary to clearly designate positions and movements, which, although without the limits of the Park, were directly connected with the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga.

SEC. 8. That it shall be lawful for the authorities of any State having troops engaged either at Chattanooga or Chickamauga, and for the officers and directors of the Chickamauga Memorial Association, a corporation chartered under the laws of Georgia, to enter upon the lands and approaches of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park for the purpose of ascertaining and marking the lines of battle of troops engaged therein: Provided, That before any such lines are permanently designated the position of the lines and the proposed methods of marking them by monuments, tablets, or otherwise shall be submitted to the Secretary of War, and shall first receive the written approval of the Secretary, which approval shall be based upon formal written reports, which must be made to him in each case by the commissioners of the park.

SEC. 9. That the Secretary of War, subject to the approval of the President of the United States, shall have the power to make, and shall make, all needed regulations for the care of the park and for the establishment and marking of the lines of battle and other historical features of the park.

SEC. 10. That if any person shall willfully destroy, mutilate, deface, injure, or remove any monument, column, statues, memorial structure, or work of art that shall be erected or placed upon the grounds of the park by lawful authority, or shall willfully destroy or remove any fence, railing, inclosure, or other work for the protection or ornament of said park, or any portion thereof, or shall willfully destroy, cut, hack, bark, break down, or otherwise injure any tree, bush, or shrubbery that may be growing upon said park, or shall cut down or fell or remove any timber, battle relic, tree or trees growing or being upon such park, except by permission of the Secretary of War, or shall willfully remove or destroy any breast-works, earth-works, walls, or other defenses or shelter, or any part thereof, constructed by the armies formerly engaged in the battles on the lands or approaches to the park, any person so offending and found guilty thereof, before any justice of the peace of the county in which the offense may be committed, shall for each and every such offense forfeit and pay a fine, in the discretion of the justice, according to the aggravation of the offense, of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, one-half to the use of the park and the other half to the informer, to be enforced and recovered, before such justice, in like manner as debts of like nature are now by law recoverable in the several counties where the offense may be committed.

SEC. 11. That to enable the Secretary of War to begin to carry out the purposes of this act, including the condemnation and purchase of the necessary land, marking the boundaries of the park, opening or repairing necessary roads, maps and surveys, and the pay and expenses of the commissioners and their assistant, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, or such portion thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and disbursements under this act shall require the approval of the Secretary of War, and he shall make annual report of the same to Congress.

No. 103.		ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
		Washington, September 19, 1890.

By direction of the acting Secretary of War paragraph 1766 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 38, of 1890, from this office, is further amended to read as follows :

Coats.

1766. Full-dress for officers.—A double-breasted frock coat of dark-blue cloth, the skirt to extend from one-half to three-fourths the distance from the hip-joint to the bend of the knee.

For a general.—Two rows of buttons on the breast, twelve in each row ; placed by fours ; the distance between each row $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches at top and $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches at bottom ; stand-up collar, not less than 1 nor more than 2 inches in height, to hook in front at the bottom and slope thence up and backward at an angle of thirty degrees on each side, corners rounded ; cuffs 3 inches deep, with three small buttons at the under seam ; pockets in the folds of the skirts, with two buttons at the hip and one at the lower end of each pocket, making four buttons on the back and skirt of the coat ; collar and cuffs to be of dark-blue velvet ; lining of the coat black.

For a lieutenant general.—The same as for a general, except that there will be ten buttons in each row, on the breast, the upper and lower groups by threes, and the middle groups by fours.

For a major general.—The same as for a general, except that there will be nine buttons in each row, on the breast, placed by threes.

For a brigadier general.—The same as for a general, except that there will be eight buttons in each row, on the breast, placed by pairs.

For a colonel, lieutenant colonel, or major.—The same as for a general, except that there will be nine buttons in each row, on the breast, placed at equal distances ; collars and cuffs of the same color and material as the coat.

For a captain, 1st lieutenant, 2d lieutenant, and additional 2d lieutenant.—The same as for a colonel, except that there will be seven buttons in each row, on the breast.

This coat will be worn on all dress occasions, such as reviews, inspections, dress parades, courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and retiring boards, and upon guards and drills when prescribed by the commanding officer ; except that, when rendered necessary by the state of the weather, the president of a court-martial, court of inquiry, or retiring board may authorize undress uniform to be worn by the members of the court or board at their sittings. This coat may also be worn with shoulder-straps, when not on armed duty.

For a chaplain.—Plain black frock coat with standing collar; one row of nine black buttons on the breast. For "undress" either the black frock or a plain black sack coat of cloth or serge, falling collar, single-breasted, one row of five black buttons in front, the skirt to extend from one-third to three-fourths the distance from hip-joint to the bend of the knee.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,

Washington, D. C., May 27, 1890.

To disbursing officers and others :

The following opinion of the Attorney-General is hereby promulgated for your information and guidance :

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,

Washington, D. C., May 18, 1890.

SIR: Your communication of January 27, 1890, submits for opinion three questions which have arisen in the Treasury Department upon section 3622, Revised Statutes, which section is in the following language :

"Every officer or agent of the United States who receives public money which he is not authorized to retain as salary, pay, or emolument, shall render his accounts monthly. Such accounts, with the vouchers necessary to the correct and prompt settlement thereof, shall be sent by mail, or otherwise, to the Bureau to which they pertain, within ten days after the expiration of each successive month, and, after examination there, shall be passed to the proper accounting officer of the Treasury for settlement. Disbursing officers of the Navy shall, however, render their accounts and vouchers direct to the proper accounting officer of the Treasury. In case of the non-receipt at the Treasury, or proper Bureau, of any accounts within a reasonable and proper time thereafter, the officer whose accounts are in default shall be required to furnish satisfactory evidence of having complied with the provisions of this section. The Secretary of the Treasury may, if in his opinion the circumstances of the case justify and require it, extend the time hereinbefore prescribed for the rendition of accounts. Nothing herein contained shall, however, be construed to restrain the heads of any of the Departments from requiring such other returns or reports from the officer or agent, subject to the control of such heads of [Department] [Departments], as the public interest may require."

I. The first question is in these words : "The first clause of the statute is as follows :

"Every officer or agent of the United States who receives public money which he is not authorized to retain as salary, pay, or emolument, shall render his accounts monthly."

"Does this clause require the rendition of monthly accounts by every officer or agent who receives advances of public money from the Treasury, to be disbursed under appropriations made by Congress and also by every officer or agent who collects and receives fees and revenues which he is by law required to account for and pay into the Treasury?"

This question I answer in the affirmative. I can see no reason why effect should not be given to the words of the statute according to its ordinary sense.

II. The next question is, "Does the clause in the statute, which provides that the Secretary of the Treasury may extend the time prescribed for the rendition of accounts, confer upon the Secretary authority to grant permission to any officer or agent coming within the provisions of the act to render his accounts for a longer period than a month (for example, to render quarterly instead of monthly accounts), or does said clause relate to extending the limit of ten days within which the officer or agent is required to transmit his accounts with the vouchers to the proper Bureau or Department, after the expiration of each successive month?"

The same question was passed upon by Attorney-General Devens in his opinion of December 2, 1878 (16 Opinions, 222). He said that the law requiring disbursing officers to render their accounts monthly was not subject to the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury except in extraordinary cases, as provided, where the Secretary of the Treasury should be of opinion that the statutory period of a month should be enlarged to meet the special circumstances of such cases, such powers of the Secretary being intended to be exceptional in character, and not to authorize him "to institute a new system of rendering accounts." I concur in that view and in the reasoning by which it is supported.

III. The next question is, "If the Secretary of the Treasury may lawfully authorize any officer or agent within the provisions of the statute to render his accounts for a longer period than a month (as by rendering them quarterly instead of monthly), is such authority limited to individual and exceptional cases, or may it be extended indefinitely to classes of accounts, so as to establish a system of rendering accounts continuously for longer periods than a month."

My answer to the second question, taken in connection with the opinion of Attorney-General Devens, also disposes of this question.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, yours,

W. H. H. MILLER,
Attorney-General.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

In accordance with the requirements of the law, as construed by the Attorney-General, you are hereby instructed to render your accounts monthly, beginning with the month of July, 1890.

WILLIAM WINDOM,
Secretary.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, D. C., September 10, 1890.

To disbursing officers and others :

The following provision of law is hereby published for your information and guidance :

"SECTION 4. That hereafter all disbursing officers of the United States shall render their accounts quarterly; and the Secretary of the Senate shall render his accounts as heretofore; but the Secretary of the Treasury may direct any or all such accounts to be rendered more frequently when, in his judgment, the public interests may require." (Sundry Civil Act, approved August 30, 1890.)

In view of the law herein cited, Department Circular No. 35, of May 27, 1890, is hereby revoked, and you are instructed to render your accounts quarterly hereafter, beginning with the current fiscal year, unless otherwise directed.

GEORGE S. BATCHELLER,
Acting Secretary.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

CHAUNCEY MCKEEVER,

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 107. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, September 25, 1890.

The following order from the War Department is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, September 23, 1890.

By authority of the President of the United States, dated June 28, 1890, and under the provisions of the first section of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884, entitled "An act for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations," the reservation of Point Roberts, Washington, declared by the President September 13, 1859, for military and light-house purposes, and reduced by the designation by the Secretary of the Treasury of a portion thereof for light-house purposes, is hereby transferred and turned over to the Secretary of the Interior for disposition, as provided in subsequent sections of the aforesaid act, the same being no longer required for military purposes.

The said reservation is situated on the east side of the Georgian Gulf, south of the 46th parallel of latitude, in Whatcom County, Washington, and embraces sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 11, and 12, and the east $\frac{1}{2}$ of section 10, all of township 40 north, range 3 west, Willamette meridian, and contains 1,472.50 acres, more or less.

L. A. GRANT,
Acting Secretary of War.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

CHAUNCEY MCKEEVER,

Assistant Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 108. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, September 26, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following additional rules, under section 2 of the act of Congress approved June 16, 1890, providing for the furlough and discharge of certain soldiers, are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

1. Every soldier who has deserted at any time during the term of an enlistment shall be deemed ineligible to furlough or discharge, as prescribed in paragraphs 1 and 2, General Orders, No. 80, 1890, and paragraph 2, General Orders, No. 81, 1890, from this office, his antecedent service not being regarded as faithful.

2. Should the company commander, in forwarding an application for furlough, or discharge, under the provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2, General Orders, No. 80, 1890, from this office, report the soldier's antecedent service unfaithful, the post commander shall at once convene a board of officers to determine the case. If the post commander reports a soldier in like manner, the board of officers herein prescribed shall be convened by the department commander from the officers of the post to which the applicant belongs. The proceedings of the board, which shall carefully set forth all the facts pertinent to the inquiry, with the views of intermediate commanders indorsed thereon, shall be transmitted for the consideration and action of the War Department.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 110. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, September 26, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 450 and 466 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows:

450. The Vice-President and President of the Senate receive a salute of nineteen guns; members of the Cabinet, the Chief Justice, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, a committee of Congress officially visiting a military post, and governors, within their respective States or Territories, receive seventeen guns. The Assistant Secretary of War receives fifteen guns.

466. The orders announcing the death of a general officer, or other person entitled to a salute of cannon, will specify the number of guns to be fired at half-hour intervals, commencing at 8 o'clock a. m. on the day after the receipt of the order. The number of guns fired will be that to which the deceased was entitled, and the posts at which they shall be fired will be designated in the order.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 118. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 2, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following addition is made to paragraph 1858 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, Nos. 11, 65, and 89, of 1890, from this office :

The fact that an action in which any organization mentioned in this paragraph has been engaged is entitled to be called a battle, and the name engraved on the rings attached to the colors, will be announced from the Adjutant General's Office, based upon official reports of such action, or by reference to the records of the War Department.

Requisitions for new colors and guidons will be accompanied by reports of engagements, or by reference to such reports on file in the War Department.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

CHAUNCEY MCKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL :

Assistant Adjutant General.

Washington, October 4, 1890.

The following decision of the Treasury Department, in reference to the rendition of money accounts, is published for the information of all concerned:

Upon the recommendation of the Secretary of War that the public interests required a more frequent rendition of money accounts by disbursing officers of the Quartermaster's, Subsistence, and Pay Departments than is provided for by the first clause of section 4 of the "act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses" for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, the Secretary of the Treasury, in conformity with the last clause of said section, has directed that disbursing officers of the above-named departments be required to render their money accounts monthly as heretofore.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

CHAUNCEY MCKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL:

Assistant Adjutant General.

No. 116.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 7, 1890.

The following act of Congress is published for the information and government of all concerned :

An act to provide for the examination of certain officers of the Army and to regulate promotions therein.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That hereafter promotion to every grade in the Army below the rank of brigadier-general, throughout each arm, corps, or department of the service, shall, subject to the examination hereinafter provided for, be made according to seniority in the next lower grade of that arm, corps, or department : Provided, That in the line of the Army all officers now above the grade of second lieutenant shall, subject to such examination, be entitled to promotion in accordance with existing laws and regulations.

SEC. 2. That officers of* grades in each arm of the service shall be assigned to regiments, and transferred from one regiment to another, as the interests of the service may require, by orders from the War Department, and hereafter all appointments in the line of the Army shall be by commission in an arm of the service and not by commission in any particular regiment.

SEC. 3. That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized to prescribe a system of examination of all officers of the Army below the rank of major to determine their fitness for promotion, such an examination to be conducted at such times anterior to the accruing of the right to promotion as may be best for the interests of the service : Provided, That the President may waive the examination for promotion to any grade in the case of any officer who in pursuance of existing law has passed a satisfactory examination for such grade prior to the passage of this act : And provided, That if any officer fails to pass a satisfactory examination and is reported unfit for promotion, the officer next below him in rank, having passed said examination, shall receive the promotion : And provided, That should the officer fail in his physical examination and be found incapacitated for service by reason of physical disability contracted in line of duty

* Sic in the roll.

he shall be retired with the rank to which his seniority entitled him to be promoted ; but if he should fail for any other reason he shall be suspended from promotion for one year, when he shall be re-examined, and in case of failure on such re-examination he shall be honorably discharged with one year's pay from the Army : And provided further, That the examination of officers appointed in the Army from civil life, or of officers who were officers of volunteers only, or were officers of the militia of the several States called into the service of the United States, or were enlisted men in the regular or volunteer service, either in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, during the war of the rebellion, shall be conducted by boards composed entirely of officers who were appointed from civil life or of officers who were officers of volunteers only during said war, and such examination shall relate to fitness for practical service and not to technical and scientific knowledge ; and in case of failure of any such officer on the re-examination hereinbefore provided for, he shall be placed upon the retired list of the Army ; and no act now in force shall be so construed as to limit or restrict the retirement of officers as herein provided for.

Approved, October 1, 1890.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

CHAUNCEY McKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 117. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 7, 1890.

The following acts of Congress are published for the information and government of all concerned :

I.—An act to amend the Articles of War relative to the punishment on conviction by courts-martial.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever by any of the Articles of War for the government of the Army the punishment on conviction of any military offense is left to the discretion of the court martial the punishment therefor shall not, in time of peace, be in excess of a limit which the President may prescribe.

Approved, September 27, 1890.

II.—An act to promote the administration of justice in the Army.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That hereafter in time of peace all enlisted men charged with offenses now cognizable by a garrison or regimental court-martial shall, within twenty-four hours from the time of their arrest, be brought before a summary court, which shall consist of the line officers* second in rank at the post or station or of the command of the alleged offender, and at stations where only officers of the staff are on duty the officers second in rank shall constitute such court, who shall have power to administer oaths and to hear and determine the case, and when satisfied of the guilt of the accused party adjudge the punishment to be inflicted. There shall be a summary court record-book or docket kept at each military post, and in the field at the headquarters of the command, in which shall be entered a record of all cases heard and determined and the action had thereon, and no sentence adjudged by said summary court shall be executed until it shall have been approved by the post or other commander: Provided, That when but one commissioned officer is present with a command he shall hear and finally determine such cases as require summary action: Provided further,

* Sic in the roll.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
 No. 119. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 Washington, October 7, 1890.

I.--The following order from the War Department is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, October 7, 1890.

Upon the recommendation of the Major General Commanding the Army the military works at Fort Pike and Fort Macomb, Louisiana, are hereby abandoned. The ordnance stores at those points, except the heavy guns, will be sent to the Augusta Arsenal, Georgia, or to the New York Arsenal, as the Chief of Ordnance may indicate. The engineer property will be disposed of in such manner as the Chief of Engineers may desire, after which the ordnance sergeants in charge will be withdrawn and the reservations and buildings thereon will be turned over to the custody of the Quartermaster's Department.

L. A. GRANT,
Acting Secretary of War.

II.--Supplementary to Article XXXVIII of the Regulations, it is directed, with the approval of the Secretary of War, in connection with reports received under the circular letter from the Adjutant General's Office dated December 28, 1889, to department commanders, that text-books for post schools be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department covering spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, history of the United States, and geography.

One wall-map of the United States, one terrestrial globe (18 inches), and two dictionaries will be supplied each post school ; and for the use of the more advanced enlisted men (to be supplied, however, only under special calls) works on grammar, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

As the reports received under the aforesaid circular letter of December 28, 1889, indicate a divergence of views as to "methods of management and instruction," such methods will, for the present, be left to the discretion of the post commanders, under such special instructions as department commanders may deem essential, in connection with the reports received by them from staff officers of the Adjutant General's and Inspector General's Departments on duty at department headquarters ; and the selection of text-books will be left to the discretion of the department commander.

It is not intended that the curriculum shall be very rigid, but that some elasticity shall be permitted, so that the more advanced enlisted men may be instructed in the more advanced common English branches.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD:

CHAUNCEY MCKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 121.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 11, 1890.

The following joint resolution and act of Congress are published for the information and government of all concerned :

I. Joint resolution granting permission to officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States to wear the badges adopted by military societies of men who served in the war of the revolution, the war of eighteen hundred and twelve, the Mexican war, and the war of the rebellion.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the distinctive badges adopted by military societies of men who served in the armies and navies of the United States in the war of the Revolution, the war of eighteen hundred and twelve, the Mexican war, and the war of the rebellion respectively, may be worn upon all occasions of ceremony by officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States, who are members of said organizations in their own right.

Approved, September 25, 1890.

II. An act to amend chapter sixty-seven, volume twenty-third, of the Statutes at Large of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That chapter sixty-seven of volume twenty three of the Statutes at Large of the United States, being an act entitled "An act to authorize a retired list for privates and non commissioned officers of the United States Army who have served as such for a period of thirty years or upward," approved February fourteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, be amended so as to read as follows :

That when an enlisted man has served as such thirty years in the United States Army or Marine Corps, either as private or non-commissioned officer, or both, he shall by application to the President be placed on the retired list hereby created, with the rank held by him at the date of retirement, and he shall receive thereafter seventy-five per centum of the pay and allowances of the rank upon which he was retired : Provided, That if said enlisted man had war service with the Army in the field, or in the Navy or Marine Corps in active service, either as volunteer or regular, during the war of the rebellion, such war service shall be computed as double time in computing the thirty years necessary to entitle him to be retired.

Approved, September 30, 1890.

I--The Major General Commanding communicates to the Army the following orders of the acting Secretary of War announcing the decease of the Honorable William W. Belknap:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, October 13, 1890.

ORDERS:

It is with great sorrow that the acting Secretary of War announces the death of the Honorable William W. Belknap, which has just occurred in this city.

General Belknap was Secretary of War under President Grant from October 26, 1869, to March 2, 1876, and rendered valuable service. He entered the United States military service as major of the 15th Iowa Volunteers December 7, 1861; was promoted lieutenant colonel August 20, 1862, and colonel June 8, 1863; and was appointed brigadier general of volunteers July 30, 1864. During his service in the Army he was recognized as a brave and efficient commander, and was made major general of volunteers by brevet for gallant and meritorious service during the war.

As a mark of respect to his memory, it is ordered that the War Department be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days and that all business be suspended therein on the day of the funeral.

L. A. GRANT,
Acting Secretary of War.

II--Upon the day after the receipt of this order at each military post seventeen guns will be fired at intervals of one-half hour, commencing at 8 o'clock a. m.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 17, 1890.

The following act of Congress is published for the information and government of all concerned :

An act to increase the efficiency and reduce the expenses of the Signal Corps of the Army, and to transfer the Weather Service to the Department of Agriculture.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the civilian duties now performed by the Signal Corps of the Army shall hereafter devolve upon a bureau to be known as the Weather Bureau, which, on and after July first, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, shall be established in and attached to the Department of Agriculture, and the Signal Corps of the Army shall remain a part of the Military Establishment under the direction of the Secretary of War, and all estimates for its support shall be included with other estimates for the support of the Military Establishment.

SEC. 2. That the Chief Signal Officer shall have charge, under the direction of the Secretary of War, of all military signal duties, and of books, papers, and devices connected therewith, including telegraph and telephone apparatus and the necessary meteorological instruments for use on target ranges, and other military uses; the construction, repair, and operation of military telegraph lines, and the duty of collecting and transmitting information for the Army by telegraph or otherwise, and all other duties usually pertaining to military signaling; and the operations of said corps shall be confined to strictly military matters.

SEC. 3. That the Chief of the Weather Bureau, under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, on and after July first, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, shall have charge of the forecasting of weather, the issue of storm warnings, the display of weather and flood signals for the benefit of agriculture, commerce, and navigation, the gauging and reporting of rivers, the maintenance and operation of sea-coast telegraph lines and the collection and transmission of marine intelligence for the benefit of commerce and navigation, the reporting of temperature and rain-fall conditions for the cotton interests, the display of frost and cold-wave signals, the distribution of meteorological information in the interests of agriculture and commerce and the taking of such meteorological observations as may be necessary to establish and record the climatic conditions of the United States, or as are essential for the proper execution of the foregoing duties.

SEC. 4. That the Weather Bureau shall hereafter consist of one Chief of Weather Bureau and such civilian employees as Congress may annually provide for and as may be necessary to properly perform the duties devolving on said bureau by law, and the chief of said bureau shall receive an annual compensation of four thousand five hundred dollars, and be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate: Provided, That the Chief Signal Officer of the Army may, in the discretion of the President, be detailed to take charge of said bureau, and in like manner other officers of the Army, not exceeding four, expert in the duties of the weather service may be assigned to duty with the Weather Bureau, and while so serving shall receive the pay and allowances to which they are entitled by law.

SEC. 5. That the enlisted force of the Signal Corps, excepting those hereinafter provided for, shall be honorably discharged from the Army on June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, and such portion of this entire force, including the civilian employees of the Signal Service, as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of the Weather Bureau shall, if they so elect, be transferred to the Department of Agriculture, and the compensation of the force so transferred shall continue as it shall be in the Signal Service on June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, until otherwise provided by law: Provided, That skilled observers serving in the Signal Service at said date shall be entitled to preference over other persons not in the Signal Service for appointment in the Weather Bureau to places for which they may be properly qualified until the expiration of the time for which they were last enlisted.

SEC. 6. That in addition to the Chief Signal Officer the commissioned force of the Signal Corps shall hereafter consist of one major, four captains (mounted), and four first lieutenants (mounted), who shall receive the pay and allowances of like grades in the Army. The officers herein provided for shall be appointed from the Army, including lieutenants of the Signal Corps, preference being given to officers who have performed long and efficient service in the Signal Service: Provided, That no appointment shall be made until a board, to be appointed by the Secretary of War, shall have submitted a report recommending officers for appointment in the Signal Corps in the order of merit, based upon the importance and usefulness of work performed in the Signal Service, as said board may determine from the official records. And such second lieutenants of the Signal Corps as may not be promoted under the provisions of this act shall be appointed second lieutenants in the line of the Army with present date of commission, and shall be assigned to the first vacancies which may occur in the grade of second lieutenant after the appointments herein provided for have been made.

SEC. 7. That all appointments and promotions in the Signal Corps after this reorganization shall be made after examination and approval under sections twelve hundred and six and twelve hundred and seven of the Revised Statutes, which are hereby amended so as to be applicable to and to provide for the promotion of the lieutenants of the Signal Corps in the same manner as they now apply to the Corps of Engineers and the Ordnance Corps; and all vacancies which may hereafter exist in the grade of first lieutenant in the Signal Corps shall be filled by transfer from the line of the Army, after competitive examination and recommendation by a board of officers of the Signal Corps to be appointed by the Secretary of War.

SEC. 8. That the enlisted force of the Signal Corps of the Army shall hereafter consist of fifty sergeants, of which ten shall be of the first class, with pay of hospital stewards. No further enlistments shall be made in the Signal Corps for duties enumerated in section three: Provided, That any vacancy existing or hereafter occurring in that portion of the force of the Signal Corps engaged in said duties may be filled by a civilian at a salary not exceeding that now paid for the same class of work in the State or Territory where the services may be performed, and this compensation for said services shall continue until July first, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, which compensation may be paid out of the appropriation for the pay of the present enlisted force.

SEC. 9. That on and after July first, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, the appropriations for the support of the Signal Corps of the Army shall be made with those of other staff corps of the Army, and the appropriations for the support of the Weather Bureau shall be made with those of the other bureaus of the Department of Agriculture, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture to prepare future estimates for the Weather Bureau which shall be hereafter specially developed and extended in the interests of agriculture.

SEC. 10. That the President is authorized to appoint on or before March first, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, a board of three officials, which board shall be charged with the duty of examining the classes and kinds of property and the amount of moneys pertaining to and in the possession of the Signal Corps, and said board shall as soon as practicable make to the Secretary of War a report setting forth the amount of moneys and the quantities and kinds of property more suitable for the work of the Weather Bureau and not necessary for the use of the Signal Corps and what part of said property will be suitable and necessary for the Signal Corps, and upon the approval of said report by the Secretary of War the property and moneys which shall be decided to properly pertain to the Weather Bureau work shall be transferred to such bureau, and to the custody of the Secretary of Agriculture, while the remaining property and funds shall continue in the possession of the Signal Corps.

Approved, October 1, 1890.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 27, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following correspondence, received from the Treasury Department, regarding the importation, free of duty, of articles for the use of the United States, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, D. C., October 16, 1890.

The Honorable the SECRETARY OF WAR.

SIR : I have the honor to invite your attention to the fact that the provision of law exempting "articles imported for the use of the United States provided that the price of the same did not include the duty," contained in paragraph 645, act of March 3, 1883, is no longer in force, and that there is no similar provision in the act of October 1, 1890.

Articles imported on or after the 6th instant for the use of your department are therefore now subject to payment of duty unless they are specially provided for in the free list of the act of October 1, 1890, or are imported under specific contracts in force on the 6th instant, when said act went into effect, and at prices excluding duties.

Provision is made in the act for the admission free of duty of "books, engravings, photographs, etchings, bound or unbound, maps and charts imported by authority or for the use of the United States or for the use of the Library of Congress" (par. 514), and "plants, trees, shrubs, seed-cane and seeds, all of the foregoing imported by the Department of Agriculture or the United States Botanic Garden." (Par. 679.)

Applications for the free entry of articles for the use of your department should therefore be restricted to such articles as are provided for in the paragraphs above noted.

If the articles imported are otherwise provided for in the free list of said act they will be admitted to free entry by collectors of customs without special instructions from this department.

If articles are imported at prices exclusive of the duties under a contract in force when said act went into effect that fact should be stated in the application, with the date of the contract and of its termination.

Respectfully, yours,

W. WINDOM,
Secretary.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 1508 of the Regulations (amended by General Orders, Nos. 38 and 70, current series, from this office) is further amended to read as follows :

1508. The retained pay provided for in sections 1281 and 1282, Revised Statutes, and in section 1 of the act approved June 16, 1890, is forfeited for the following causes :

1st. Desertion during the period of enlistment.

2d. When the soldier is discharged under sentence of general court-martial, or after completion of imprisonment extending beyond term of service, or by order from the War Department specifying forfeiture, or because of imprisonment by the civil authority.

3d. When the soldier is discharged for minority concealed at enlistment, or for other cause involving fraud in enlistment, or for disability caused by his own misconduct.

The cause of forfeiture of retained pay will be stated on the muster and pay rolls and on the final statements of the soldier.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, October 29, 1890.

The following rules, prescribed by the President, in accordance with section 8 of the act of Congress approved October 1, 1890, providing for a system of examination to determine the fitness for promotion of all officers of the Army below a certain grade, are, by direction of the Secretary of War, published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

I.--At such time anterior to the accruing of the right to promotion as may be best for the interests of the service, officers of the line of the Army and of the Quartermaster's and Subsistence Departments below the rank of major shall be examined by a board, convened by the War Department, consisting of five members, two of whom shall be selected from the Medical Corps, and a recorder. The board, excepting the officers of the Medical Corps, shall be composed of officers senior in rank to the officer to be examined, and, as far as practicable, of the arm of service or department to which the officer belongs. The duties of the medical officers will be confined to the physical examination.

II.--Examination shall be made under the following heads :

1. Physical condition.
2. Character and professional efficiency.

III.--When the board finds an officer physically incapacitated for service it shall conclude the examination by finding and reporting the cause which, in its judgment, has produced his disability, and whether such disability was contracted in the line of duty. For the purpose of this inquiry the proceedings of the board shall conform to those of a retiring board.

IV.--When the board finds an officer physically capable, the examination shall proceed under the second head. Any evidence submitted as to character will be carefully considered, and such proceedings taken as, in the opinion of the board, the case requires ; provided, that an adverse finding shall not be entered until the officer shall have been fully heard in his own behalf.

V.--The examination in respect to professional proficiency shall relate to fitness for practical service, and apply to all officers enumerated in paragraph I. For the present it shall embrace such subjects as pertain to the actual practical working of the arm of service or department to which the officer belongs, viz : drill regulations, authorized manuals of instruction, army regulations, military law so far as it relates to practice and procedure before courts-martial, records, returns, correspondence, and administration ; and due consideration will be given to the officer's record for professional efficiency, including his standing at the service schools.

Any individual investigations, papers, reports, or books may be submitted to the board by the officer, and the board is authorized to consider any matter which will, in its judgment, aid it in determining the fitness of the officer for promotion.

VI.--Subsequently to a date to be announced hereafter, but not less than eighteen months hence, the scope of examination for officers of the line will be extended. To this end officers should make themselves familiar with the elements of Field Engineering and the Art of War, so far as they relate to fitness for practical service. The authorities on these subjects included in the curriculum of the Artillery School at Fort Monroe and of the Infantry and Cavalry School at Fort Leavenworth are regarded as standard. The result of special inquiries involving studies of professional subjects will be received and considered as equivalents of the above-mentioned subjects, so far as in the opinion of the board their merits justify.

VII.--The examination of the following officers shall be conducted by boards composed entirely of officers who were appointed from civil life or who were officers of volunteers only, during the War of the Rebellion :

1. Officers appointed in the Army from civil life during the War of the Rebellion.
2. Officers who were officers of volunteers only during the War of the Rebellion.
3. Officers who were officers of militia of the several States called into the service of the United States during the War of the Rebellion.
4. Officers who were enlisted men in the Regular or Volunteer Service, either in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, during the War of the Rebellion.

The examination of the following officers may be conducted by boards organized at the discretion of the War Department, to be composed, as far as practicable, of officers of the same professional antecedents as the officers to be examined :

1. Graduates of the Military Academy.
2. Officers appointed from civil life since the War of the Rebellion.
3. Officers appointed from the Army since the War of the Rebellion.

The expression "during the War of the Rebellion" is understood to embrace the period between April 15, 1861, and May 1, 1865.

VIII.—Officers of the Medical Department, Corps of Engineers, and Ordnance Department, below the grade of major, shall be examined for promotion as hereinbefore provided, excepting that the examination as to professional efficiency shall be conducted as heretofore authorized by orders and regulations pertaining to the department and corps referred to, or as may hereafter be specially prescribed therefor.

Two medical officers will be added to the board as now authorized, for the examination of engineer and ordnance officers, whose duties shall be confined to the physical examination.

Officers who in pursuance of existing law have passed a satisfactory examination for any grade prior to the passage of the act approved October 1, 1890, will not be required to undergo the examination above mentioned, unless specially ordered by the President.

IX.—Any officer heretofore reported by a retiring board as incapacitated by reason of physical disability, the result of an incident of service, shall, if the proceedings of said board are approved by the President, be regarded as physically unfit for promotion within the meaning of section 3 of the act of October 1, 1890, and will be retired with the rank to which his seniority entitles him whenever a vacancy occurs that otherwise would result in his promotion on the active list; provided, that before the occurrence of such vacancy he shall not have been placed on the limited retired list; and further provided, that any officer who objects to retirement under the provisions of this paragraph shall, upon his own application, be re-examined under the general provisions of this order.

X.—The examining board shall report its recommendation of any officer for promotion in substantially the following form :

"We find that ——— has the physical, moral, and professional qualifications to perform efficiently all the duties of the grade to which he will next be eligible, and recommend him for promotion thereto."

Each record must be signed by every member and by the recorder, and must show who of the members concurred in and who, if any, dissented from the opinion of the board.

Whenever the board fails to recommend a candidate for promotion the record will state the cause of such failure.

The proceedings shall be forwarded to the Adjutant General of the Army for the final action of the Secretary of War.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
 No. 129. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 Washington, October 30, 1890.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 875 of the Regulations is amended to omit the words "daily duty," and to substitute therefor the words special duty ; and like changes will be made in all returns and reports.

II.--To insure uniformity and propriety in the matter of details for extra and special (late daily) duty throughout the Army, the following details only will be allowed, when the post commander deems the services necessary :

SPECIAL DUTY.

For each post.

One acting sergeant major, where there is no regimental sergeant major.

One non-commissioned officer as provost, in charge of post police.

One janitor, for library, reading-room, chapel, and school-rooms.

One librarian, whenever a room is reserved and used as a reading-room.

One telegraph-operator, at posts where there is not a commercial or Signal Service station.

One chief baker (with assistants, under paragraph 306 of the Regulations).

One canteen steward (assisted by other enlisted men, under paragraph 382 of the Regulations).

One chief gardener, during the garden season.

The necessary clerks in the adjutant's office.

An orderly for the commanding officer shall be selected daily from the guard at guard mounting (paragraph VII, Circular, No. 10, current series, from this office). Other officers are not allowed orderlies, and none will be detailed for the purpose.

For each troop, battery, or company.

One non-commissioned officer, to take immediate charge of police, &c., of stables and picket line (Cavalry Tactics, paragraph 1186) ; one clerk ; one tailor ; one cook ; and assistant cooks when necessary, under paragraph 303 of the Regulations.

A non-commissioned officer will be selected, by roster, each day for the supervision of the rooms and the care of arm-racks provided for the safety of the arms.

No enlisted man will be detailed on special duty as superintendent of kitchens or messes. It is the important duty of officers and 1st sergeants to superintend the messes.

EXTRA DUTY.

Extra-duty details at the several posts will be limited to actual necessities ; but in no case shall the number, inclusive of school-teachers, exceed that provided for in the allotment for extra-duty pay at the post. In this connection special attention is invited to paragraphs 161, 162, and 167 of the Regulations.

MISCELLANEOUS REMARKS.

In detailing extra and special duty men care must be taken to equalize them among the several companies and arms of service at the post, in so far as may be compatible with the requirements of paragraph 410 of the Regulations.

Extra-duty and special-duty men must be reported on all reports and returns in separate columns, and commanding officers will see that the reports and returns conform, each day, in all respects to the requirements of this order.

Inspections and drills for extra-duty men are regulated by paragraph 168 of the Regulations.

All special-duty men (except the non-commissioned officer supervising the barrack-rooms, the cooks, and such clerks as are necessarily excused by commanding officers) must attend all drills and inspections.

Men variously reported on daily (now special) duty as room orderlies, mail orderlies, orderlies for courts-martial, stable guards, stable police, &c., are not, properly, special-duty men. Paragraphs 586 and 587 of the Regulations will be observed as to stable guards ; Cavalry Tactics, paragraph 1189, as to stable police.

Aside from the special and extra duty details hereby recognized, "all duties and fatigues without arms, in or out of the garrison," are of the third class, under paragraph 400 of the Regulations.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
 No. 180. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 Washington, October 30, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1776, 1779, and 1826 of the Regulations, as amended, respectively, by General Orders, Nos. 89, of 1889, and 58, of 1890, Adjutant General's Office, are further amended to read as follows :

Forage-cap badges.

1776. To be embroidered on dark blue cloth ground, with devices (according to patterns deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General) as follows :

For general officers.—A gold wreath encircling the letters M. G. in silver, old English characters.

For officers of the Adjutant General's Department.—A gold wreath encircling a solid silver shield bearing thirteen stars.

For officers of the Inspector General's Department.—A gold wreath encircling a solid gold or gilt sword and fasces, crossed and wreathed.

For officers of engineers.—A gold wreath of laurel and palm encircling a silver turreted castle.

For officers of ordnance.—A gold shell and flame.

For officers of the Signal Corps.—A gold wreath encircling two crossed signal flags and a burning torch.

For all other staff officers.—Same as for general officers.

For officers of cavalry.—Two gold sabers, crossed, edges upward, with number of the regiment, in silver, in the upper angle.

For officers of artillery.—Two gold cannons, crossed, with the number of the regiment, in silver, at the intersection of the crossed cannons.

For officers of infantry.—Two gold rifles, crossed, without bayonets, barrels upward, with the number of the regiment, in silver, in the upper angle.

Shoulder-knots.

1779. For officers of the Adjutant General's Department.—Of gold cord, one-fourth of an inch in diameter, Russian pattern, on dark blue cloth ground ; insignia of rank embroidered on the cloth ground of the pad ; a solid shield of silver, according to pattern, on the center of the pad (except for a colonel and assistant adjutant general, who will wear it on the bullion of the knot midway between the upper fastening and the pad) ; an aiguillette of gold cord, one-fourth of an inch in diameter, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General, to be worn on the right shoulder-knot, the loop crossed on top the right arm above the elbow and the cords fastened, before buttoning, to the top and second button on the right side of the coat. The aiguillette, instead of being permanently attached to the shoulder-knot, may be made separate, so as to be attached to the coat or knot underneath the knot, by means of a strap or tongue passing through the lower fastenings of the knot.

For officers of the Inspector General's Department.—Same as for officers of the Adjutant General's Department, but with solid gold or gilt sword and fasces crossed and wreathed, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General, in place of the silver shield.

For officers of the Judge Advocate General's Department.—Same as for the officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and shield, but with sword and pen crossed and wreathed, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General, embroidered in silver on the cloth ground of the pad (except for a colonel and assistant judge advocate general, who will wear the device made of solid silver on the knot midway between the upper fastening and the pad).

For officers of the Engineer Corps.—Same as for the officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and shield, but with a silver turreted castle, according to pattern deposited in the Quartermaster General's Office.

For officers of the Ordnance Department.—Same as for officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and shield, but with a shell and flame in silver embroidery, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General.

For officers of the Signal Corps.—Same as for officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and shield, but with two crossed signal flags and a burning torch, in gold and silver embroidery, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General.

For officers of the Medical Department.—Same as for officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and shield, but with a device of gold bullion, according to pattern deposited in the Quartermaster General's Office.

For officers of other staff corps.—Same as for officers of the Adjutant General's Department, without the aiguillette and shield.

For aides-de-camp to major and brigadier generals and for regimental adjutants.—The shoulder-knot of their corps or regiment, with aiguillette attached.

For officers of cavalry, artillery, and infantry.—Of the same pattern as for staff corps, but on cloth of the same color as the facings of their arm, with number of regiment embroidered in silver and insignia of rank on the cloth ground of the pad, according to pattern deposited in the office of the Quartermaster General.

1826. On the frontier and campaign officers may wear the soldier's overcoat, with insignia of rank on the sleeve.

Officers and enlisted men will also be permitted to wear black rubber ponchos and blankets, or black or dark blue water-proof overcoats, when necessary, in the field, on fatigue and other duty, involving exposure to rainy or other inclement weather.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 181. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, November 1, 1890.

The following orders have been received from the War Department :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, October 2, 1890.

The regulations for the government of the Military Prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, published in General Orders, No. 5, February 4, 1888, Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant General's Office, have been amended upon the recommendation of the Board of Prison Commissioners, and are, together with the laws relating to the prison, herewith republished as amended. They will be strictly enforced and obeyed.

Subject to the laws and regulations the prison will constitute an independent military post under the immediate command of the Major General Commanding the Army.

REDFIELD PROCTOR,
Secretary of War.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL SCHOFIELD :

CHAUNCEY McKEEVER,
Acting Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL :

Assistant Adjutant General.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE MILITARY PRISON AT FORT LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS.

PART FIRST—LAWS.

AN ACT to provide for the establishment of a military prison, and for its government.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be established at Rock Island, in the State of Illinois, a prison for the confinement and reformation of offenders against the rules, regulations, and laws for the government of the Army of the United States, in which shall be securely confined, and employed at labor, and governed in the manner hereinafter directed, all offenders convicted before any court-martial or military commission in the United States, and sentenced according to law to imprisonment therein.

SEC. 2. That the Secretary of War shall organize a board of five members, to consist of three officers of the Army and two persons from civil life, who shall adopt a plan for the building of such prison, and who shall frame regulations for the government of the prisoners, in accordance with the provisions of this act. The said commissioners from civil life shall hold their offices for the term of three years, and shall be paid five dollars a day while on duty, and necessary traveling expenses; and the said officers of the Army shall, at all times, be subject to removal by the Secretary of War.

SEC. 3. That the Secretary of War shall, with said commissioners, semi-annually, and as much oftener as may be deemed expedient, visit said prison for the purposes of examination, inspection, and correction; and they shall inquire into all abuses or neglects of duty on the part of the officers or other persons in charge of the same, and make such changes in the general discipline of the prison as they may hold to be essential.

SEC. 4. That the officers of the prison shall consist of a commandant and such subordinate officers as may be necessary, a chaplain, a surgeon, and a clerk, who shall be detailed by the Secretary of War from the commissioned officers of the Army; and a sufficient number of enlisted men shall be detailed by the Secretary of War to act as turnkeys, guards, and assistants in the prison.

SEC. 5. That one of the inspectors of the Army shall, at least once in three months, visit the prison for the purpose of examining into the books and all the affairs thereof, and ascertaining whether the laws, rules, and regulations relating thereto are complied with, the officers are competent and faithful, and the convicts properly governed and employed, and at the same time treated with humanity and kindness. And it shall be the duty of the inspector, at once, to make full report thereof to the Secretary of War.

SEC. 6. That before the commandant enters upon the duties of his office he shall give bond, with sufficient sureties, in a sum to be fixed by the Secretary of War, to be approved by him, conditioned that he shall faithfully account for all money placed in his hands for the use of the prison, and for the faithful discharge of all his duties as commandant. He shall have command of the prison; shall have the charge and employment of the prisoners, and the custody of all the property of the Government connected with the prison. He shall receive and pay out all money used for the prison, and shall cause to be kept, in suitable books, complete accounts of all the property, expenses, income, business, and concerns of the prison; and shall make full and regular reports thereof to the Secretary of War; and shall, under the direction and with the approval of the Secretary of War, employ, for the benefit of the United States, the convicts at such labor and in such trades as may be deemed best for their health and reformation. He shall have power to sell and dispose of any articles manufactured by the convicts, and shall regularly account for the proceeds thereof, and shall give bond and security for the faithful keeping and accounting of all moneys and property coming to his hands as such commandant. He shall take note and make record of the good conduct of the convicts, and shall shorten the daily time of hard labor for those who, by their obedience, honesty, industry, or general good conduct, earn such favors; and the Secretary of War is authorized and directed to remit, in part, the sentences of such convicts, and to give them an honorable restoration to duty in case the same is merited; and in case any convict shall disobey the lawful orders of the officers of the prison, or refuse to comply with the rules and regulations thereof, he may be placed in solitary confinement, and the commandant shall at once report the case to the Secretary of War, who shall direct the inspector to make full examination and report of the matter at the next inspection ; but in no case shall any prisoner be subjected to whipping, branding, or the carrying of weights, for the purpose of discipline or for producing penitence ; and every prisoner, upon being discharged from prison, shall be furnished with decent clothing.

SEC. 7. That the use of newspapers and books shall not be denied the convicts at times when not employed ; and that unofficial visitors shall be admitted to the prison under such restrictions as the board of commissioners may impose. The prisoners shall not be denied the privilege of communicating with their friends by letter, and from receiving like communications from them, all of which shall be subject to the inspection of the commandant, or such officer as he may assign to that duty.

SEC. 8. That the prisoners shall be supplied with ample and clean bedding, and with wholesome and sufficient food ; but when in hospital or under discipline their diet shall be prescribed by the proper authority. The prison shall be suitably ventilated, and each prisoner shall have a weekly bath of cold or tepid water, which shall be applied to the whole surface of the body, unless the surgeon shall direct otherwise for the health of the prisoner.

SEC. 9. That no officer of the prison, or other person connected therewith, shall be concerned or interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract, purchase, or sale made on account of the prison.

SEC. 10. That any officer who shall suffer a convict to escape, or shall in any way consent to his escape, or shall aid him to escape or in an attempt to escape, shall, upon conviction, be dismissed from the service, and suffer such other punishment as a court-martial may inflict.

SEC. 11. That any soldier or other person employed in the prison who shall suffer a convict to escape, or shall in any way consent to his escape, or shall aid him to escape or in an attempt to escape, shall, upon conviction by court-martial, be confined therein not less than one year.

SEC. 12. That all prisoners under confinement in said military prisons undergoing sentence of courts-martial shall be liable to trial and punishment by courts-martial under the Rules and Articles of War for offenses committed during the said confinement.

Approved, March 8, 1878.

AN ACT to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment of a military prison and for its government," approved March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-three.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said act be, and the same is hereby, so amended that all acts and things therein required to be done and performed at Rock Island, in the State of Illinois, shall be done and performed on the military reservation at Fort Leavenworth, in the State of Kansas: Provided, that the Government buildings now on said military reservation at Fort Leavenworth shall be modified and used so far as practicable for the purposes of said prison.

Approved, May 21, 1874.

Extract from an act of Congress approved June 22, 1874:

"For compensation of the two commissioners appointed from civil life on the military-prison board, under the second section of 'An act to provide for the establishment of a military prison, and for its government,' approved March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, while actually on duty, four hundred and sixty dollars; for traveling expenses of said commissioners and of the Secretary of War under said act, one thousand five hundred dollars: Provided, That the duties of said commissioners shall cease after the expiration of the current fiscal year."

PART SECOND—REGULATIONS.

ARTICLE I.—OFFICERS OF THE PRISON.

The officers of the prison shall consist of a commandant, an executive officer, a surgeon, a chaplain, an adjutant, a commissary, and such other subordinate assistants as the Secretary of War may from time to time deem necessary to the proper administration of the prison's affairs.

The commandant.

The general duties of the commandant are laid down in the laws establishing the prison.

He shall carefully supervise the government, discipline, and police of the prison, enforce the rules relative to the labor and diet of the prisoners; give all necessary directions to the officers and employes under his command, and, from time to time, examine into the state of the prison, and the health, condition, and safety of the prisoners.

He shall have the books relating to the conduct of the prisoners properly kept with a view to their classification and the abatement or remission of their sentences.

He shall classify the prisoners as hereinafter directed and promote or retrograde them from one grade to another.

He shall, under the direction of the Secretary of War, make all purchases of stock required to carry on the several industries pursued in the prison, and have custody of the same. He shall keep his accounts in the manner prescribed by Army Regulations, and shall sell such productions of the prison as may be authorized to be sold.

He shall also, from time to time, submit to the commissioners, through the Secretary of War, such recommendations for amendment in the rules and regulations for the government of the prison as his experience may suggest.

The commandant shall, as soon as practicable after the 30th day of June, in each year, cause to be made full and detailed accounts, to be closed on that day, of all receipts, disbursements, expenses, and profits of the prison; and shall, at the close of each fiscal quarter, render to the War Department full accounts of all the receipts and disbursements, and a return of property. He shall keep his accounts in the manner prescribed by the Army Regulations.

Executive officer.

The executive officer shall, in the absence of the commandant, perform the duties devolved upon that officer.

He shall inspect the entire prison every day; cause the cells, bedding, and furniture to be daily examined, to see that they have not been injured, and that no attempt at escape has been entered upon; report all irregularities to the commandant without delay, and perform such other duties as the commandant may assign to him.

Adjutant.

The adjutant shall, under the direction of the commandant, have charge of all the books and records hereinafter designated, and perform such other duties appertaining to his position as may be required of him by the commandant.

Commissary.

The commissary, when no special appropriation shall have been made for subsistence for the prison, shall, under the direction of the commandant, make requisition, upon the proper officers, for subsistence stores, and where an appropriation has been made specifically for the subsistence of the prisoners, he shall make such purchases as may be required, and issue the same upon requisitions of the proper officers when approved by the commandant. Where subsistence is drawn from the Subsistence Department, he will draw such articles only, and to the extent only, as are prescribed in the diet table for prisoners, and will sell to the commissary that portion of the ration not drawn, and from the proceeds will form a prison fund analogous to a company fund. From this fund he will make such purchases as may be needed to supply the diet established, and disburse the surplus in the purchase of such books and papers for the exclusive benefit of the prisoners as may be ordered by the commandant.

He will make return of this fund as if it were a company fund.

He shall keep his accounts in the manner prescribed by Army Regulations, and for all purchases made shall give vouchers, to be paid by the check of the commandant.

Chaplain.

The chaplain shall perform divine service at least once each Sunday, instruct the prisoners in their moral and religious duties, and devote his whole time to the moral improvement of the prisoners.

He shall have charge of the prison library, and the management of the schools for the instruction of the prisoners.

He shall, with the consent of the surgeon, visit the sick in hospital.

Surgeon.

The duties of the surgeon shall be the same, as nearly as possible, as those of a medical officer on duty at a military post. He shall make the stated reports and returns called for by the regulations of the Medical Department, and such special reports and returns as the commandant may require.

ARTICLE II.—ENLISTED MEN.

There shall be detailed a hospital steward and such other members of the Hospital Corps as may be authorized, a commissary sergeant, and a quartermaster sergeant, to discharge their appropriate duties under the surgeon, commissary, and quartermaster, respectively.

There shall be detailed or enlisted, from or in the General Service, such number of enlisted men as a provost guard as the Secretary of War may from time to time deem necessary, who shall be placed in charge of prisoners and shall perform such duties in aid of the discipline and safe-keeping of the prisoners as the commandant may direct.

The commandant shall appoint the authorized non-commissioned officers of said guard, and such lance sergeants and corporals as may be found necessary.

ARTICLE III.—CIVILIAN EMPLOYÉS.

Civilian superintendents of labor and instruction shall hold no intercourse with any prisoner not employed under them, nor with them upon any subject other than the business of the shop, and shall confine their conversation with prisoners to the narrowest limit consistent with imparting necessary instruction.

They shall confine themselves strictly to their business, and shall not leave the shops where they are employed to visit any other part of the prison unless authorized by proper authority.

Their intercourse with the officers of the prison, when on duty, shall be such, only, as is connected with the business under their direction.

They are not, under any circumstances, to inflict punishment or enforce discipline upon any prisoner.

They are expected to report to the provost sergeants, on duty in their department, all violations of the rules and regulations which come under their observation.

ARTICLE IV.—PRISONERS.

Every prisoner, on admission, will be minutely and strictly searched, and deprived of everything in his possession except his clothing. He will then be taken to the bath-room and thoroughly washed, and clad in the prison dress; his hair cut close to his head, and his beard, whiskers, and mustache shaved off.

All articles of any value taken from him will be duly accounted for. Civilian clothing will be cleansed and, with the other articles, will be kept until his discharge, when they will be returned to him on his signing a receipt for the same.

Each prisoner, on his admission, will receive a number by which he will be known while in the prison.

Classification.

Prisoners will be divided into three or more classes, according to their conduct and length of confinement, to be known as 1st, 2d, 3d, &c. Each class will be designated by a distinctive badge, to be attached to some conspicuous part of the outer garment of the prison dress. On being assigned to a class, each prisoner will be made acquainted with the rules relating to the conduct and treatment of prisoners, and will be provided with a copy of these rules.

On their admission prisoners will, except in special cases, be assigned to the lowest class, and will be promoted to the higher classes as their conduct may warrant it.

Promotions of prisoners will be made by the commandant.

The commandant may select from the 1st class those whose term of sentence is near expiration, and whose conduct has been good, to perform such work as he may deem necessary without guard.

Abatement of sentence.

An abatement of five days for each month of consecutive good conduct may be allowed to military prisoners upon each sentence to confinement for over six months.

This abatement will be regulated by the commandant according to the conduct marks of the prisoners. Any portion of or all the time which has been earned may be forfeited by misconduct. One week preceding the 4th day of July and the day of national thanksgiving in each year the commandant shall recommend to the Secretary of War two prisoners who may have earned a title to clemency through good conduct.

Diet.

The diet of prisoners shall be plain, substantial fare, to be determined by the commandant, with the concurrence of the surgeon.

A prisoner "under discipline in solitary confinement" will have eighteen ounces of bread each day, and as much water as he may desire.

On New Year's day, February 22d, Memorial day, July 4th, Thanksgiving day, and Christmas day the prisoners of all classes shall have such special meat and vegetable dinner as the commandant may prescribe.

Clothing.

Prisoners will, from time to time, be furnished with such articles of clothing as they may require. No military button or badge shall be worn, and on the clothing of each prisoner shall be marked his prison number.

When cloth is purchased for the manufacture of clothing, the color prescribed for Army uniforms shall not be used.

Discipline.

The commandant shall at all times be ready to receive any complaint or application from a prisoner, and, if the case calls for it, to submit it to the Secretary of War.

He shall hear all reports touching offenses against discipline and good order.

Prisoners may be tried for offenses committed in violation of the Rules and Articles of War by a general or garrison court-martial, according to the nature and degree of the offense.

For neglect of the rules of the prison, or of the directions of any officer or non-commissioned officer; whistling, singing, laughing, or making any unnecessary noise; unauthorized talking; endeavoring, contrary to rule, to have communication with another prisoner, or any person whether connected with the prison or not; having possession of any articles not allowed; defacing, damaging, or writing on the walls; or for other minor delinquencies not sufficiently grave to be brought before a court, the commandant will, according to the nature of the offense, admonish the offender; deprive him of part or all the time earned by previous good conduct; place him in a cell and deprive him of a meal, or of privileges; retrograde him, or place him in solitary confinement.

A record will be made, by the commandant, of any admonishment, deprivation of "good time," or of a meal, or of solitary confinement or other punishment, and the delinquencies for or on account of which they were given.

No provost sergeant or other subordinate, or civil superintendent of labor, shall converse with any prisoner, except in the discharge of his duty and on subjects directly connected therewith.

All officers or non-commissioned officers in charge of parties or classes of prisoners are required to watch the prisoners in their various movements and employments throughout the day and during meals. They are to be vigilant in preventing, by word or sign, any communication between persons and prisoners, except between prisoners and civilians employed to superintend their labor and instruct them therein, and except so far as is authorized, and to prevent communications from prisoners to themselves, except such as relates to the duties of the prison and the necessities of its inmates.

Officers, non-commissioned officers, or soldiers, employed as night-watchmen within or without the prison, are to watch vigilantly over the prisoners throughout the night, and to preserve silence and decorum.

The prisoner is to obey immediately the orders he receives. He is to be respectful to those set over him, and to observe the rules for his government.

Every prisoner shall, at all times, conduct himself in a quiet, orderly manner. Violations of this rule will be followed promptly by appropriate punishment.

The use of profane or indecent language will not be tolerated.

Prisoners will be permitted to write to their friends twice in each month, and all letters shall be submitted, unsealed and signed with the name of the writer in full, to the commandant or officer designated by him. Such private letters shall not be made the vehicles for seeking influence to obtain pardon or remission of sentence, nor shall such letters contain any reference to pardon or remission of sentence, and all letters relating in any way to such matters shall be sent to the War Department.

Any money a prisoner may have in his possession when he enters the prison, or that he may receive afterward from any source, shall be placed in the custody of the commandant, who will cause an account of it to be kept in a book provided for the purpose; and the prisoner will be allowed to draw it from the commandant in any sum for the benefit of his family, and the balance due will be paid over to him on his discharge from the prison.

Besides the weekly cold or tepid bath to his whole person, as prescribed by law, every prisoner shall, at such times as may be fixed, wash himself thoroughly at least once a day, or oftener, as may be needed for cleanliness.

The hair of every prisoner will be cut close once a month, or oftener, at the discretion of the commandant. The hair and beard of prisoners may be suffered to grow during the last month of imprisonment.

Labor.

Prisoners will be kept at hard labor daily, except on Sunday, New Year's day, February 22d, Memorial day, July 4th, Thanksgiving day, and Christmas day.

The hours of labor and of the various duties at the prison will be regulated by the commandant. The daily period of hard labor in the shops and without the prison walls shall be not less than from eight to ten hours, according to the season of the year, five days of the week, nor less than seven to nine hours on Saturday.

The commandant may suspend work during excessively cold or hot weather, when, in his judgment, the performance of said work would endanger the health of the prisoners.

Prisoners' labor will consist of cleaning the yards, passages, privies, and other parts of the prison grounds ; making or mending prisoners' clothing ; breaking stone ; working on the United States grounds for the benefit of the United States ; labor at the quartermaster's depot ; quarrying stone and building prison walls and other structures necessary for the prison ; at work in shops, either at remunerative labor under the direction of the commandant, or at remunerative labor for the Quartermaster's Department, in making shoes, boots, and other articles furnished by that department for the military service of the United States.

Prisoners will not be employed in the police of the post nor on the grounds of any one not directly connected with the prison.

Work in the prison-shops for the benefit of any officer or soldier shall be paid for at the rate of not less than fifty cents per day for each day's labor, in addition to the cost of materials.

No prisoner shall be detailed to perform any labor outside the walls of the prison that will require him to enter the office, residence, or out-buildings of any officer not connected with the prison ; nor shall any prisoner be detailed to perform any labor that would tend to remove him from the constant observation of the guard under whose charge he may be at the time.

In the manufacture of shoes, boots, or other articles furnished by the Quartermaster's Department to the Army, the following rules will be observed :

1st. The Quartermaster's Department will furnish all necessary funds for the purchase of materials and tools, and the commandant will be responsible for the quality, the quantity, and the economical use and expenditure of the same.

2d. The funds for the purchase of materials and tools, and for the hire of civil instructors, will be had from the appropriation for the branch of the Quartermaster's Department applicable to the purchase of the articles manufactured.

8d. The commandant of the prison will be responsible for the sums paid him by the Quartermaster's Department for the daily labor of the prisoners employed, and of which he will have a correct account kept, to be verified by the one kept by the quartermaster in charge.

4th. The labor done by prisoners, either in or outside of the prison, for the Quartermaster's or Commissary's Departments of the Army will be charged to these departments at the rate of fifty cents a day for labor in the shops, and thirty-five cents a day for unskilled labor, for every eight hours' labor of a prisoner, and at that rate for a less period than eight hours.

It shall be in the discretion of the commandant to determine what, if any, part of the labor force is available for employment outside the prison walls. Consequently, when the labor of prisoners for outside work is deemed necessary, requisition must be made upon the commandant setting forth the particular kind of work upon which it is intended to employ them, when, if practicable, the commandant will detail a force suited to the work to be performed; but in no event shall the organized force of prisoners employed as artisans be interfered with to meet such temporary demands.

The labor of prisoners will, under the rules herein established, be regulated throughout the day by the commandant, with due consideration of light and weather as regards the time of open-air and in-door employment.

ARTICLE V.—BOOKS AND ACCOUNTS.

The following books and accounts are prescribed:

Register of prisoners, recording name and number of prisoner, also company and regiment, date of entry into prison, general court-martial order promulgating sentence, date of discharge from service, health and result of physical examination, brief description of person, nativity, name and address of nearest relative, and a brief summary of history during confinement.

Morning report book.

Daily merit book, showing at what work prisoners are employed, and the figure of merit earned by such work.

Monthly average book, showing number of days earned each month during confinement.

Descriptive book, recording a description of prisoner, special marks, result of physical examination and weight upon entry into prison and discharge therefrom, with such other data as may be necessary to identify the prisoner.

Delinquency book.

Letter book.

Book of letters received.

Index to letters sent.

Index to letters received.

Indorsement book.

Index to indorsement book.

Order book.

Account book of prisoner's deposit fund.

Mess fund account book.

Cash book.

ARTICLE VI.—SCHOOL AND LIBRARY.

There shall be instituted a school for the instruction of prisoners, which shall be under the superintendence of the chaplain ; the different classes to be organized under the direction of the commandant.

The prison library shall be made up of such works and newspapers as may be approved by the commandant, and all prisoners, save such as are undergoing punishment for violation of the rules and regulations, will be permitted to select from the catalogue and read in their cells or rooms such volumes and papers as they may wish.

ARTICLE VII.—GENERAL RULES.

No person shall be allowed in the corridors or dormitories of the prison after the prisoners are locked up at night, except officers and guards.

The officers and guards shall not permit any person to go on the walls, or enter the prison, without authority from the commandant or executive officer.

Visitors will not be permitted to enter the prison unless accompanied by an officer or guard ; and, when within the prison, will be under the surveillance of the officer or guard accompanying them.

Visitors will have no intercourse with the prisoners, and when passing through the prison will conduct themselves in a quiet and orderly manner. Loud talking, laughing, and personal allusion to prisoners, by pointing or otherwise, will not be permitted.

No alcoholic or malt liquors will be allowed within the prison walls, except for medicinal purposes.

No one will be allowed to smoke in the shops, cells, dormitories, or other rooms devoted to the prisoners, nor in the prison-yard.

All officers and non-commissioned officers on duty in the prison are enjoined to keep constantly in view the fact that the reformation of its inmates, and their restoration to the service as good soldiers, or to civil life as good citizens, was one of the chief objects of the Government in establishing the institution, and it is expected that they will exert themselves earnestly to accomplish such a result.

No punishment or privation of any kind shall be ordered, except by the commandant, or an officer acting as such.

Under no circumstances will two prisoners be confined in the same cell at the same time. Prisoners must be confined either in separate cells or in dormitories.

The commandant will give such orders as may be necessary to carry into effect the regulations adopted by the Board of Commissioners.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 182. }

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, November 18, 1890.

In order to encourage excellence in gunnery and in the preliminary instruction of individuals and batteries among the heavy artillery troops of the Army, the following scheme of competitions is, with the approval of the Secretary of War, hereby adopted :

I.--The principal object of these contests is, by comparison of results, to impress upon all officers, but more especially the battery commanders, the necessity of thorough individual instruction in the organizations under their command—the sole means by which our infantry troops have reached their present high degree of proficiency in the use of their arm.

II.--There will be three grades of competitions, as follows :

1. The battery competition.
2. The regimental competition.
3. The general artillery competition.

III.--The battery competition.—This competition will take place at the posts where the respective batteries may be serving, or at such other as the division commander may designate. It will be separate for each battery, and will be limited to the enlisted men. The competitions will take place each year at such time as the division commander may designate, as soon as practicable after the termination of the annual practice season, and as nearly as possible simultaneously for all the regiments in the division. In each regiment they will be conducted by a board of three officers of the regiment, to be appointed by the regimental commander, subject to the approval of the division commander, with reference to their special qualifications for this duty.

The object of this competition is to determine the classification of "gunners" in each battery, as indicated by the relative excellence of their preliminary instruction. For this purpose it is not necessary that all batteries should have had during the year the same opportunities and facilities for instruction, although it is desirable that these conditions should be equalized as far as practicable among the several batteries. But it is ordered that no gunners shall be classified in any battery which, during the year, has not had instruction in all the subjects under the following head of "minimum qualifications:"

Minimum qualifications.	Maximum figure of merit.
1. Setting and reading quadrants.....	8
Setting and reading an angle-measuring instrument suitable for determining ranges and points of fall.....
Use of plotting board.....
2. Service of all pieces of siege and sea-coast armament that have been available for instruction during the year, or of such of them as the examining board may designate.....	8
3. Judging distance of stationary objects.....	10
4. Judging distance of moving objects.....	14
5. Judging speed of vessels.....	8
6. Judging velocity of wind.....	7
7. Laying guns accurately as to elevation and direction.....	20
8. Cordage, blocks and tackle—their use in such mechanical maneuvers as may have been executed during the year, which, as far as practicable, will include all that the available facilities have permitted.....	5
In addition to the foregoing, the examining board will take into consideration, in the case of each competitor—
General soldierly character (the figure of merit under this head to be determined solely by the battery commander).....	20
General aggregate.....	100

Upon the arrival of the regimental board at any post each battery commander thereat will submit to the recorder a list of the names of all the men in his battery who may be designated by him to compete for the classification of "gunner." Only these will take part in the competition. The competition in each battery will be of the nature of a competitive examination, conducted solely by the board, under such rules as it may deem best for the attainment of the object of the competition, which, however, must be thoroughly practical in character, except as follows: Under heading 2 the examination may be oral, at the gun, or the competitor may be required to drill a detachment in the service of the piece; under heading 8 a practical exhibition of skill will be required only in reeving falls and in making the knots and splices used in mechanical maneuvers. In determining classification of "gunners" in accordance with the above schedule, use will be made of the most approved appliances that have been available for instruction in the battery during the practice year.

Thus, if under heading 1 there are several angle-measuring instruments available, excellence in the use of all of them will be considered in determining classification. Under 3, 4, and 5, range-finders and other instruments of precision for tracking-vessel drill will be used, if available, in addition to ordinary "estimation" methods. Under heading 7, not only the regulation sights but also telescopic sights and other improved appliances for pointing (if any have been used during the year) will be employed. In general, battery commanders will best prepare the men of their command for this contest by carrying out, as far as means at hand will permit, the provisions of General Orders, No. 108, of 1888, and General Orders, No. 49, of 1889, Adjutant General's Office.

Upon the termination of each battery contest the regimental board will classify the competitors as follows: Those who may have received 75 per cent. of the general aggregate maximum figure of merit will be classified as "gunners," of whom there may be three classes in each battery. The 1st class shall be the five men receiving the highest percentage of the aggregate figure of merit. The 2d class shall be the ten receiving the next highest percentage of this aggregate. All others who qualify for classification will constitute the 3d class. 1st and 2d class gunners will wear upon the dress coat, the blouse, and the overcoat suitable insignia distinctive of the class, in such manner and of such device as may hereafter be prescribed.

Instructions in regard to the issue of insignia will be given as soon as practicable.

The classification and insignia will be held only during the practice year next succeeding the competition at which they are won. At the end of each year classification and insignia must again be competed for.

As soon as practicable after the termination of the battery competitions in any regiment the regimental board will report its action in each case to the regimental commander, who will forward an abstract of the same for the information of the division commander. The division commander will cause the division inspector of artillery to forward an abstract of the regimental reports to the Headquarters of the Army.

At the termination of the second year's competition to be held in accordance with this order, all non-commissioned officers of artillery serving with batteries are expected to have qualified for classification as 1st or 2d class gunners. Any non-commissioned officer who fails to so classify by that time, or who, having qualified as above required, shall fail thereafter at any two successive battery competitions to renew his qualification, shall be reported by the division inspector of artillery to the Adjutant General of the Army for such action as the Commanding General of the Army may deem proper. Except in cases where special circumstances may justify a different view, such failure will be regarded as a disqualification for holding a warrant as a non-commissioned officer of artillery.

The gun detachment to represent the battery at the regimental competition shall be composed of the necessary number of non-commissioned officers from the 1st and 2d class gunners and of enlisted men who have qualified as 2d and 3d class gunners.

No battery shall be entitled to representation at the regimental competition until it is able to select a gun detachment of fourteen men from its qualified gunners, of which twelve (including two alternates) shall be privates. Nor shall there be held a regimental competition in any regiment until four-fifths of its heavy batteries shall be able to select their respective competing detachments subject to the above conditions.

The battery competitions at the Artillery School will be conducted by a board to be appointed by the commanding officer of the school, who will cause a report of the action in the case of each battery to be forwarded to the regimental commander.

IV.—Regimental competitions.—Whenever, in any regiment, the conditions prescribed in the preceding section (III) of this order have been complied with, the Commanding General of the Army may direct a competition among the several batteries of the regiment who have qualified to enter such competition. These competitions will be held, exigencies of the service permitting, at least once every two years. In those regiments the stations of which are such as to readily permit the assembling of the battery detachments, they may be held once each year.

In the regimental competitions each battery qualified to enter will be represented by a gun detachment, selected as hereinbefore prescribed and commanded by a lieutenant of the battery, who shall be designated by the battery commander, subject to the approval of the division commander.

The battery of the regiment serving as an instruction battery at Fort Monroe shall not be entitled to engage in this competition, except on special authority therefor from the Commanding General of the Army.

Upon receiving authority to hold a competition in any regiment, the division commander will designate the dates and place at which it shall be held. He will place the division inspector of artillery in charge of the regimental competitions in the division. The latter will be responsible to him for the proper execution of all the details connected with each competition, and will be assisted by a detail of three artillery officers, who should, in the case of any competition, be taken, as far as practicable, from other regiments than the one engaged in the competition. These three officers, together with the inspector of artillery, will constitute a board solely for the purpose of grading the competing detachments, and will report their action, at the close of the competition, to the division commander. In all other respects the competition will be under the control of the inspector of artillery.

The regimental competition will comprise three stages—

1st stage: This will cover the same ground as in the case of the battery competition, and will be carried on so far as is necessary to satisfy the board as to the relative merits of the competing detachments as indicated by the individual instruction of their members.

2d stage: (A) The service of the piece. This will include the service of the pieces to be used in the competitive firing and such others as the inspector of artillery may direct. (B) Mechanical maneuvers. This will include such maneuvers as the inspector of artillery may direct.

3d stage: Competitive firing. This will include firing with the 8-inch muzzle-loading rifle and the 15-inch smooth-bore, or with such more modern ordnance (guns and mortars) as may be available at the time of the competition.

The number of shots to be fired from each gun or mortar by each detachment, the ranges, the target, the maximum figures of merit, and the general instructions for conducting the competitive firing will be announced from the Headquarters of the Army prior to the first competition to be held under this order.

The battery to which belongs the winning detachment at this competition shall be entitled to carry a "regimental prize guidon" (of such pattern and device as may hereafter be prescribed) at parades and all other occasions of ceremony.

The officer commanding the detachment, and each member of the detachment, exclusive of alternates not participating, shall wear upon the dress coat appropriate and distinctive insignia, in such manner and of such device as may hereafter be prescribed.

The guidon and insignia shall be held only until the next regimental competition, immediately before which they shall be forwarded to the regimental commander to be presented by him, upon receipt of instructions to that effect from the division commander, to the battery and the detachment which shall have then become entitled to them.

An abstract of the reports of regimental competitions will be forwarded by the division inspector of artillery to the Headquarters of the Army.

V.—The general artillery competition.—This competition will be held at such time and place as the Commanding General of the Army may designate and will be conducted by a board of artillery officers appointed by him.

The competitors will be the battery detachments which shall have been declared the winners in the respective regimental competitions immediately preceding the general artillery competition.

Each detachment will be commanded by the commanding officer of the battery to which it belongs.

This competition will be similar in all essential respects to the regimental competition, subject to such special conditions as the Commanding General of the Army may from time to time impose.

The battery to which belongs the detachment declared the winner at this competition shall be entitled to carry an "artillery prize guidon" (of such pattern and device as may be hereafter prescribed) at parades and all other occasions of ceremony, and shall receive a trophy of such value and device as the Secretary of War may approve. The guidon and trophy shall, each time they are won, be held only until the next general artillery competition, immediately before which they shall be forwarded to the Commanding General of the Army to be presented by him to the battery sending the successful detachment to that competition.

The officer commanding the successful detachment, the lieutenant who commanded it at the regimental competition, and each member of the detachment, exclusive of alternates not participating, shall wear upon the dress coat appropriate and distinctive insignia, in such manner and of such device as may hereafter be prescribed. These insignia in like manner with the guidon and trophy shall be returned by the commanding officer of the battery to the Commanding General of the Army immediately before the next general artillery competition, to be presented to those who shall then become entitled to wear them.

In case the composition of the detachment entering the regimental competition shall have changed in respect to more than five of its members before the general artillery competition, a report will be made to the Adjutant General for decision by the Commanding General of the Army as to whether this detachment can take part in the general competition and under what conditions. Within the foregoing limit the battery commander is authorized to fill vacancies in the detachment.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, November 18, 1890.

I.—The following joint resolution is, by direction of the acting Secretary of War, republished for the information and government of all concerned :

I.—Joint resolution granting permission to officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States to wear the badges adopted by military societies of men who served in the War of the Revolution, the War of Eighteen Hundred and Twelve, the Mexican War, and the War of the Rebellion.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the distinctive badges adopted by military societies of men who served in the Armies and Navies of the United States in the War of the Revolution, the War of Eighteen Hundred and Twelve, the Mexican War, and the War of the Rebellion, respectively, may be worn upon all occasions of ceremony by officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States who are members of said organizations in their own right.

Approved, September 25, 1890.

In compliance with the above joint resolution the uniform regulations of the Army are modified, as follows : The phrase "occasions of ceremony," in the resolution, will include all musters, reviews, inspections, parades, and other occasions on which officers and men are required to appear in full-dress uniform.

The badges are to be worn on the left breast of the coat, the tops of the ribbons forming a horizontal line, the outer end of which shall be from two to four inches (according to the height of the wearer) below the upper line of the shoulder.

The ribbons are to be suspended from a bar of metal passed through their upper ends and attached to the coat.

II.—By direction of the acting Secretary of War the following is published for the information and guidance of officers of the Army disbursing public funds :

Disbursing officers will hereafter be required to use, for each capacity in which they may be serving, but one series of checks on the same depository at the same time, and to exhaust first the lowest numbered series on hand.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, November 21, 1890.

I.--By direction of the Secretary of War, and in conformity with the provisions of the act of Congress approved October 1, 1890, paragraphs 21 and 22 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

21. Promotions in established staff corps and departments up to the grade of colonel will be made by seniority, subject to the examinations required by law.

22. In the line of the Army promotions to the rank of colonel, in each arm of the service, will be made by seniority, subject to the examinations required by law, with the exception, however, that all officers of the line of the Army in service October 1, 1890, above the grade of 2d lieutenant shall, subject to the prescribed examinations, be promoted in accordance with the regulations existing on that date.

II.--By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 1464, 1465, and 1466 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

1464. When an officer travels, without troops, under orders from competent authority, he is entitled under existing law to the following allowances :

1st. To mileage at the rate of four cents per mile for the distance between the points covered by the order. Such distance will be computed over the shortest usually traveled route.

2d. To reimbursement of the cost of transportation actually paid by the officer over the route above specified (exclusive of parlor-car fares and charges for baggage and transfers), upon his certificate that he did not obtain transportation from the Quartermaster's Department. Officers cannot be reimbursed, however, for cost of transportation over free roads, or over bond-aided Pacific railroads ; but transportation, in kind, will be furnished them by the Quartermaster's Department over such roads.

1465. The travel allowances provided for in paragraph 1464 will be paid by any paymaster stationed in the division or department in which journeys are completed.

1466. Claims for travel allowance, based upon orders issued from the Headquarters of the Army, will be forwarded for settlement to the chief paymaster of the division or department in which the journeys are completed.

By direction of the Secretary of War a board of officers will assemble at the Army Building, New York City, on the 16th day of December, 1890, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to consider and recommend a suitable magazine system for rifles and carbines for the military service.

Detail for the board.

Colonel August V. Kautz, 8th Infantry.

Lieutenant Colonel Robert H. Hall, 6th Infantry.

Major George W. McKee, Ordnance Department.

Major Wirt Davis, 5th Cavalry.

Captain Henry B. Freeman, 7th Infantry.

Captain Stanhope E. Blunt, Ordnance Department.

The junior member will act as recorder.

All persons interested in magazine rifles are invited to appear in person before the board and submit samples under such rules as may be adopted by the board. The arms submitted must be of caliber .80, and must use the Frankford Arsenal experimental cartridge, except that the Chief of Ordnance may, in his discretion, submit such small-arms, irrespective of caliber, for examination and test as he may judge will prove useful to the board.

Samples of the experimental cartridge, and any further information required by those interested, may be obtained by addressing the recorder of the board at the National Armory, Springfield, Massachusetts.

The Chief of Ordnance will supply such information and offer such facilities to the board in the trials and experiments undertaken as may be necessary to the performance of the duty assigned it.

The board is authorized to adjourn from time to time to the National Armory, Springfield, Massachusetts, in order to avail itself of the resources of that establishment, and upon final adjournment the members will return to their proper stations. HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, December 3, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following is published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

When charges are preferred against enlisted men for offenses heretofore cognizable by garrison or regimental court-martial, they will be laid before the post commander, who will cause the accused to be brought before the summary court within the statutory time. Here they will be arraigned and allowed to plead, according to the practice of courts-martial. If an accused does not demand a removal of his case to a regimental or garrison court-martial, or if, being a sergeant, he does not object to trial by inferior court-martial, or if he does not object to be tried by the officer second in rank on the ground of his being the accuser, or if he does not plead guilty, witnesses will be sworn and testimony heard, the accused being permitted to testify and make a statement in defense ; but the evidence and statement will not be recorded.

When the summary court shall have arrived at a finding and judgment, the "summary court record" book, with the entries therein made in accordance with the headings to its columns, will be laid before the post commander for his action, which also will be entered in the record book, dated and signed. When a case is heard by the post commander, the proceedings will be recorded in the same book. No other record of the proceedings will be kept.

Post commanders will furnish company and other commanders extracts from the "summary court record" of the trials of men of their commands, to enable them to make the proper record in company books and on rolls and returns.

The trials of men before summary courts will not be published in orders.

The following form for the "summary court record" book has been adopted, and will be furnished by the Adjutant General of the Army, with blank forms of reports required to be made monthly to department headquarters :

Summary court record.

No.	Name, rank, company and regiment.	Charges and specifications.	Names of witnesses.	When arrested.	When arraigned.	Plea.	Finding.	Sentence, with signature of trial officer.	Action of commanding officer, with date and signature.

341. Profits accumulating after the charges for the above-named and other like purposes shall have been met, and a reserve fund sufficient to cover all anticipated canteen expenses for at least one month shall have been set apart, will be disposed of as follows: Ten per cent. will be paid into the band fund, if a band be serving at the post, and the remainder will be distributed among the companies and detachments contributing to the canteen, according to the mean strength present of each, exclusive of the sick and the prisoners. The amounts thus received will be used and accounted for as prescribed in paragraphs 292, 294, 301, and 302. The division of profits will be made at the end of every quarter, or oftener if deemed advisable by the canteen council and commanding officer; but no distribution of profits shall be made unless the canteen is absolutely free from debt. A division of the cash resources of the canteen, after all debts shall have been paid, will also be made whenever the troops, or a part of them, being contributors to the canteen, quit their station at the post; in which event no deduction on account of a reserve fund shall be made from the share of the troops to be withdrawn.

I.—The Major General Commanding communicates to the Army the following orders of the Secretary of War announcing the death of Brigadier General Jedediah H. Baxter, Surgeon General of the Army :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, December 4, 1890.

ORDERS:

It is with great sorrow that the Secretary of War announces the death of Brigadier General Jedediah H. Baxter, Surgeon General of the Army, which occurred at his residence in this city this morning.

Although but for a short time the chief of the Medical Department of the Army, General Baxter showed such administrative capacity as gave promise of great usefulness to the service in which his professional attainments and efficiency were conspicuous. His many friends in every walk of life will sincerely regret his untimely death and the department the sudden ending of a career so full of promise for the future.

He entered the military service as surgeon of the 12th Massachusetts Volunteers June 26, 1861; was appointed surgeon, U. S. Volunteers, April 4, 1862; lieutenant colonel and medical purveyor, U. S. Army, July 20, 1867; colonel and Chief Medical Purveyor June 23, 1874; and appointed Surgeon General of the Army August 16, 1890. His service during the war was with the Army of the Potomac from July 27, 1861, to June, 1862, and then in charge of Campbell General Hospital until January, 1864. On duty in the Provost Marshal General's Office in charge of the compilation of the medical statistics of that bureau, and as Chief Medical Purveyor of the Army up to the date of his appointment as Surgeon General. He received the brevets of lieutenant colonel and colonel of volunteers, and of colonel, U. S. Army, for faithful and meritorious service during the war.

The officers of the Medical Department will wear the usual badge of mourning for six months.

REDFIELD PROCTOR,
Secretary of War.

II.—Upon the day after the receipt of this order at each military post eleven guns will be fired at intervals of one-half hour, commencing at 8 o'clock a. m.

 John Grimley.

[November 17, 1890.]

Mr. Justice BREWER delivered the opinion of the Court.

John Grimley, the appellee, was, on the 23th day of May, 1888, found guilty by a court-martial of the crime of desertion, and sentenced to be imprisoned six months. While serving out this sentence at Fort Warren, Massachusetts, he sued out a writ of habeas corpus from the District Court of the United States for the District of Massachusetts. That court, on June 25, 1888, discharged him from custody. The United States appeal to the Circuit Court for said District, which, on the 27th day of February, 1889, affirmed the decree of the District Court. (38 Fed. Rep. 84.) From this decision the United States has brought this appeal.

The Circuit Court found that the petitioner was forty years of age at the time of his alleged enlistment, although he represented himself to be but twenty-eight; and, under section 1116 of the Revised Statutes, ruled that the enlistment was void, and that Grimley never became a soldier, and was not subject to the jurisdiction of the court-martial. That section reads: "Recruits enlisting in the Army must be effective and able-bodied men, and between the ages of sixteen and thirty-five years, at the time of their enlistment." It cannot be doubted that the civil courts may in any case enquire into the jurisdiction of a court-martial, and if it appears that the party condemned was not amenable to its jurisdiction, may discharge him from the sentence. And, on the other hand, it is equally clear that by habeas corpus the civil courts exercise no supervisory or correcting power over the proceedings of a court-martial; and that no mere errors in their proceedings are open to consideration. The single inquiry, the test, is jurisdiction. That being established, the habeas corpus must be denied and the petitioner remanded. That wanting, it must be sustained and the petitioner discharged. If Grimley was an enlisted soldier he was amenable to the jurisdiction of the court-martial; and the principal question, the one ruled against the government, is whether Grimley's enlistment was void by reason of the fact that he was over thirty-five years of age. This case involves a matter of contractual relation between the parties; and the law of contracts, as applicable thereto, is worthy of notice. The government, as contracting party, offers contract and service. Grimley accepts such contract, declaring that he possesses all the qualifications prescribed in the government's offer. The contract is duly signed. Grimley has made an untrue statement in regard to his qualifications. The government makes no objection because of the untruth. The qualification is one for the benefit of the government, one of the contracting parties. Who can take advantage of Grimley's lack of qualification? Obviously only the party for whose benefit it was inserted. Such is the ordinary law of contracts. Suppose "A," an individual, were to offer to enter into contract with persons of Anglo-Saxon descent, and "B," representing that he is of such descent, accepts the offer and enters into contract; can he, thereafter, "A" making no objection, repudiate the contract on the ground that he is not of Anglo-Saxon descent? "A" has prescribed the terms. He contracts with "B" upon the strength of his representations that he comes within those terms. Can "B," thereafter, plead his disability in avoidance of the contract? On the other hand, suppose for any reason it could be contended that the proviso as to age was for the benefit of the party enlisting, is Grimley in any better position? The matter of age is merely incidental, and not of the substance of the contract; and can a party by false representations as to such incidental matter obtain a contract, and thereafter disown and repudiate its obligations on the simple ground that the fact in reference to this incidental matter was contrary to his representations? May he utter a falsehood to acquire a contract, and plead the truth to avoid it, when the matter in respect to which the falsehood is stated is for his benefit? It must be noted here, that in the present contract is involved no matter of duress, imposition, ignorance, or intoxication. Grimley was sober, and of his own volition went to the recruiting office and enlisted. There was no compulsion, no solicitation, no misrepresentation. A man of mature years, he entered freely into the contract.

But in this transaction something more is involved than the making of a contract, whose breach exposes to an action for damages. Enlistment is a contract; but it is one of those contracts which changes the status; and where that is changed, no breach of the contract destroys the new status or relieves from the obligations which its existence imposes. Marriage is a contract; but it is one which creates a status. Its contract obligations are mutual faithfulness; but a breach of those obligations does not destroy the status or change the relation of the parties to each other. The parties remain husband and wife, no matter what their conduct to each other—no matter how great their disregard of marital obligations. It is true that courts have power, under the statutes of most States, to terminate those contract obligations, and put an end to the marital relations. But this is never done at the instance of the wrongdoer. The injured party, and the injured party alone, can obtain relief and a change of status by judicial action. So, also, a foreigner by naturalization enters into new obligations. More than that, he thereby changes his status; he ceases to be an alien, and becomes a citizen, and when that change is once accomplished, no disloyalty on his part, no breach of the obligations of citizenship, of itself destroys his citizenship. In other words, it is a general rule accompanying a change of status, that when once accomplished it is not destroyed by the mere misconduct of one of the parties, and the guilty party cannot plead his own wrong as working a termination and destruction thereof. Especially is he debarred from pleading the existence of facts personal to himself, existing before the change of status, the entrance into new relations, which would have excused him from entering into those relations and making the change, or, if disclosed to the other party, would have led it to decline admission into the relation, or consent to the change.

By enlistment the citizen becomes a soldier. His relations to the State and the public are changed. He acquires a new status, with correlative rights and duties; and although he may violate his contract obligations, his status as a soldier is unchanged. He cannot of his own volition throw off the garments he has once put on, nor can he, the State not objecting, renounce his relations and destroy his status on the plea that, if he had disclosed truthfully the facts, the other party, the State, would not have entered into the new relations with him, or permitted him to change his status. Of course these considerations may not apply where there is insanity, idiocy, infancy, or any other disability which, in its nature, disables a party from changing his status or entering into new relations. But where a party is sui juris, without any disability to enter into the new relations, the rule generally applies as stated. A naturalized citizen would not be permitted, as a defence to a charge of treason, to say that he had acquired his citizenship through perjury, that he had not been a resident of the United States for five years, or within the State or Territory where he was naturalized one year, or that he was not a man of good moral character, or that he was not attached to the Constitution. No more can an enlisted soldier avoid a charge of desertion, and escape the consequences of such act, by proof that he was over age at the time of enlistment, or that he was not able-bodied, or that he had been convicted of a felony, or that before his enlistment he had been a deserter from the military service of the United States. These are matters which do not inhere in the substance of the contract, do not prevent a change of status, do not render the new relations assumed absolutely void. And in the case of a soldier, these considerations become of vast public importance. While our regular army is small compared with those of European nations, yet its vigor and efficiency are equally important. An army is not a deliberative body. It is the executive arm. Its law is that of obedience. No question can be left open as to the right to command in the officer, or the duty of obedience in the soldier. Vigor and efficiency on the part of the officer and confidence among the soldiers in one another are impaired if any question be left open as to their attitude to each other. So, unless there be in the nature of things some inherent vice in the existence of the relation, or natural wrong in the manner in which it was established, public policy requires that it should not be disturbed. Now, there is no inherent vice in the military service of a man forty years of age. The age of thirty-five, as prescribed in the statute, is one of convenience merely. The government has the right to the military service of all its able-bodied citizens; and may, when emergency arises, justify exact that service from all. And if for its own convenience, and with a view to the selection of the best material, it has fixed the age at thirty-five, it is a matter which in any given case it may waive; and it does not lie in the mouth of any one above that age, on that account alone, to demand release from an obligation voluntarily assumed, and discharge from a service voluntarily entered into. The government, and the government alone, is the party to the transaction that can raise objections on that ground. We conclude, therefore, that the age of the petitioner was no ground for his discharge.

A minor question arises on these facts as to whether the petitioner was in fact enlisted. It appears that on Saturday, February 18, 1868, the petitioner entered the recruiting rendezvous in Boston, and expressed a desire to enlist. He underwent a physical examination. He took the oath of allegiance before the recruiting officer, signed the clothing rolls, and was placed in charge of the sergeant. The latter took him to the clothing room, and selected for his uniform a cap, trousers, blanket, shirt and pair of stockings, and laid them before him. He put none of these articles on except the cap, and that in a few minutes he took off. He then asked permission to go away and see his friends, and the sergeant told him to go, and be back on Monday. He went away in his citizen's clothes, returned to his mother's house and told her what he had done. She was very much grieved, and after some conversation with him went to the recruiting office, and finding three men there told them her errand, and was advised substantially that Grimley need not come back, and might go to work. Who these men were is not disclosed. On the strength of that he did not return, but went off and engaged in service as a coachman. He was arrested as a deserter on May 16, 1868, brought before a court-martial and found guilty, as heretofore stated. The oath of allegiance which he took was as follows:

"The United States of America.

"State of Massachusetts, }
City or Town of Boston, } as:

"I, John Grimley, born in Armagh, in the State of Ireland, aged twenty-eight years and ——— months, and by occupation a groom, do hereby acknowledge to have voluntarily enlisted, this eighteenth day of February, 1868, as a soldier in the Army of the United States of America, for the period of five years, unless sooner discharged by proper authority; and do also agree to accept from the United States such bounty, pay, rations and clothing as are or may be established by law. And I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America, and that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever; and that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States, and the orders of the officers appointed over me, according to the rules and articles of war.

"JOHN GRIMLEY. [Seal.]

"Subscribed and duly sworn to before me this 18th day of February, A. D. 1868.

"JAMES MILLER,
"Captain, 2d Infantry, Recruiting Officer."

The question presented is, whether the petitioner had, in fact, enlisted and become a soldier. It will be noticed that in this oath of allegiance is an acknowledgment that he had enlisted, and that it was not an agreement to enlist. In this respect this case differs from that of Tyler v. Pomeroy (8 Allen, 480,) in which the plaintiff, with others, had signed a paper by which, in terms they agreed to serve for a period of three years "from the date of our being mustered into the United States' service." In that case Mr. Justice Gray, then a member of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, in an opinion reviewing all the authorities in England and in this country, drew a distinction between an agreement to enlist, which, if broken, simply gave a right of action for damages, and an enlistment, which changes the status of the party, transfers him from civil to military life, and renders him amenable to military jurisdiction. Section 1342 of the Revised Statutes provides that the Army of the United States shall be governed by certain rules and articles thereafter stated. Article 2 provides: "These rules and articles shall be read to every enlisted man at the time of, or within six days after, his enlistment, and he shall thereupon take an oath or affirmation," &c. Obviously the oath is the final act in the matter of enlistment. Article 47, respecting desertion, reads: "Any officer or soldier who, having received pay, or having been duly enlisted in the service of the United States, deserts the same," &c. By this, either receipt of pay or enlistment determines the status; and after enlistment the party becomes amenable to military jurisdiction, although no actual service may have been rendered and no pay received.

It is insisted that the Articles of War were not read to him; but that is not a prerequisite. "Within six days after" is the statute. The reading of the one hundred and twenty-eight articles, many of which do not concern the duty of a soldier, is not essential to his enlistment. Paragraph No. 766 of the Army Regulations of 1881 is as follows: "The forms of declaration, and of consent in the case of a minor, having been signed and witnessed, the recruit will then be duly examined by the recruiting officer and surgeon, if one be present, and, if accepted, the 47th and 103d Articles of War will be read to him, after which he will be allowed time to consider the subject until his mind appears to be fully made up before the oath is administered to him." That this was complied with is probable, from the testimony.

The petitioner testifies that something was read to him out of a book, though he is unable to say what it was; and Captain Miller, the recruiting officer, testifies that he is under the impression, though not positive, that he read the 47th article to him. He also says that he had quite a conversation with him, inquiring as to his past life and why he had decided to enlist. No solicitations were used, no advantage taken of him. The enlistment was a deliberate act. No specified amount of time for the purpose of consideration is prescribed by the regulation. The oath is not to be administered until his mind is fully made up, and that is all that is required. There is nothing in the circumstances surrounding the enlistment to vitiate the transaction. We conclude, therefore, upon the whole case, that the age of the petitioner was no bar to his enlistment of which he can take advantage; that the taking of the oath of allegiance is the pivotal fact which changes the status from that of civilian to that of soldier; that the enlistment was a deliberate act on the part of the petitioner; and that the circumstances surrounding it were not such as would enable him, of his own volition, to ignore it, or justify a court in setting it aside.

The judgment of the Circuit Court will be reversed and the case remanded with instructions to reverse the decree of the District Court and take such further proceedings as shall be in conformity with the opinion of this court.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

No. 931.—OCTOBER TERM, 1890.

Frank Morrissey, Appellant, } vs. } Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United Major David Perry. } States for the Eastern District of Missouri.

[November 17, 1890.]

Mr. Justice BREWER delivered the opinion of the Court.

This case, appealed from the Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, presents, like that of the United States v. Grimley, just decided, a question arising on habeas corpus as to the right of the petitioner, an enlisted soldier, to be discharged from military custody. An effort was made to bring this case here by writ of error; but that was abandoned, and an appeal rightfully substituted. (In re Neagle, 135 U. S. 42.) The facts differ from those in that case, in this: The petitioner was seventeen years of age, and had a mother living who did not consent to his enlistment. Upon his enlistment he drew from the United States his uniform and equipments, and continued in actual service from the 23d day of August to the 18th day of September, 1883, when he deserted. He remained in concealment until February, 1889, at which time he had become of age, and then appeared at a recruiting office and demanded his discharge from the army on the ground that he was a minor when enlisted. In his oath of allegiance he swore that he was twenty-one years and five months old. It will be seen that the petitioner was within the age prescribed by section 1116 of the Revised Statutes, to wit, sixteen and thirty-five years. Section 1117 provides that "no person under the age of twenty-one years shall be enlisted or mustered into the military service of the United States without the written consent of his parents or guardians: Provided, That such minor has such parents or guardians entitled to his custody and control." But this provision is for the benefit of the parent or guardian. It means simply that the government will not disturb the control of parent or guardian over his or her child without consent. It gives the right to such parent or guardian to invoke the aid of the court and secure the restoration of a minor to his or her control; but it gives no privilege to the minor.

The age at which an infant shall be competent to do any acts or perform any duties, military or civil, depends wholly upon the legislature. (United States v. Bainbridge, 1 Mason, 71; Wassum v. Feeney, 121 Mass. 93, 96.) Congress has declared that minors over the age of sixteen are capable of entering the military service, and undertaking and performing its duties.

An enlistment is not a contract only, but effects a change of status. (Grimley's Case, supra.) It is not, therefore, like an ordinary contract, voidable by the infant. At common law an enlistment was not voidable either by the infant or by his parents or guardians. (The King v. The Inhabitants of Rotherford Greys, 2 Dow. & Ry. 628, 634; S. C. 1 B. & C. 345, 350; The King v. The Inhabitants of Lytchet Matravers, 1 Man. & Ry. 25, 31; S. C. 7 B. & C. 226, 231; Commonwealth v. Gamble, 11 S. & R. 93; United States v. Blakeney, 3 Grat. 405, 411-412.)

In this case the parent never insisted upon her right of custody and control ; and the fact that he had a mother living at the time is, therefore, immaterial. The contract of enlistment was good so far as the petitioner is concerned. He was not only de facto, but de jure, a soldier—amenable to military jurisdiction. His mother not interfering, he was bound to remain in the service. His desertion and concealment for five years did not relieve him from his obligations as a soldier, or his liability to military control. The order of the Circuit Court remanding him to the custody of the appellee was correct and must be affirmed.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 141.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, December 16, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 417 (as amended by General Orders, No. 8, current series, from this office), 1425, and 1426 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows:

ROLL-CALLS, ETC.

417. There shall be, daily, at least two roll-calls, viz., at reveille and retreat. They will be made on the company parades by the 1st sergeants, superintended by a commissioned officer. Ordinarily there will not be any formation for roll-call at tattoo, but the prescribed signal will be sounded, and fifteen minutes thereafter lights will be extinguished in barracks and all noises and loud talking cease. Lights will, however, be permitted in the recreation rooms of companies until eleven o'clock, when taps shall be sounded and an inspection of quarters be made by 1st sergeants, or other non-commissioned officers of the company, as company commanders may direct, who will report to the officer of the day the names of all enlisted men who may be absent therefrom without leave.

Reveille roll-call in garrison shall not ordinarily take place earlier than half past five o'clock a. m. in summer and half past six a. m. in winter.

There shall be also at all military posts calls sounded daily to breakfast, dinner, and supper, ordinarily, as follows: For breakfast, not earlier than reveille nor later than half an hour after reveille; for dinner, not earlier than twelve m. nor later than fifteen minutes after twelve p. m.; for supper, not earlier than fifteen minutes after five p. m. nor later than fifteen minutes after six p. m. Post commanders will see that meals for the enlisted men of their commands are promptly served immediately after the hours appointed for the calls for them; that the duties of the post are so arranged, as far as compatible with the requirements of the service, that the enlisted men may be present at the regular hours for meals; and that the men are allowed not less than twenty minutes for breakfast and supper, and not less than thirty minutes for dinner.

1425. The commutation of rations specified in paragraph 1424 will be allowed, as a rule, only in case of a soldier traveling alone under orders. It will not be paid to detachments consisting of more than two men (or three men when one is an insane patient or a military prisoner), nor in any case where the travel can be accomplished in less than twenty-four hours, except in case of an enlisted man ordered from the place or station where his rations have been regularly commuted, or where rations in kind cannot be furnished.

1426. Commutation of rations at the rate of twenty-five cents is allowed to a soldier on furlough by competent authority, provided he has reported for duty at his proper station, as required by the furlough, on or before its expiration, or has been discharged. The furlough must show the date to which the soldier has been subsisted, and must be presented with the claim for commutation (Form No. 13), with the certificate of a commissioned officer that the soldier has returned to duty or has been discharged on or before its expiration. Payment will not be made until the expiration of the furlough and return therefrom, or until after discharge, if furloughed until then. The officer making the payment will indorse the fact on the furlough and certify on the voucher for the payment that he has made such indorsement.

GENERAL ORDERS, } HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
No. 142. } ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, December 16, 1890.

I.--The following order has been received from the War Department:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, December 16, 1890.

ORDERS:

It is with sincere sorrow that the Secretary of War announces the death of Major General Alfred H. Terry, U. S. Army (retired), which occurred at his home in New Haven, Connecticut, this morning.

General Terry was one of the most gentle, kind, and brave men that ever served his country. He was an ideal soldier and gentleman, whose honest, truthful, and upright life gained him the highest esteem of all who knew him. His service during the war (commencing as colonel of the 2d Connecticut Volunteers, May 7, 1861) was so uniformly gallant and conspicuous, whether leading his regiment or in the exercise of higher command, as to earn him rapid promotion to the rank of brigadier general and major general of volunteers and brigadier general, U. S. Army; the two latter grades conferred on him for the assault and capture of Fort Fisher, January 15, 1865, for which the thanks of Congress were tendered to him and the officers and soldiers of his command "for the unsurpassed gallantry and skill exhibited by them in the attack upon Fort Fisher and the brilliant and decisive victory by which that important work has been captured from the rebel forces and placed in the possession and under the authority of the United States, and for their long and faithful service and unwavering devotion to the cause of the country in the midst of the greatest difficulties and dangers."

After the close of the war General Terry was successively in command of the Departments of Virginia, Dakota, the South, and again Dakota, and performed eminent service as a member of important boards and commissions. He was appointed major general, U. S. Army, March 3, 1886, and assigned to the command of the Division of the Missouri, which he held until April 5, 1888, when he was retired from active service on account of disability.

REDFIELD PROCTOR,
Secretary of War.

II.--The major general commanding the Division of the Atlantic will give the necessary order for appropriate military ceremonies at the funeral.

Upon the day after the receipt of this order at each military post thirteen guns will be fired at intervals of one-half hour, commencing at 8 o'clock a. m.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 143.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, December 17, 1890.

The following modifications, prepared by Captain Stanhope E. Blunt, Ordnance Department, of the Firing Regulations for Small-Arms, having received the approval of the Secretary of War, will govern in the future practice of the Army :

1. Commissioned officers after completing the firing with rifle or carbine prescribed for the second and subsequent seasons, while permitted, will not be required to participate in the annual course of practice ; if, however, they do practice and make scores sufficient for qualification as marksmen, they will be included in the figure of merit ; but if they do not practice, or if their scores are below the required total, they will not be classified.

2. The monthly company report of progress in target firing (Form 30-c) and the orders required by paragraph 560 to be compiled monthly from it will hereafter be omitted.

3. The division competitions provided for by paragraphs 591, 598, and 599 will be omitted.

4. The alternates mentioned in paragraph 596 will not hereafter be added to department teams.

5. The cavalry competitions provided for by paragraph 600 will be four in number ; they will be conducted in the manner there prescribed but for prizes similar to those awarded at department competitions.

6. In the revolver match provided for by paragraph 601 the dismounted portion will be as there prescribed. The mounted portion as there prescribed, with the following modifications :

a. Under 1st, page 231, the targets (target D) will be at 10 yards instead of 5 yards from the track.

b. Instead of the firing to the front (2d, page 231), the firing will be conducted as in 1st, page 231, but with the target (target D) first fired at 25 yards from the track, the second target 20 yards, the third target 15 yards, the fourth target 10 yards, and the last target 5 yards from the track, as illustrated in the accompanying diagram.

When repeating the firing to the left the positions of the targets will be changed so that again the first fired at shall be 25 yards from the track, the second 20 yards, and so on. The targets will be placed at an angle of 45° with the track, in order that the firing may be to the right front and left front, instead of directly to the right and left.

c. Same as "a," except that the targets (target K) will be the silhouette of a mounted soldier. In all cases, both in regular practice and in matches, where this target is used, hits, direct or ricochet, in that portion of the silhouette above a line drawn from the back of the horse to the point of junction of the trooper's arm and horse's neck, will be scored two; all other hits will be scored one.

d. Same as "b," except that target K will be used instead of target D.

In determining the order of merit in the revolver match, the dismounted firing, the mounted firing at the D targets, and the mounted firing at the K targets will be considered separately and the final order decided by the mean of the percentages for these three classes. In case of ties the provisions of paragraph 651 will be applied, the firing at the K targets being for this purpose considered as at the longest distance and the dismounted firing at the shortest. The prizes will be as now provided by paragraph 602.

If deemed expedient by the officer in charge of the competition, paragraph 601 may be further modified by including in the first day of the match a portion of the mounted firing, provided that similar portions for each competitor are so included.

7. Distinguished marksmen eligible under the provisions of paragraph 605 for membership on the Army teams will participate in the appropriate department or cavalry competition in a manner similar to that now provided in paragraphs 603 and 604. The officers and enlisted men, five in number, highest on the resulting list at each department or cavalry competition will be assembled annually at some central point to compete for places respectively on the Army rifle and Army carbine teams of ten, in the manner and for the prizes now provided for Army competitions. Alternates will not be selected for these Army contests.

8. Distinguished marksmen who have not gained places among the selected competitors for the Army teams or who may no longer be eligible for those teams will be assembled annually to the number of ten firing with the rifle and the same number with the carbine to compete for the prizes now provided in paragraph 605. The number of these marksmen to be thus selected at each department or cavalry competition will be determined annually by the Commanding General of the Army. The competitions of these teams will be held at the same time and place as the Army competitions.

9. The "short quick jerk forward and downward" prescribed in paragraph 886 as an aid in cocking the revolver will be omitted and the pistol cocked by the thumb alone while at the position of raise pistol.

10. In dismounted firing with the revolver deliberate aim will be taken, or else the method of quick-aimed fire hereafter prescribed for mounted practice will be followed, in the discretion of the troop commander.

11. The dismounted practice at 75 yards required by paragraph 845 will be omitted and the record practice at 25 yards and 60 yards limited to five shots at each range.

12. In mounted practice the method of quick-aimed fire will be substituted for the snap shooting prescribed in paragraphs 883, 887, and 889. In this method of firing the soldier will lower the pistol from the position of raise pistol, point or thrust it towards the objective, and, looking along the barrel at the object, fire without delay as the alignment is caught and without effort to prolong or correct the aim.

13. In the preliminary instruction in mounted firing the targets (refer to diagram, paragraph 848) will be placed at 10 yards as well as at 5 yards from the track and also as prescribed in paragraph 6, "b," of this order, and the gaits of walk and trot as well as gallop observed when circling around the track. To this will be added similar instruction using for targets the silhouette (target K) of a mounted soldier.

14. Mounted firing to the front, both individual and collective, as prescribed by paragraphs 853 and 854, will be omitted.

15. The following record or regular mounted pistol practice will be substituted for that prescribed by paragraph 855, each trooper during its prosecution riding his own horse :

a. With the targets (target D) arranged as in paragraph 848, one circling of the track at a walk for each trooper firing five shots in each of the prescribed directions, viz., to the right, left, right front, left front, and right rear, or 25 shots in all.

b. Similar to "a," except that the track will be traversed at a gallop; 25 shots.

c. Similar to "b," except that the targets will be 10 yards instead of 5 yards from the track; 25 shots.

d. Similar to "c," except that the targets (target K) shall be silhouettes of a mounted soldier; 25 shots.

e. With the targets (target D) arranged as directed in paragraph 6, "b," of this order, one circling of the track, at a gallop, to the right and one to the left; 10 shots.

f. Similar to "e," except that the target K will be used instead of target D; 10 shots.

The entire record course, which will be followed by each officer and enlisted man, thus comprises 10 shots dismounted and 120 shots mounted.

16. Instruction in revolver firing will be held separately from that with the carbine, the season for that purpose being one month in duration, which will either precede or follow the practice season with the carbine, as the department commander may direct.

17. As accuracy in revolver firing is greatly influenced by the tractability of the horses, every endeavor will be made to accustom them to the report of fire-arms. For this purpose it will be found advantageous to conduct the earlier instruction of the trooper, prescribed by paragraphs 843 and 844, in the corral or other convenient place near the horses, which, at first left free to move around, should, as they become more familiar with the noise and flash, be lariatied near the firing party and gradually brought closer to the men ; also, during the dismounted practice with ball-cartridges, the horses should always be in the near vicinity of the firing point.

If this training is carefully conducted, and if when commencing the mounted practice with blank cartridges prescribed in paragraph 847 effort is made to do so without haste or excitement, the horses will be readily broken to mounted firing.

18. No reports of revolver firing will hereafter be rendered except that (Form 30-f) now required by paragraph 856, at the close of the season.

19. For each cavalryman, officer and enlisted man, revolver ammunition to the value of $2 will hereafter be annually allowed, and in addition for each troop of cavalry 8,000 rounds of blank revolver ammunition instead of the respective amounts now fixed by paragraphs 875 and 881.

20. The allowance of revolver ammunition now fixed by paragraph 884 is modified to read 60 ball and 20 blank cartridges.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraph 1150 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 85, of 1889, from this office, is further amended to read as follows:

1150. Each enlisted man in the field, and each prisoner in the guard-house, will be allowed a bed-sack and thirty pounds of straw per month for bedding, and to men in hospital such quantity as the chief medical officer shall certify to be necessary. So far as practicable, iron bunks will be furnished to all prisoners in post guard-houses and prison-rooms.

Washington, December 19, 1890.

By direction of the Secretary of War paragraphs 118 and 122 of the Regulations are amended to read as follows :

118. Department commanders will carefully consider the special reports made in accordance with the foregoing paragraph, and on or before the first of September of each year forward to the Adjutant General a report of the desertions which have occurred within their commands during the preceding fiscal year, with an expression of their views as to the causes of the same and the measures which should be taken to prevent their recurrence. Commanders of posts and officers in charge of recruiting rendezvous shall take prompt action to arrest all deserters amenable to trial and punishment. They shall report quarterly, commencing January 1, 1891, all desertions from their respective commands during the preceding three months, and what action they have taken thereon. Department commanders and the superintendent of the recruiting service shall forward these reports to the Adjutant General, with their remarks and any additional information necessary to complete the record of action in each case.

122. A reward of sixty dollars will be paid to any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory, or district, to arrest offenders, for the arrest and the delivery to the proper military authority at a military station (or at some convenient point as near thereto as can be agreed upon) of any soldier who deserted subsequently to December 31, 1888, and is liable, under existing law, to trial and punishment for desertion. This reward will be paid by the Quartermaster's Department in full satisfaction of all expenses for arresting, keeping, and delivering, and its payment will be reported to the commander of the company or detachment to which the deserter may belong.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, December 31, 1890.

The following orders from the War Department are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, December 30, 1890.

By authority of the President of the United States dated December 22, 1890, the Executive order dated October 2, 1890, in the matter, is rescinded, and under the provisions of the first section of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884, entitled "An act to provide for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations," the military reservation of Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, declared by the President January 25, 1870, is hereby transferred and turned over to the Secretary of the Interior for disposition, as provided in subsequent sections of the aforesaid act, or as may be otherwise provided by law, the same being no longer required for military purposes.

The said reservation is located in the Cherokee Nation, on the east bank of the Neosho (or Grand) River; contains 5,541 acres, more or less; and is embraced in the following-described boundaries, to wit :

Commencing at a point 720 feet south 15° 30' west from the southeast corner of the quartermaster's store-house; thence south 81° 30' east 885 feet; thence south 32° east 1,023 feet; thence north 78° 55' east 1,736 feet; thence south 79° east 6,585 feet to the southeast corner of the reservation; thence north 9° 30' east six miles; thence south 79° 30' west 8,930 feet to a point in the center of Fourteen Mile Creek; thence following the course of said creek in a southerly direction to its confluence with the Grand River; thence down the Grand River, following its center, to a sandstone monument on the left bank marked U. S. R. on the one side and I. T. on the other, which constitutes the southwest corner of the reservation; thence south 64° west 560 feet to the point of beginning. (The points of the compass are true and not magnetic; variation 9° 30' east.)

REDFIELD PROCTOR,

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, December 30, 1890.

By authority of the President of the United States dated December 22, 1890, the Executive order dated October 2, 1890, in the matter, is rescinded, and under the provisions of the first section of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884, entitled "An act to provide for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations," the military reservation of Fort Crawford, Colorado, declared by President's order dated March 12, 1884, and reduced by President's order dated July 22, 1884, is hereby transferred and turned over to the Secretary of the Interior for disposition, as provided in subsequent sections of the aforesaid act, or as may be otherwise provided by law, the same being no longer required for military purposes.

The said reservation is located in the valley of the Uncompahgre River, Montrose County, Colorado, contains 8.55 square miles, or 5,472 acres, more or less, and embraces part of section 21, south $\frac{1}{2}$ of section 22, south $\frac{1}{2}$ of sections 21 and 23; part of southwest $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 24; part of section 25; all of section 26; parts of sections 27, 28, and 34; all of section 35; part of section 36, in township 48 north, range 9; part of section 31, in township 48 north, range 8; part of section 6, township 47 north, range 8; and parts of sections 1, 2, 11, and 12, in township 47 north, range 9; all west of New Mexico principal meridian.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 20, 1890.

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of January, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—NATIONAL FLAG.—The field or union of the national flag in use in the Army and Navy will, on and after July 4, 1890, consist of forty-two white stars, in six rows of seven stars each, in a blue field, arranged thus :

[Decision President, letter Jan. 3, 90—5855 A. G. O., 1889.]

II.—FORFEITURE OF RETAINED PAY.—The monthly pay of a soldier retained until discharge under sentence of a court-martial can only be forfeited when, subsequent to such sentence, he shall be expressly sentenced to such forfeiture or to a forfeiture of all pay to become due.—[Decision Sec. War, letter Jan. 3, 90—6100 A. G. O., 1889.]

III.—ADMISSION OF OFFICERS' SERVANTS TO POST HOSPITAL.—Officers' servants cannot, as a matter of right, be admitted to post hospitals for treatment. They are "resident civilians not in the public service," and while, as a matter of comity, it has been the practice to afford them (under the provisions of paragraph 1684 of the Regulations) medical attendance while inmates of officers' households, no further claim can be founded upon such practice.—[Decision Sec. War, letter Jan. 16, 90—6233 A. G. O., 1889.]

IV--MUSTER-ROLLS.—To avoid unnecessary and misleading reiterations on the muster and pay rolls for the paymaster, the remarks affecting any pay which has been settled on a prior muster and pay roll should be omitted from subsequent muster and pay rolls. The bimonthly muster-roll forwarded to the Adjutant General should include the information contained in the remarks on all muster and pay rolls since the last preceding bimonthly muster-roll. (See Circular, No. 9, series of 1888, from this office.)—[General decision, Jan. 6, 90—$70 A. G. O., 1890.]

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, March 12, 1890.

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of February, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—EXTRA-DUTY PAY OF POST SCHOOL-TEACHERS.—The decision, published in Circular, No. 10, from Headquarters of the Army, dated December 18, 1889, concerning the correct method of computing the amounts to be paid to soldiers employed on extra duty applies only to those who are embraced under the terms "laborers, workmen, and mechanics," as used in the act of June 15, 1868 (15 Stat., 77), which prescribes the number of hours which shall constitute a day's labor, and the Secretary of War concurs in the opinion of the First Comptroller of the Treasury, rendered October 21, 1872, to the effect that the terms "laborers, workmen, and mechanics," as used in the acts of Congress, are to be taken, according to their common acceptation, as embracing only those who are engaged in physical employments, and as excluding all others.—[Decision Sec. War, letter Feb. 14, 90—2536 A. G. O., 1890.]

II.—CLOTHING FOR DESERTERS WAITING RESULT OF TRIAL.—Until after the determination of the trial of a soldier arrested as a deserter, he shall be required to wear the clothes worn by him at the time of his arrest, unless it should be imperative to issue other clothing, when only deserters' or unserviceable clothing shall be issued.—[Decision Sec. War, letter Feb. 15, 90—1058 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.—TOOLS FOR POST GARDENS.—Until funds for the purchase of garden-tools shall become available, the amount of the cost of such tools as may be required for post gardens may be requested by an assessment, pro rata, upon the funds of the companies and detachments for whose benefit the garden is to be cultivated. The bakery funds cannot be expended for such purchases.—[Decision Sec. War, letter Feb. 19, 90—2594 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.—THE GIVING OF INFORMATION BY PERSONS IN THE MILITARY SERVICE IN PENSION CLAIMS.—General Orders, No. 112, of 1882, and No. 118, of 1884, from Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant General's Office, are not to be construed as prohibiting officers and others from giving information from personal knowledge in pension claims in which they have no pecuniary interest.

"When any person in the military service has knowledge of any facts pertaining to the service of any person who is an applicant for a pension, he may, when requested to do so, furnish a certificate or affidavit setting forth such knowledge.

"Record evidence will only be furnished by the War Department." [Decision Sec. War, Feb. 20, 90—1010 A. C. P., A. G. O., 1890.]

V.—INSTRUCTION OF LIGHT BATTERIES IN SIGNALING.—Under paragraph 410 of the Regulations, light battery commanders will be held responsible that the proficiency in military signaling required by paragraph 1761 of the Regulations is attained in their respective batteries. It will be left optional with them whether the instruction shall be carried on under their own supervision as part of the regular instruction of their batteries, or whether they shall cause the detail contemplated in paragraph 1761, to report to the acting signal officer of the post for instruction.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, letter Feb. 11, 90—6049 A. G. O., 1889.]

VI.—SUNDAY MORNING INSPECTION.—The President promulgated (General Orders, No. 50, series of 1889) his direction that the Sunday morning inspection "will be merely of the dress and general appearance, without arms." That concise order was promulgated after mature deliberation, and there is not any authority for "many captains to make" the "inspection of barracks Sunday morning more formal and searching than is necessary" in the face of the provision that "the more complete inspection," as required by paragraph 950 of the Regulations, shall take place on Saturday.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, letter Feb. 15, 90—698 A. G. O., 1890.]

VII.—SUPERNUMERARIES OF THE GUARD DETAIL.—A supernumerary in the guard detail is to supply the place of any man of the regular detail who may not be accepted as fit, at guard mounting, or of any man who may afterward, during the tour of guard duty, for any reason be relieved from that duty. Yet the supernumerary, after guard mounting, and while awaiting a call for his services on that guard, is not strictly speaking "a member of the guard," and hence is liable for other duty; but he is, nevertheless, in the position of a man who has been ordered to hold himself in readiness for guard duty at any moment, and hence it becomes a greatly aggravated offense if he absents himself from the post during the tour of guard duty (an offense akin to that denounced by the 40th Article, yet not chargeable under that article, but under the 62d, as well as under the 32d). This view of the duties and obligations of supernumeraries should be made known to all officers and enlisted men, that they may be governed accordingly.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg Army, letter Feb. 21, 90—2141 A. G. O., 1890.]

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of March, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—OFFICERS OF THE ARMY HOLDING CIVIL OFFICES.—Section 1222, Revised Statutes of the United States, is as follows: "No officer of the Army on the active list shall hold any civil office, whether by election or appointment, and every such officer who accepts or exercises the functions of a civil office shall thereby cease to be an officer of the Army, and his commission shall be thereby vacated." Any office created by State statutes is, within the spirit of the law quoted above, a civil office, and an officer of the Army cannot lawfully accept or hold such an office whether in State military organizations or otherwise.—[Decision Sec. War, Mar. 18, 90, affirming former ruling of the department—507 A. G. O., A. C. P., 1890.]

II.—USE OF CANTEEN FUNDS TO PAY POST GARDENERS.—The canteen funds cannot be used for the purpose of paying extra pay to gardeners.—[Decision Sec. War, letter Mar. 31, 90—2984 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.—ROLL-CALLS.—Paragraph 417 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 8, current series, Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant General's Office, directs that the roll-calls on the "company parades" shall be "superintended by a commissioned officer." If the company parades are sufficiently near to each other to permit one officer to properly superintend the roll-calls of more than one organization, it may be done. If otherwise, the object of the regulation can be accomplished by the post commander directing as many officers to superintend as may be necessary for the efficient discharge of the duty.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, letter Mar. 3, 90—2911 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.—PRISONERS IN CONFINEMENT AWAITING TRIAL.—Paragraph 999 of the Regulations prescribes that "enlisted men in confinement awaiting trial will not be sent to work with prisoners undergoing sentence," but in the discretion of the commanding officer such enlisted men may be sent out to work under charge of a sentinel during the usual working hours in garrison separately from prisoners undergoing sentence.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, letter Mar. 15, 90—3582 A. G. O., 1890.]

V.—TRANSFER OF ENLISTED MEN ON ACCOUNT OF HEALTH.—In case of physical disability, under the provisions of General Orders, No. 108, of 1888, from Headquarters of the Army, the soldier will not be transferred to another company, but sent for treatment to the station favorable to his case.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, indorsement Mar. 15, 90—2139 A. G. O., 1890.]

VI.—DIVISION OF BAKERY SAVINGS.—The decision of March 30, 1889, published in Circular, No. 3, of the same year, after indicating that the allowance of bread may be reduced if excessive, provides that surplus bread of companies and hospitals shall be sold at the bakeries in order that the same bread may not be sold at different rates or places at the post, but such unconsumed bread remains the property of the organization that saved it, and the proceeds of the sale of the same belong and are payable to the fund of that organization.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, letter Mar. 27, 90—3521 A. G. O., 1890.]

VII.—ENLISTMENTS FOR HOSPITAL CORPS.—Under the provisions of paragraphs 1565 and 1566 of the Regulations recruiting officers are required to make enlistments or re-enlistments for the Hospital Corps upon the written authority of the Surgeon General and upon the certificate of a proper medical officer that the applicant possesses the necessary qualifications. The enlistment papers (in duplicate), with examination form properly filled out, will be forwarded to the Surgeon General direct.—[General decision, Mar. 13, 90—2815 A. G. O., 1890.]

VIII.—SOLDIERS DISCOVERED TO BE DESERTERS FROM THE NAVY OR MARINE CORPS.—A second enlistment in the service of the United States when the first has not been fulfilled is not void, but voidable at the option of the United States only; so that a man who, whilst serving under such a second enlistment, commits an offense cannot successfully plead the fraudulent character of his second enlistment in bar of trial. Paragraph 181 of the Regulations relates to soldiers not charged with crime who are discovered to be deserters from the Navy or Marine Corps, and does not interpose any obstacle to the action of the reviewing authority or proceedings of courts-martial in such cases.—[Decision acting Judge Adv. Gen., Mar. 7, 90, concurred in by Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Mar. 11, 90—7404 A. G. O., E. B., 1889.]

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of April, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—ENLISTMENT AND RE-ENLISTMENT PAPERS.—“The enlistment papers of recruits who are accepted and duly sworn will bear the date on which the enlistment is completed by administering the oath,” as specifically provided by paragraph 908 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 77, of 1889, from this office.

Paragraph 917 of the Regulations is based on the 2d Article of War, which, in connection with the 4th Article of War, clearly recognizes an intermediate period, not to exceed six days, between the declaration of the recruit (paragraph 915 of the Regulations) and the formal completion of the enlistment, and paragraph 908 of the Regulations, as amended, makes this a period of “probation,” during which the “recruit” is to be quartered and rationed, if necessary, and at the close of which he may be either “accepted and duly sworn” or finally rejected and set at large “without a discharge in writing.” It is to be noted that this probationary period may vary from a few hours only to “not to exceed six days,” according to the circumstances of each case.

Re-enlistments may sometimes be made to antedate the administration of the oath, as for example, when a soldier presents himself for re-enlistment and it becomes necessary to obtain some information in his case or the approval of higher authority ; but in such cases the re-enlistment cannot bear a date prior to the day on which the soldier presented himself, and the provisions of paragraph 921 of the Regulations in this respect must be strictly observed, and no deviation therefrom can be authorized under the law.—[Decision Sec. War, Apr. 12, 90—5188 A. G. O., 1890.]

II.—PAY OF ENLISTED MEN RETAINED BY SENTENCE OF COURT-MARTIAL.—The following is substituted for the clause of Circular, No. 7, of 1889, from this office, on the same subject :

Company commanders will enter on the company descriptive book against the name of each man sentenced by court-martial to have a portion of his pay retained, as explained in General Orders, No. 68, of 1889, Adjutant General's Office, the date, number, and source of the order under which the pay is retained, the amount so retained, and the muster and pay roll on which the money is actually retained by the paymaster. These entries will be made on the right-hand side of the page allotted to the soldier so sentenced under the heading of "Record" and in the following form :

Pay retained under sentence of court-martial.

On muster and pay rolls for—	Amount.		Sentence published in—
	$	Cts.

The data so entered will be reported without delay to the Paymaster General, with the name of the paymaster who makes the payment in which the money was actually retained.—[Decision Sec. War, Apr. 21, 90—5258 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.—CIVILIANS DEALING AT CANTEENS.—The provisions of paragraph 381 of the Regulations will be construed as prohibiting every individual not a soldier, or connected with the service as a civilian employé, from dealing at the canteen, unless he has previously, and in every instance, obtained the authority of the commanding officer for doing so.—[Decision Sec. War, Apr. 22, 90—4722 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.—SALE OF COMPONENT PARTS OF THE RATION.—Paragraph 301 of the Regulations does not admit of the sale of component parts of the ration with a view to replacing them by purchase of similar articles in the general market.—[Decision Sec. War, Apr. 30, 90—5055 A. G. O., 1890.]

V.—SHOULDER-STRAPS.—Under paragraph 1767 of the Regulations, as amended by General Orders, No. 7, of 1890, from this office, shoulder-straps should be worn with the white blouse.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Apr. 5, 90—4802 A. G. O., 1890.]

VI.—FURLONGHS TO SOLDIERS WHO SHALL RE-ENLIST.—It was not intended that the provisions of General Orders, No. 13, of 1890, from this office, should embrace men of the Hospital Corps. As special authority from the Surgeon General is required in each case for enlistment or re-enlistment of men of the Hospital Corps, applications for furloughs in such cases should be acted on at the same time.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Apr. 23, 90—5397 A. G. O., 1890.]

The following decision, promulgated in Circular, No. 4, May 11, 1889, from this office, is republished for the information and guidance of all concerned :

RECRUITS DESIGNATED FOR ASSIGNMENT.

Recruits designated for assignment are borne on the muster-rolls at recruiting depots until date of departure therefrom, when the actual assignment is made ; they should not be taken up on rolls of companies or regiments prior to date of leaving depot. (See Circular, No. 3, Adjutant General's Office, series of 1888.)—[General decision, indorsement Apr. 24, 89—2700A A. G. O., E. B. R. A., 1889.]

It appears that this ruling is not observed by all commanding officers, and that in some instances recruits at depots who have been designated for assignment to companies have been taken up on the company rolls while still at the recruiting depots, and are reported on both the company and the depot rolls for the same period, thus counting twice in the statements of the enlisted strength of the Army.

Attention is therefore again called to this important ruling, for any failure to comply with which commanding officers will be held to a strict accountability.

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of May, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.--SETTLEMENT OF SOLDIERS' CLOTHING ACCOUNTS.—The amendment of Regulations announced in General Orders, No. 42, current series, from this office, affects such men only as enlisted on or since April 1, 1890. The first and second settlements of all other men's clothing accounts will be made as prescribed by Circular, No. 6, of 1889, from this office, and upon the basis of the full money allowance for first year.—[Decision Sec. War, May 3, 90—4347 A. G. O., 1890.]

II.--CANTEEN EXPENDITURES.—The apparatus for outdoor sports and games, such as cricket, foot-ball, &c., is properly purchasable from canteen profits under the provisions of paragraph 340 of the Regulations. In the same manner the cost of constructing a bowling-alley as an accessory of the canteen is a proper charge against it.—[Decision Sec. War, May 3, 90—1860 and 2310 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.--CHARGE OF SUBSISTENCE AGAINST A SOLDIER TRAVELING.—When the cost of subsistence is ordered to be charged against a soldier traveling, it is understood that only the increased cost to the United States is to be so charged.—[Decision Sec. War, May 9, 90—2432 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.--INDIAN SCOUTS.—The mustering of farriers or blacksmiths on the rolls of Indian scouts is, in the absence of legislation authorizing appointment thereof, illegal.—[Decision Sec. War, May 13, 90—5793 A. G. O., 1890.]

V.--SOLDIERS' PAY.—Under existing law the canteen has no lien on a soldier's pay, and so long as there is a trader at a recruiting depot no part of the $3 credit allowed a recruit at the trader's store can be diverted to the canteen.—[General decision, May 13, 90—6498 A. G. O., 1890.]

VI.--SOLDIER IN CONFINEMENT AWAITING PROMULGATION OF HIS TRIAL.—Paragraph 999 of the Regulations is intended to divide soldiers in confinement into two classes, those who are undergoing sentence and those who are not. A soldier who has been tried but whose trial has not been given effect by the action of the reviewing authority, is covered by that paragraph of the Regulations.—[Decision Sec. War, May 24, 90—6746 A. G. O., 1890.]

VII.—LICENSE FOR POST CANTEEN.—License to sell beer and tobacco at a post canteen should be taken out in the name of the "Post canteen at Fort ———," upon the application of the canteen officer, signing himself as "Agent of the Fort ——— canteen;" the same being good for one year from May 1st to April 30th, or any fractional part of such special tax year, without regard to what particular troops constitute the garrison. License for a fractional part of a year is calculated from the 1st day of the month in which business is commenced to the 30th day of the following April.—[Comr. Int. Rev., May 28, 90—7758 P. R. D., A. G. O., 1890.]

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, August 11, 1890.

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of July, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.--UNBROKEN PACKAGES.—The expression “unbroken packages,” as used in General Orders, No. 75, September 27, 1889, from this office, is construed as including bottled wines and beer or a quantity of the same not less than a gallon when drawn from a cask or barrel on the premises of the post trader.—[Decision Sec. War, July 8, 90—8863 A. G. O., P. R. D., 1890.]

II.—TERM OF SERVICE OF REGIMENTAL STAFF OFFICERS.—Service of lieutenants under regimental staff appointments is limited by paragraph 225 of the Regulations to four years, including all former periods of such service of less than four years.—[Decision Sec. War, July 14, 90—4130 A. G. O., A. C. P., 1890.]

III.—NATIONAL FLAG.—So much of Circular, No. 1, February 20, 1890, from this office, as relates to the national flag, is amended to read as follows :

The field or union of the national flag in use in the Army and Navy will, on and after July 4, 1890, consist of forty-three stars in six rows, the upper row to have eight stars and the lower five rows seven stars each, in a blue field, arranged thus :

[Decision Sec. War, July 15, 90—9891 A. G. O., P. R. D., 1890, with 6855 of 1889.]

IV.—MEDICINES AND HOSPITAL STORES.—Medicines and hospital stores, purchased for the use of the Army, cannot be issued to citizens or otherwise disposed of except in accordance with existing laws and regulations. In cases arising at isolated posts where, to save life or prevent extreme suffering, such issues become necessary in the interests of humanity, medical officers will, at the end of each month, report the circumstances of each case upon which they rely for justification of their action to the Surgeon General for the information and action of the Secretary of War. The original prescriptions will be retained as a part of the hospital records, and are subject to examination at all times by inspectors and post commanders.—[Decision Sec. War, July 17, 90—8241 A. G. O., P. R. D., 1890.]

V.—SUPERINTENDENT U. S. MILITARY ACADEMY.—LEAVES OF ABSENCE.—Section 1830 of the Revised Statutes, and the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War in pursuance thereof, authorizing the Superintendent of the Military Academy to grant certain officers of the academy leaves of absence without deduction from pay or allowances, do not authorize the superintendent himself to take leaves without such deductions.—[Decision Sec. War, July 22, 90 (affirming former ruling of War Department in 1866)—3817 A. G. O., A. C. P., 1890.]

VI.—UNIFORM OF ENLISTED INDIAN SCOUTS.—The following described uniform, guidon, &c., has been approved and adopted for the use of enlisted Indian scouts:

Fatigue hat.—Of black felt, brim $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in width, crown $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches high; brim to be well stiffened.

Hat cord.—Of white worsted cord, one strand of scarlet, terminating in two tassels $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length, same color and material as the cord.

Hat ornament.—Two arrows crossed, to be made of nickel or some white metal, 8 inches in length, the letters U. S. S. in the upper intersection.

Dark blue shirt.—Same as now furnished enlisted men except that the collar is to be made deeper to hold a neck-handkerchief, as follows: Collar 2 inches wide at the back of the neck, $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in front.

Overcoat.—To be made of Irish frieze or imitation of that material of some dark color; to be cut ulster shape, large and full enough to cover all accouterments; to reach within 10 inches of the ground; to be closed in front with two rows of brass buttons; to be slit well up in rear to admit of the seat in the saddle; to be provided with warm hood of same material as the coat, lined with black Italian cloth, or other suitable material, made to button around the neck, under the collar, and large enough to cover the head ; to be worn at night and in inclement weather ; and on each hip to have a horizontal slit covered with a flap, this for access to the revolver and ammunition. The coat to be lined throughout.

Chevrons and non-commissioned officers' stripes.—To be of white cloth piped with scarlet.

Trumpet cord.—Of white mohair with strand of scarlet.

Guidon —To be cut square, 3 feet 5 inches fly, and 2 feet 3 inches on lance ; to be made of scarlet silk, trimmed with white silk fringe $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide ; in the center and on both sides of the guidon two crossed arrows ; in the upper intersection the words (in semicircle) U. S. Scouts ; the arrows to be made of white silk, held in place by a needle-work embroidery of appropriate width ; letters to be embroidery, arrows 18 inches in length, letters 2 inches ; in the lower intersection of the arrows there should be the letter of the troop and the name of the department to which it belongs ; lance, same as prescribed for cavalry guidon, head and ferrule of nickel plate. This guidon will be used only on occasions of ceremony. There shall also be furnished to each troop a guidon similar in every respect to the foregoing, except that it shall be made of bunting and other suitable material ; to be used on drills, marches, campaigns, and all other service other than occasions of ceremony. This guidon will be known as the "service guidon."

Dress coat.—Same as now prescribed for mounted men, with facings of white, piped with scarlet.

Trousers.—The same as now provided for cavalry (except as prescribed above for non-commissioned officers' stripes).

Helmet.—Same as prescribed for mounted men ; cords to be of white mohair with one strand of scarlet ; plume to be long enough to reach six or eight inches below the edge of rear visor, of white horse-hair with four strands of scarlet ; ornament in front to contain crossed arrows, in white metal.—[Decision Sec. War, July 29, 90—8342 A. G. O., P. R. D., 1890.]

VII.—ORDERLIES FOR COMMANDING OFFICERS.—Orderlies for commanding officers shall be selected daily from the guard, at guard mounting. The dignified duty of an orderly should be performed in a soldierly manner, and in uniform. The practice of making a daily detail stimulates soldierly competition, as the chance of such detail is renewed daily at guard mounting, and under this method the detail is regarded as purely military and in the interest of good administration. The unauthorized practice of detailing permanent orderlies has a tendency to establish a very objectionable connection between orderly duties proper and other employments not purely of a military character. This practice, therefore, is prohibited.—

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, August 20, 1890.

The following extracts from the report of the proceedings of a board of officers, and the description of the method and the drill in connection therewith, are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

FORT MONROE, VA., August 1, 1890.

* * * * *
The board then proceeded to practically compare the method of mounting and dismounting the $4\frac{1}{4}$ -inch siege-gun with gin, as devised by Sergeant Eugene McCarty, Battery A, 1st Artillery, and the drill arranged therefor by Captain E. Van A. Andruss, 1st Artillery, with the method laid down in Tidball's Manual, paragraph 490, page 245.

The board found that the essential modification in the proposed method consists in the use of the trace-rope as a sling and the manner of lashing it to the gun for that purpose.

The board found the proposed method to be a most excellent one, and preferable to the one laid down in the manual on account of the rapidity and ease of its execution, its safety, and its economy of material, as it dispenses with the use of the heavy sling. The drill, as arranged for the maneuver by Captain Andruss, seemed to be satisfactory.

The board found that a trace-rope of the length laid down in Tidball's Manual, viz., thirty feet, is not long enough, and that it should be thirty-nine feet in length.

As the thirty-foot rope is almost always found to be too short, it is believed that the change in length indicated would be of general advantage.

* * * * *
THE DRILL.

To dismount a siege-gun with the gin.

The gin is placed over the piece limbered up, so that the hook of the lower block of the fall is just in rear of the trunnions and pointing toward the muzzle. The instructor commands :

1. SLING THE PIECE.

At this command Nos. 3 and 4 remove the cap-squares, the gunner takes a trace-rope, making with it three loose turns around the chase of the piece, near the muzzle, so that the running ends will be of equal length ; next, slip this coil back as far as the rimbases. There should be a play of about nine inches between the chase and the coil at this point. Next, place the coil over the hook of the lower block, bring the two running ends of the trace-rope around the back of the hook, then crossing each other over it down through the coiled loop toward the breech to Nos. 5 and 6. The gunner now steps to the breech, receives these ends from Nos. 5 and 6, and makes with them an overhand knot just over the vent, passes them to the rear, parallel to one another, crosses them under and around the neck of the cascabel, carries them forward, under and through the loop formed by the overhand knot before mentioned to the rear again, and returns them to Nos. 5 and 6. The fall is now eased away by Nos. 1 and 2 until the hook just touches the body of the piece; Nos. 5 and 6, at the same time, hauling taught on the running ends of the trace-rope, and secure them to the neck of the cascabel, by means of a square knot hauled taught. All being in readiness, the instructor commands:

1. HOIST AWAY.

The windlass is worked by Nos. 7, 8, 9, and 10 until the piece is free from the trunnion beds. The instructor now commands:

1. HALT, 2. RUN OUT THE CARRIAGE.

All the men, except Nos. 1 and 2, who remain at the windlass, run out the carriage, as explained in paragraph 435, Tidball's Manual. The instructor then commands:

1. SLACK OFF.

Nos. 1 and 2 slack off the fall slowly, and the piece is lowered to its position on the ground or skidded.

Note.—This method of utilizing a trace-rope in lashing the piece was devised by Sergeant Eugene McCarty, Battery A, 1st Artillery, and, if properly slung, the axis of the piece will be nearly, if not quite, horizontal.

To mount a siege-gun.

The gin is placed over the piece in a corresponding position to what it was when used in dismounting it.

The trace-rope is arranged by the gunner, assisted by Nos. 5 and 6, in the same manner as prescribed for dismounting the piece.

The commands Hoist away, Halt, Run up the carriage, and Slack off, are then given and executed in the manner already explained.

With the approval of the acting Secretary of War the foregoing drill will be substituted for the one now prescribed in the authorized Heavy Artillery Manual.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, September 18, 1890.

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of August, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—POST CANTEENS.—Losses attending the operation of post canteens should be borne by all the organizations participating, in common, and should be deducted from the gross receipts before dividing profits. Credit accounts should be treated as bills receivable until they are settled. If paid, they should be credited to bills receivable and charged to cash. If discovered to be a probable loss, as by the death or desertion of the debtor, or by his discharge and virtual repudiation of the debt, or by his positive refusal to pay the debt, the amount should be credited to bills receivable and charged to profit and loss. But bills receivable should not be included in the gross amount from which the net profits are resolved. The amount of cash on hand on the dates specified in paragraph 841 of the Regulations, after all matured debts are paid, and after setting aside as a reserve fund a sum sufficient to meet anticipated debts for a period not less than a month, constitute the divisible profits, and that sum alone is subject to a distribution among the participating partners.—[Decision Sec. War, Aug. 15, 90—11129 A. G. O., P. R. D., 1890.]

II.—UNIFORM OF BAND MUSICIANS.—Under existing regulations, such parts of the uniform as are issued to band musicians, in excess of that to which they are entitled as enlisted men of the respective companies from which they are detailed, are to remain the property of the United States, and as such should after issue be carried on the returns of the officer responsible, the latter taking memorandum receipts from the men to whom the property has been temporarily transferred for use. It should be dropped from the returns only in case of loss or after being worn out in service, in which case the property will be submitted to the action of an inspector.—[Decision actg. Sec. War, Aug. 21, 90—11339 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.—INTERPRETATION OF PARAGRAPHS 826, 827, 836, AND 595 (2D CLAUSE), SMALL-ARMS FIRING REGULATIONS.—At the first "halt" on the advance the adjustment of the sights and the loading of the rifle or carbine will begin immediately after the first note of the signal

"commence firing." Rifles or carbines which are loaded at the sounding of the last note of the signal "cease firing" at this and all subsequent halts will remain loaded, but no piece shall be reloaded at this or any subsequent halt after the sounding of this note. Nor shall any piece be reloaded or the sight adjusted during the actual run from one halt to another. At the second and all subsequent halts the sights will be adjusted and the rifles or carbines loaded (if then unloaded) immediately after the signal "halt;" but, as is prescribed for the first halt, the signal "commence firing" will in all cases immediately follow the signal "halt."—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Aug. 6, 90—10999 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.—POST FLAGS.—Owing to the recent admission of new States into the Union, and the consequent rearrangement of stars in the field of the flag of the United States, the cost of post flags has been increased from $9.65, as specified in the annual price list of clothing and equipage (General Orders, No. 61, Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant General's Office, 1890), to $9.90 each.—[*Letter Q. The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of September, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.--RE-ENLISTMENT OF CERTAIN ENLISTED MEN.—Enlisted men undergoing treatment at the expiration of their terms of service for injuries incurred or diseases contracted in the line of duty may be re-enlisted under special authority from the Adjutant General's Office. The matter will be determined by the War Department, upon application, forwarded through the proper military channel, in time to receive a decision before the date of discharge. Application may be made, in like manner, through the post surgeon, by men not under treatment, but who may have contracted infirmities in the line of duty calculated to raise a question of physical eligibility to re-enlistment.—[Decision actg. Sec. War, Sept. 18, 90—10126 and 11860 A. G. O., 1890.]

II.--STATEMENT AS TO CHARACTER OF SOLDIER UNDER TRIAL.—The statement referred to in paragraph 1015 of the Regulations, which does not call for a general character of the soldier, is intended simply for the information of the convening authority ; it should not be introduced in evidence nor made a part of the record of the trial—[Decision actg. Sec. War, Sept. 23, 90—12775 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.--SOLDIER'S HAND-BOOK.—Extra leaves for "clothing received" will be supplied by the Adjutant General's Office, and when necessary will be inserted in the Soldier's Hand-Books, which will not be replaced by a new issue so long as they are in a serviceable condition.—[General Decision, Sept. 30, 1890—13417 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.--ASSIGNMENT OF NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS ATTACHED.—

1. Attached non-commissioned officers should be assigned only as vacancies occur in the regiment, and not in the companies to which they may be attached. Otherwise, where for convenience the enlisted force of two companies (two troops 6th Cavalry at Fort Lewis, for example) has been consolidated, there would be no promotion for some time.

2. 1st sergeants should, preferably, be assigned in their grade. Thereafter, if they do not prove acceptable to the company or troop commanders, they can be relieved, conformably to paragraph 251 of the Regulations. But, if vacancies occur in the grade of sergeant, 1st sergeants may be assigned thereto, with pay of sergeant from date of assignment.

3. The assignments should be made, by the regimental commander, according to rank.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, on 12136 A. G. O., 1890.]

V.—CONDITION OF NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICER'S WARRANT UPON RE-ENLISTMENT.—The non-commissioned officers of Companies I and K of infantry and Troops L and M of cavalry, discharged by expiration of term of service, should, if they so desire and are proper subjects, be re-enlisted and their warrants continued, as usual.—[*Decision Maj. The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of October, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—COMPUTATION OF PURCHASE MONEY FOR DISCHARGE.—The amount of purchase money paid for the discharge of a soldier, under provisions of paragraph 1, General Orders, No. 81, Adjutant General's Office, 1890, shall be computed from the date of actual discharge, the computation to be made by full months, fractions to be excluded, i. e., that when a soldier has served one year nine months and a fraction, such fraction, whatever it may be, shall be ignored and he receive credit only for one year and nine months, thus requiring him to deposit seventy-five dollars for fifteen months for the purchase of his discharge. Should at any time the man have deposited with the post commander more money than actually required for the purchase, such over-deposit must be returned to the soldier.—[Decision actg. Sec. War, Sept. 19, 90—12632 A. G. O., 1890.]

II.—ALLOTMENT OF CANTEEN FUNDS.—Following the method prescribed by paragraph 843 of the Regulations, the men formerly belonging to disbanded companies, who have left or are about to leave a post, will be considered "a retiring detachment," and as such their proportional share estimated in the manner prescribed in that paragraph. This sum divided by the number of men in the detachment will give the amount per capita, and a sum equal to the amount per capita multiplied by the number of men going to a company will be turned over by the post canteen officer to the company fund of that company or troop. In the same manner assessment may be made in favor of the canteen fund of the post where these men have joined, upon the funds of the companies to which they have been assigned.—[Decision Sec. War, Oct. 6, 90—13567 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.—DISTRIBUTION OF CANTEEN PROFITS.—Enlisted men who do not belong to a company or post mess cannot be regarded as detachments within the meaning of paragraph 841 of the Regulations and as such receive a per capita allowance from the canteen fund. Such a distribution would in effect amount to an increase of pay, whereas the canteen profits are intended exclusively for the improvement of regular messes, to one of which a man must belong in order to enjoy the benefits of canteen money. Accordingly, individual non-commissioned staff officers are not to receive a cash allotment from canteen profits.—[Decision Sec. War, Oct. 6, 90—12978 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV.—PAYMENT OF AN ENLISTED MAN WHILE IN ARREST OR AWAITING SENTENCE.—The only authority known for refusing pay to an enlisted man on the rolls is that found in paragraph 1513 of the Regulations. The imposition of an arrest affects in no manner the right of an officer or soldier to receive the pay and allowances of his rank, and, except in cases mentioned in above paragraph, no legal inhibition exists to paying a soldier while in arrest, either before trial or while awaiting sentence, his regular pay and emoluments. A soldier can be deprived of his legal pay only through a duly adjudged and approved sentence of court-martial, or by the operation of law under some express statutory enactment or Army regulation; and, with respect to a soldier in custody of civil authorities, his right to his pay is as perfect as when regularly on military duty. A commanding officer is not authorized to withhold a soldier's pay on the theory that if paid he would probably desert.—[Decision Sec. War, Oct. 7, 90—12697 A. G. O., 1890.]

V.—ISSUE OF BLOUSES WITH OUTSIDE POCKETS.—Blouses without outside pockets will not be issued to any of the enlisted men of the Army until the supply of those with outside pockets shall have become exhausted.—[Decision Sec. War, Oct. 31, 90—letter Q. M. Gen., Nov. 1, 90—14808 A. G. O., 1890.]

VI.—MUSTER AND PAY ROLL.—To guard against errors in carrying out the provisions of General Orders, No. 85, current series, from this office, commanding officers of companies and detachments will cause to be ruled and properly filled out on the muster and pay rolls of their respective commands a column headed, thus:

G. O., No. 85, A. G. O., 1890.
Retain $4.00 per month until —

To secure uniformity, this column will immediately precede that of "Last paid."—[Decision Sec. War, on 14581 A. G. O., 1890.]

VII.—INTRODUCTION AT COURT-MARTIAL TRIALS OF EVIDENCE OF PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS.—Paragraph 1018 of the Regulations, which relates to the introduction at courts-martial of evidence of previous convictions, provides that "These convictions should be proved by the records of previous trials, or by duly authenticated orders promulgating the same, showing the actual offenses of which the prisoner was convicted." When the proof is by authenticated orders, these must, in order to show the actual offenses of previous convictions, set forth the specifications to the charges. To only set forth the charge, as, for example, "Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline," is not giving the actual offense.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Oct. 15, 90—10828 A. G. O., 1890.]

VIII.—APPOINTMENT OF LANCE NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.—There is not now any authority under the law or regulations for the lance appointments of non-commissioned officers; such appointments were originally authorized by paragraph 60, article 85 of the Regulations of 1884, but were limited to recruits at depots.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Oct. 23, 90—15737 A. G. O., 1890.]

IX.—SOLDIERS INELIGIBLE TO FURLOUGH OR DISCHARGE.—The words "term of an enlistment" in the first paragraph of General Orders, No. 108, current series, from this office (prescribing rules concerning the furlough and discharge of certain soldiers under the second section of the act approved June 16, 1890), means an enlistment in which the soldier is serving when the application is made, and not any previous enlistment.—[General decision, Oct. 2, 90—12947, with 8097, A. G. O., 1890.]

X.—NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS ATTACHED.—Non-commissioned officers who, under General Orders, Nos. 76 and 79, current series, Headquarters of the Army, are "attached for duty," should be accounted for separately, in red ink, on the reports of enlisted strength rendered in accordance with circular of November 5, 1888, from this office, by the commanding officer of the company or troop to which they are attached. This will apply also to such non-commissioned officers when temporarily absent on any detached service; but when detached for duty that will keep them from the company for an indefinite period, as for instance in case of a detail on recruiting service, they will be accounted for by the regimental commander, in red ink, on the reports of enlisted strength of the non-commissioned staff and band.—[General decision, Oct. 23, 90—800 A. G. O., 1890.]

XI.—OFFICERS MAKING DEPOSITS.—The attention of officers of the Army making deposits is called to the importance of seeing to it, when they make deposits on account of repayments, &c., that the certificates exhibit the rank and regiment, or staff corps, of the depositor, as well as his full name ; or, if the Christian name is abbreviated, the usual abbreviation, together with the rank and regiment or staff corps of the depositor.—[*Letter Third Aud.—18876 A. HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, December 11, 1890.

The following decisions, rulings, &c., have been made during the month of November, 1890, and are published to the Army for the information of all concerned :

I.—FORM FOR THE INSPECTION OF MONEY ACCOUNTS.—The new form for the inspection of money accounts (Form No. 8) requires that the disbursing officer shall submit, with his statement of the distribution of his funds, a list of his outstanding checks. To obtain uniformity in the matter reported, and in the action to be taken thereon, Form No. 8a is authorized. All reports of the inspection of money accounts under paragraph 966 of the Regulations should be referred to the inspector general's office at the headquarters from which the inspection is ordered. This office, upon receipt of the inspection report, should immediately transmit the lists of checks outstanding to the several depositories by the indorsement printed thereon. Upon receipt back from the local depositories the balance will be verified and the fact noted on the inspection report (Form 8), which will then be forwarded to the Inspector General. The list of checks outstanding will be retained at headquarters, in the office of the inspector, to be sent to the officer directed to make the next inspection of the disbursing officer's accounts, by whom it will be returned with his report of that inspection. It will then be forwarded to the Inspector General. This list in the hands of a subsequent inspector will give him a definite initial point from which to examine the check book and the depository account of the disbursing officer.—[Decision actg. Sec. War, Sept. 26, 90—15633 A. G. O., 1890.]

II.—SALES OF BREAD MADE AT GARRISON BAKERIES.—The following decision, promulgated in Circular, No. 1, Adjutant General's Office, February 15, 1886, is not abrogated by paragraph 295 of the Regulations, but is still in force : "It is not in the interest of public policy that bread baked at a garrison bakery should be brought into competition with that baked and sold by citizen bakers. Bread baked at military posts should be sold only to persons connected with the military service thereat."—[Decision actg. Sec. War, Nov. 6, 90—14995 A. G. O., 1890.]

III.—EXPENDITURES OF COMPANY OR MESS FUNDS IN CONNECTION WITH PARAGRAPH 801 OF THE REGULATIONS.—It is deemed a proper expenditure of company or mess funds to set aside small portions thereof for the improvement of the table fare of enlisted men at the annual target competitions or in other cases of detached service in which the issue of the travel ration is not authorized.—[Decision Sec. War, Nov. 11, 90—11103 A. G. O., 1890.]

IV--FURLONGHS AND DISCHARGES OF CERTAIN ENLISTED MEN.—Section 2 of the act approved June 16, 1890, providing for furlough and discharge of certain enlisted men, applies to every soldier, without any limitation whatever, whose antecedent three years' service has been faithful.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Nov. 4, 90—14761 A. G. O., 1890.]

V--EQUIPMENT OF A BATTERY AND POSITION OF FIELD ARTILLERY AT INSPECTION AND REVIEW.—The terms "full dress" and "undress" have no application in reference to the material of a light battery, as distinguished from its personnel. Every article which is furnished as a part of the regular equipment of such a battery, and for which there is a specially designated place assigned on the gun-carriage, limber, or caisson, should be habitually found in that place. Knapsacks and valises, not being part of the material equipment of a battery, but belonging rather to the individual equipment of the artilleryman, may (as authorized in paragraph 971, Artillery Tactics) be inspected in quarters, as is done in the inspection of the knapsacks of an infantry command. But this is a matter of option with the inspector, not with the artillery commander, unless the latter is himself the inspector. Paragraph 972 must not be construed as placing any limitation upon paragraph 971. The former provides for an inspection under quite different conditions. It differs from paragraph 971 in leaving no option to the inspector.

Commanding officers may exercise a reasonable discretion in regard to such articles as spare wheels, prolonges, &c., in the ordinary drill instruction of the battery. But on other occasions, more especially when a formal inspection is to be made, there must be a rigid enforcement of the above rule. It should not be necessary for the inspector to turn out the command more than once in order to see that it is properly equipped, or to examine the store-houses in order to see that the proper number of spare wheels, prolonges, and water buckets are on hand. It should be as much a matter of course to submit these articles to his inspection when the battery is paraded as to submit the horses, harness, carriages, and guns.

Paragraph 5 of the Regulations fixes the relative position of field artillery in line only when all three arms are present; otherwise, the artillery should be on the left of the infantry or cavalry, as the case may be, as prescribed in paragraph 987, Artillery Tactics.

Artillery may be reviewed with the other arms. If the review is followed by an inspection, the artillery should, at the proper time, proceed to the place designated for that purpose and be inspected separately.

As a general rule, the thorough inspection of any arm requires that its efficiency in drill should be practically tested, and that, therefore, after the combined review, each arm should be inspected separately on its own ground.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Nov. 19, 90—13887 A. G. O., 1890.]

VI.—NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS ON RECRUITING SERVICE.—Non-commissioned officers “attached for duty” are not to be relieved from the recruiting service upon assignment to a company; and a non-commissioned officer of this class reported well qualified for and desirous of being detached is eligible, and can be detailed irrespective of his prospective early assignment to a company. 1st sergeants “attached for duty” are, while on recruiting service, to continue to be borne as of Company I or K, or as of Troop L or M, of their respective regiments.—[Decision Maj. Gen. Comdg. Army, Nov. 20, 90—14121 A. G. O., 1890.]

VII.—RECRUITS ON PROBATION.—Under the 2d Article of War the term of probation cannot be extended beyond six days. Should an applicant for enlistment refer for testimonial as to character to a party resident at such a distance from the rendezvous that a reply to an inquiry addressed to the latter cannot be expected within the time mentioned, the man should not be considered as “on probation” until reply be received, but may be informed that his application will be held in abeyance for a time.—[General decision, Nov. 5, 90—14685 A. G. O., 1890.]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, D. C., January 15, 1890.

To the SECRETARY OF WAR,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: The department is advised that in some instances, through a misunderstanding of the provision of law exempting from duty "articles imported for use of the United States," books and other articles purchased by and intended for the use of employes of the Government have been included in packages of articles imported for the use of the United States and admitted to entry free of duty.

The department has heretofore decided that articles imported by officers of the Government for use in connection with their official duties are not exempt from duty under said provision of law unless such articles are imported for the use and as the property of the United States.

I would therefore suggest that requests for the admission free of duty of articles imported for your department should contain a statement that such articles are imported as the property of the United States.

Respectfully, yours,

W. WINDOM,
Secretary.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 13, 1890.

The War Department, with a view to promoting the efficiency of military instruction in the colleges and other institutions entitled to the detail of Army officers under the acts of Congress providing for such detail, recently convened a board of Army officers at Columbus Barracks to consider this subject. In reviewing the report and recommendations of this board, the department has been in consultation with a special committee of college presidents appointed at a meeting of the American Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, held in Washington in November, 1889. After a full and free interchange of views concerning the matters involved, the department has prepared and issued an order for the guidance of the officers detailed under the acts aforesaid in the discharge of their duties at these institutions.

In order that these officers may more effectively perform their duties, and in order to secure fuller co-operation between the War Department and the institutions concerned, the following suggestions are respectfully submitted :

I. The professor of military science and tactics should be a member of the faculty of the institution, with all the rights, privileges, and authority of other heads of departments or professors, and should be provided with quarters on the same terms as other professors.

II. All undergraduate students capable of performing military duty should be required to attend the prescribed military exercises. A suitable uniform should be prescribed by the institutions, to be worn by the students when in the discharge of any military duty.

III. All appointments, promotions, and changes of officers and non-commissioned officers should be made, as a rule, upon the recommendation of the professor of military science and tactics.

IV. Provision should be made by the authorities for both theoretical and practical instruction in military science and tactics, and not less than three hours per week should be allowed for this instruction, to be apportioned as the professor of military science and tactics may determine. Such provision as is possible should be made for conducting practical military instruction under cover in inclement weather. The theoretical instruction should include the drill regulations of the United States Army, the preparation of the usual reports and returns pertaining to a company, lectures or recitations on the organization and administration of the United States Army, and upon the history and elementary principles governing the art of war. Details indicating the outlines of a systematic course of theoretical instruction should be hereafter issued by the War Department, as a supplement to these suggestions, with a view of securing uniformity and continuity in the course of military instruction at the several institutions concerned.

V. Inspecting officers will, in all cases, be directed to report to the head of the institution on arrival, but, their time being limited, it is desirable that the college authorities will, as far as possible, expedite their work, bearing in mind that the officers are required to perform this duty in connection with other regular military duties. The department, on the other hand, will instruct the inspecting officers to remain at the institution, when possible, long enough to familiarize themselves not only with the details of the military department, but also with its general standing in relation to the institution as a whole.

When these suggestions and recommendations meet the approval of the institutions affected by them, a notification to that effect, forwarded to the department, will facilitate the establishment of the desired relations between the Government and the colleges.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, D. C., March 26, 1890.

The Honorable the SECRETARY OF WAR.

SIR : I have the honor to inform you that the Rock Island National Bank of Rock Island, Illinois, has been designated a depository of public moneys and specially designated for the reception and safe-keeping of funds advanced to disbursing officers of the War Department, and that the amount of U. S. bonds held in trust by the Treasurer of the United States as security for public deposits with said bank is $50,000.

Instructions have this day been given for the discontinuance as a depository of the First National Bank of Rock Island, at its own request, and the transfer therefrom to the Rock Island National Bank of balances standing to the official credit of disbursing officers of your department.

Respectfully, yours,

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 26, 1890.

The following act of Congress, amending section 1661, Revised Statutes, making an annual appropriation to provide arms and equipments for the militia, and the latest regulations which have been made by the President and the Secretary of War respecting the distribution of the arms and equipments therein provided for, are published for the information of all concerned :

An act to amend section sixteen hundred and sixty-one of the Revised Statutes, making an annual appropriation to provide arms and equipments for the militia.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section sixteen hundred and sixty-one of the Revised Statutes be, and the same is hereby, amended and re-enacted so as to read as follows :

"SECTION 1. That the sum of four hundred thousand dollars is hereby annually appropriated, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of providing arms, ordnance stores, quartermaster's stores, and camp equipage for issue to the militia.

"SEC. 2. That said appropriation shall be apportioned among the several States and Territories under the direction of the Secretary of War, according to the number of Senators and Representatives to which each State respectively is entitled in the Congress of the United States, and to the Territories and District of Columbia such proportion and under such regulations as the President may prescribe: Provided, however, That no State shall be entitled to the benefits of the appropriation apportioned to it unless the number of its regularly enlisted, organized, and uniformed active militia shall be at least one hundred men for each Senator and Representative to which such State is entitled in the Congress of the United States. And the amount of said appropriation which is thus determined not to be available shall be covered back into the Treasury.

"SEC. 3. That the purchase or manufacture of arms, ordnance stores, quartermaster's stores, and camp equipage for the militia under the provisions of this act shall be made under the direction of the Secretary of War, as such arms, ordnance and quartermaster's stores and camp equipage are now manufactured or otherwise provided for the use of the Regular Army, and they shall be receipted for and shall remain the property of the United States, and be annually accounted for by the governors of the States and Territories, for which purpose the Secretary of War shall prescribe and supply the necessary blanks and make such regulations as he may deem necessary to protect the interests of the United States.

"SEC. 4. That all arms, equipments, ordnance stores, or tents which may become unserviceable or unsuitable shall be examined by a board of officers of the militia, and its report shall be forwarded by the governor of the State or Territory direct to the Secretary of War, who shall direct what disposition, by sale or otherwise, shall be made of them; and, if sold, the proceeds of such sale shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States."

Received by the President, February 1, 1897.

[NOTE BY THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.—The foregoing act having been presented to the President of the United States for his approval and not having been returned by him to the house of Congress in which it originated within the time prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, has become a law without his approval.]

EXECUTIVE MANSION, April 23, 1889.

Regulations for the distribution of arms, ordnance stores, quartermaster's stores, and camp equipage to the Territories and the District of Columbia prescribed by the President of the United States in conformity with the second section of the act entitled "An act to amend section 1661 Revised Statutes making an annual appropriation to provide arms and equipments for the militia."

1. Arms, ordnance stores, quartermaster's stores, and camp equipage shall be issued to the Territories on requisitions of the governors thereof, and to the District of Columbia on requisitions approved by the senior general of the District Militia present for duty. Returns shall be made annually by the senior general of the District Militia in the manner as required by sections 3 and 4 of the act above referred to, in the case of States and Territories.

2. It is forbidden to make issues to States and Territories in excess of the amount to their credit under the provisions of section 1661, Revised Statutes, as amended by the above act.

3. Any regulations established hitherto which in any way conflict with these are hereby revoked.

BENJ. HARRISON.

REGULATIONS.

1. The appropriation made by section 1661, Revised Statutes, as amended by the act of Congress received by the President February 1, 1887 (24 Stat., 401), will be credited to the several States and to the Territories entitled to receive it, on the books of the War Department in accordance with said act.

2. Requisitions for the arms, ordnance stores, quartermaster's stores, and camp equipage provided for in the act will be made by the governors of the States and Territories direct to the Secretary of War.

3. When a requisition is received at the War Department, the Ordnance Department and the Quartermaster's Department will be required to give the money value of the stores called for, and the War Department will determine and order which of said stores, number and character, shall be issued, and will so advise the Chief of Ordnance and Quartermaster General.

4. All the public property issued under the provisions of this act shall be accounted for under the same regulations which now govern the accountability for public property in the Army, and the Chief of Ordnance and the Quartermaster General will furnish the governors of the several States and Territories the necessary blank forms for making the required returns of the public property issued under the provisions of said act, and said annual returns shall be made on the 31st of December of each year, and shall be sent to the War Department for examination and settlement.

5. The Chief of Ordnance and the Quartermaster General will issue the necessary instructions for the safe-keeping, preservation, and accountability of all public property issued.

6. The examination of the unserviceable or unsuitable public property provided for in section 4 of said act shall be made, at least, annually, and the proceedings of the board of officers of the militia will show in detail, opposite each article on the inspection report, in what respect the property is unserviceable or unsuitable, and will also indicate in each case the disposition recommended by the board of inspection. And in the case of any public property rendered unserviceable through causes other than the ordinary incidents of service, the board will investigate and report the causes and recommend to the Secretary of War the necessary action as to personal responsibility for the damages in each case.
